

INDEPENDENT MOVEMENT IS GIVEN AN IMPETUS

Friends of MacDonald Propose to Push Him as a Candidate For County Auditor.

THE LOCAL COMMITTEE LENDS ITS AID

When the plans of Republican leaders of East Liverpool and Wellsville have been worked out the north county politicians will be soundly rebuffed for their disregard of the wishes of the rank and file in foisting the iniquitous delegate system upon the party in Columbiana county. The first move toward this end was made last night when half a hundred party men from this city and Wellsville assembled at the city hall, and thoroughly discussed the situation.

Ever since the county convention of last Saturday, with its unsatisfactory and disastrous results, the delegate idea and its effect upon the Republican party has been the sole topic of conversation in political circles among the south county members of the party. Wellsville Republicans were indignant and resentful, and have agitated the independent movement as far as the position of auditor is concerned, feeling that the wishes of a majority of the Republicans in this county were ignored when Prof. J. L. MacDonald was turned down at the convention. The East Liverpool leaders were no less aroused by the alleged trickery, and the longer the discussion continued, the more pronounced became the feeling. It has been apparent for several days that the friends of MacDonald would not allow the matter to pass with merely mentioning it, but were determined to place the stamp of their disapproval upon the whole irregular proceeding.

Some time during the week notices were sent out to each member of the Republican central committee and to the men who served as delegates at the convention, notifying them that an important meeting of Republicans would be held at city hall last night. The attendance was satisfactory, and there was no lack of enthusiasm. George E. Davidson acted as chairman and H. W. Smith was made secretary. In stating the object of the meeting, Attorney Davidson said Professor MacDonald had received a vote which indicated that the people believed in him, and wanted him for the nominee. Four or five men in Columbiana county have been in control of the party for a long time. It was to be decided now whether or not these men shall continue to name the officers and run the machine, or whether the wishes of the people shall be consulted. As long as the delegate system was in vogue, Mr. Davidson thought, just so long will these few men control. It is within the power of this end of the county to beat them at their own game. There are several courses open to the honest voters of the county. We can refuse to participate in a nomination held under the delegate plan and have an independent Republican nomination under the popular vote system. There should be no delay in making a start. We ought to begin right now, and see to it that the men who the people want are put in office. Attorney Davidson said he desired to have a general expression from those present.

Col. W. C. Watson, one of the old wheel horses of the party, thought it was high time to call a halt if we hoped to maintain the party integrity in this county. He said he could not be accused of disloyalty to the party when he refused to support the nominee of last Saturday. If there had been disloyalty it rested with the men who made the nomination against the will of the majority of the voters. "I am prepared to support the independent candidate," said Col. Watson, and I move you, Mr. Chairman, that we go on record as favoring such a move. If Professor MacDonald will consent to be the candidate, I will include in my motion that we pledge him our undivided support.

In response Mr. MacDonald thanked the men for the honor, and explained that he had become a candidate for county auditor when the primaries were conducted under the old plan. He believed the up-county Republicans saw he could undoubtedly win if the vote was taken by the people, and that the delegate system was adopted to defeat him. "I am not in favor of any such tactics," said Prof. MacDonald. "If the people want me to make another race, I will not object. I had not much money to begin with. I have paid everything I owe, and have a little left. I am willing to spend that in order to show some men the true meaning of gratitude."

Ex-Senator W. V. Blake was called upon, and assured the men in attendance that he was in sympathy with the independent movement. He was sorry he could not attend the convention, but was in to assist in carrying out anything which East Liverpool and Wellsville may decide upon. "If Prof. MacDonald is our candidate I am for him, and will do everything in my power to elect him," said the Senator.

A substitute for Col. Watson's motion was made by W. L. Smith, and was in the shape of a resolution and petition. It reads as follows:

"Whereas, The political affairs of Columbiana county having reached a crisis, it behooves all citizens holding the public welfare to their hearts, as supreme above all questions of partisanship, to assert themselves; and inasmuch as the fraud practised in the recent nomination of a Republican candidate for county auditor resulted in the thwarting of the will of the great majority of the people by a few self-interested politicians.

"Resolved, That the gravity of the situation elevates the question entirely above all questions of partisanship or party affiliations, and it is the plain duty of the people to overthrow the clique whose avowed creed is to control the offices of the county, regardless of all considerations of right or public welfare.

"To that end, and as a rebuke to this arrogant ring of professional politicians responsible for such grave political iniquities, we, the undersigned legal voters of Columbiana county hereby urge J. L. MacDonald, of Wellsville, to stand as a candidate for county auditor on the Citizens' Party ticket, pledging him our votes and our active, loyal and continued support until the close of the polls at the November election."

The resolution was adopted without a dissenting vote, and a committee was appointed to circulate it. During this process other men expressed themselves upon the citizen ticket idea. H. P. McCarron, Justice J. N. Rose, Mayor W. L. Fogo, of Wellsville, H. W. Smith, J. H. Burgess, E. N. Croxall made remarks, all condemning the delegate system, and attributing Professor MacDonald's defeat to its operation.

Hon. E. W. Hill arrived at the meeting late, but was given an opportunity to speak, and his remarks were enthusiastically received. He said he had perhaps more experience with the north county politicians than anyone in the hall. Twice he believed he had received enough votes to elect him, and twice he had been counted out. He had made something of a reputation as a fighter, and after he had convinced the ring that he had built up an opposition that would carry him through they ceased to interfere.

On motion it was decided to hold a meeting jointly with the committee-men and delegates of Wellsville. A special committee will make arrangements to secure the Turner hall, and the meeting will be held next Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

CALL BROTHERS LANDED IN JAIL

Luscious Fruit Led Them Into Temptation and Trouble.

ARRESTED AFTER A FIGHT

Where was Moses when the light went out? In a cell at the city jail with his brother, Duffy Call. The two young men landed there last night at 11 o'clock after creating the wildest confusion on West Market street in the vicinity of Redick's fruit stand that has been in evidence on that thoroughfare for months.

Ever since Duff got his release from jail by promising to pay a fine for stealing junk, he has been jollifying over the snap he had in securing freedom and has had a banking to get back and try it over. If he has drawn a sober breath this week it was no fault of Duff's. But early last evening he had quite enough and very suddenly a mania struck him for the consumption of lighter diet, oranges, bananas and the like. Unfortunately for the pair they got their eyes set on the fruit at Redick's. Daringly they stood by the stand and appeared that faint feeling in the alimentary canal by swallowing at least half the tropical productions in sight and then stuffed the remainder in their pockets.

While they were in the midst of their gluttonous act some women living across the street saw them and gave the alarm. In some manner, the knaves of Shantytown knew they had been detected, probably by premonition, and though loaded to the guards, incapacitating them greatly for speed, they started on a run down the alley. Mr. Redick and Paul Boring were soon after them and after a short chase collared the brothers. A lively fight ensued in which the rats of the beach were victorious. They broke away from their pursuers and fled down the alley at a 2:40 gait, having discarded their load of fruit and nearly rid of the load of peaches.

Redick and Boring were not to be defeated, however, and continued, finally overtaking the pair on Seventh street. A gun was brought into play in stopping them, though Duff swears that the shot grazed the top of his head and Moses declares that a part of its force was spent on the rear of his anatomy. An examination at the jail, however, proved that neither had been shot with anything but booze. When they were halted for the second time they offered no resistance and Officers Bettridge and Ruhe, who had arrived on the scene had no difficulty in landing them in jail.

After being locked in a cell, Duff became boisterous and made things so hideous around the city hall that Officer Todd was compelled to use the hose to quiet him.

The men will have a hearing this evening, the mayor being out of the city today.

The streets of the city are to be repaired. Such was the decision of the board of public service last evening. The impaired places were made so by the recent downpours of rain, but had certain property holders had the conditions perfect in front of and along their holdings much of the damage would never have occurred. Believing negligence on the part of the

QUESTION OF REGISTRATION IN EAST LIVERPOOL CITY

Depends Largely Upon the Wishes of the Voters, Sentiment Is Against It.

Columbus, April 2.—(Special).—If the registration feature of the Hypes election bill is unsatisfactory to the people of Columbiana county, Mr. Crist stands ready to co-operate with Mr. Hill in an effort to amend it to suit the wishes of the county. As has already been pointed out in this correspondence, the bill is practically certain of passage, and in its present shape extends registration to all cities over 14,000, which includes East Liverpool and Steubenville. If East Liverpool does not desire registration the Columbiana county legislators will make an effort to have the registration line of demarcation put at a figure to exclude the city from this provision of the bill.

It is now up to the citizens of East Liverpool to act. If they do not desire registration, which would cut down the size of their vote and give the other cities of the county to which registration would not apply an advantage over the city, the thing for them to do is to at once acquaint the legislators with their wishes on the proposition.

The house has passed four insurance bills introduced by Mr. Crist at the request of the state commissioner of insurance.

A Problem Which It Is Difficult to Solve—The Y. M. C. A. Not Responsible for It—Trustees Are Regarded as Liable.

Authentic announcement was made today that immediate action will be instituted against the Y. M. C. A. Athletic association, or persons affiliated with it, by creditors to recover in the neighborhood of $3,000 which was spent in fitting up the athletic grounds in Chester. The creditors have their claims in the hands of attorneys and everything is nearly ready for filing the action in court.

The case promises to be a complicated one. It seems that all contracts were made by M. C. Wright, the former secretary of the Y. M. C. A. This night, it is alleged, throw the former secretary of the Y. M. C. A. liable, but the trustees of the athletic association are said to be the ones against whom action will be started. It is said they declare that they gave no contracts, but it is argued by the attorneys for the plaintiffs that, inasmuch as they knew the contracts were being made and sanctioned them, they can be held responsible.

When the athletic association was incorporated it was formed as a company to do business not for profit. This exempts the members of the association from any responsibility and throws it all on the trustees.

The Y. M. C. A. is literally free from any part in the suit, but as the members of the athletic association came mostly from the ranks of it, it is said that a movement is afoot for the purpose of having the Y. M. C. A. assume the obligation. If this is done it will be more to ward off a possible stigma that might fall on the association.

BONDS HAVE BEEN SOLD FOR ROAD IMPROVEMENT

St. Clair Township Disposes of the Issue For Paving the Highway to Calcutta.

G. A. GASTON, OF CLEVELAND, IS THE BUYER

Bonds for the proposed improvement of the Calcutta road, from the Liverpool township line to the village of Calcutta, were sold yesterday by the trustees of St. Clair township. The issue will be $20,000 and the successful bidder was George A. Gaston, of Cleveland, who offered a premium of $675.

While a number of other bids were received, some of them offering an apparently greater premium, they were conditioned upon an investigation of the records and would have entailed considerable expense to the township. Considering the condition of the money market at this time, the trustees consider that they have made a good bargain.

Before submitting a bid, Mr. Gaston, at his own expense, had a transcript made of the proceedings leading up to the sale of the bonds and finding that every step had been legally made, imposed no conditions. He is to stand the expense of the sale and is to furnish the blank forms for the bonds.

Mr. Gaston has agreed that the full sum of the bonds will be ready to turn over to the trustees on the 15th of this month, a feature particularly pleasing as it will give the opportunity for an early start on the work. It is expected to begin the work soon after the money is at hand.

The progressive spirit of the people of St. Clair township is clearly shown in their successful effort for better roads and it will not only prove statement of President John Koerber, of the State Retail Liquor Dealers' association. The bill has been prepared, and now that the defeat of the Brannock bill, in Mr. Koerber's opinion seems certain, the new bill will be introduced, which will provide for the relief of the resident districts.

The new bill Mr. Koerber said had been shown to men who were friends of temperance and good government and they pronounced it fair and just and exactly what the people in the residence districts desired.

a great benefit to them, but to all this section of the county. The Calcutta road is one of the important thoroughfares in this end of the county and hundreds of people use it in traveling to and from East Liverpool. Its improvement will put the people for miles around in closer touch with this city and means much to both the farmers and merchants.

It will be recalled that the people of Liverpool township have taken up the matter of improving that part of the road from the city limits to the St. Clair township line, from which point the people of the latter township are to take up the improvement. This proposition will be submitted to the voters at the next regular election and there is little doubt but that it will carry, general sentiment being strongly in its favor.

The trustees of St. Clair township have already let the contracts for the work and as soon as the money is received the work will be parceled out to the several successful bidders.

The water came up rapidly here last night and at noon had almost reached the Pilgrim coal offices at the wharf. The water was backed up in the small streams here, but not enough to cause damage.

The high stage is interfering to some extent with the packets and coal boats, the former finding it difficult to make way stops. With the high wind the coal boats and fleets were in considerable danger.

QUESTION OF REGISTRATION IN EAST LIVERPOOL CITY

Sentiment Is Against It.

Columbus, April 2.—(Special).—If the registration feature of the Hayes election bill is unsatisfactory to the people of Columbiana county, Mr. Crist stands ready to co-operate with Mr. Hill in an effort to amend it to suit the wishes of the county. As has already been pointed out in this correspondence, the bill is practically certain of passage, and in its present shape extends registration to all cities over 14,000, which includes East Liverpool and Steubenville. If East Liverpool does not desire registration the Columbiana county legislators will make an effort to have the registration line of demarcation put at a figure to exclude the city from this provision of the bill.

It is now up to the citizens of East Liverpool to act. If they do not desire registration, which would cut down the size of their vote and give the other cities of the county to which registration would not apply an advantage over the city, the thing for them to do is to at once acquaint the legislators with their wishes on the proposition.

The house has passed four insurance bills introduced by Mr. Crist at the request of the state commissioner of insurance.

BONDS HAVE BEEN SOLD FOR ROAD IMPROVEMENT

St. Clair Township Disposes of the Issue For Paving the Highway to Calcutta.

G. A. GASTON, OF CLEVELAND, IS THE BUYER

Bonds for the proposed improvement of the Calcutta road, from the Liverpool township line to the village of Calcutta, were sold yesterday by the trustees of St. Clair township. The issue will be $20,000 and the successful bidder was George A. Gaston, of Cleveland, who offered a premium of $675.

While a number of other bids were received, some of them offering an apparently greater premium, they were conditioned upon an investigation of the records and would have entailed considerable expense to the township. Considering the condition of the money market at this time, the trustees consider that they have made a good bargain.

Before submitting a bid, Mr. Gaston, at his own expense, had a transcript made of the proceedings leading up to the sale of the bonds and finding that every step had been legally made, imposed no conditions. He is to stand the expense of the sale and is to furnish the blank forms for the bonds.

Mr. Gaston has agreed that the full sum of the bonds will be ready to turn over to the trustees on the 15th of this month, a feature particularly pleasing as it will give the opportunity for an early start on the work. It is expected to begin the work soon after the money is at hand.

The progressive spirit of the people of St. Clair township is clearly shown in their successful effort for better roads and it will not only prove statement of President John Koerber, of the State Retail Liquor Dealers' association. The bill has been prepared, and now that the defeat of the Brannock bill, in Mr. Koerber's opinion seems certain, the new bill will be introduced, which will provide for the relief of the resident districts.

The new bill Mr. Koerber said had been shown to men who were friends of temperance and good government and they pronounced it fair and just and exactly what the people in the residence districts desired.

NO GENERAL ATTACK UPON PORT ARTHUR

Japanese Naval Officials Deny That Any Serious Engagement Occurred.

Tokio, April 2.—(Special).—The navy department of the Japanese government announces that it lacks information concerning the general attacks on Port Arthur on March 30 and 31. The navy officials deny that a general attack occurred, but admit that it is possible that a few cruisers exchanged shots with the Russians.

Port Arthur, April 2.—(Special).—There is no change in the situation here. The Japanese who were killed in the last attack on the port have been buried with military honors outside the city.

Tied Up By a Strike.

Cleveland, April 2.—(Special).—The lines of the Cleveland & Southwestern Traction company are tied up by a strike of the motormen and conductors. The company refused to remove General Manager Nichols, against whom the men have a grievance.

Administrator Chosen.

Lisbon, April 2.—(Special).—The late Mary J. Meanor, of East Liverpool, left no will and Harry H. Meanor has been appointed administrator of the estate. Bond, $3,600. Appraisers, D. F. White, Walter C. Supplee and W. J. Kinney.

Air Tank Exploded.

Meadville, Pa., April 2.—(Special).—The explosion of an air tank in the shops of the Erie railroad here caused the death of Foreman John Frederick. Three workmen were fatally injured and the shop was wrecked.

a great benefit to them, but to all this section of the county. The Calcutta road is one of the important thoroughfares in this end of the county and hundreds of people use it in traveling to and from East Liverpool. Its improvement will put the people for miles around in closer touch with this city and means much to both the farmers and merchants.

It will be recalled that the people of Liverpool township have taken up the matter of improving that part of the road from the city limits to the St. Clair township line, from which point the people of the latter township are to take up the improvement. This proposition will be submitted to the voters at the next regular election and there is little doubt but that it will carry, general sentiment being strongly in its favor.

The trustees of St. Clair township have already let the contracts for the work and as soon as the money is received the work will be parceled out to the several successful bidders.

The following bids were submitted for the bonds sold yesterday:

HIGH WATER HERE BUT NO FLOOD

The Ohio River Bank Full But No Damage Likely to Result.

Although the river is at a high stage there is no danger of an overflow here, the crest of the flood having been reached at Pittsburgh at 8 o'clock this morning when a 22-foot stage was registered. The water came up rapidly here last night and at noon had almost reached the Pilgrim coal offices at the wharf. The water was backed up in the small streams here, but not enough to cause damage.

The high stage is interfering to some extent with the packets and coal boats, the former finding it difficult to make way stops. With the high wind the coal boats and fleets were in considerable danger.

The tow boat Gleaner has been tied up opposite Walker for several days awaiting machinists from Pittsburgh to repair a boiler head. The Lorena and Virginia will be down tonight and the Keystone State, Ben Hur and Kanawha are due up tomorrow afternoon.

PETITION IN BANKRUPTCY

Filed Against the United States Fire-

Lisbon.

A petition of involuntary bankruptcy against the United States Fireproofing company of Lisbon, has been filed in the United States district court at Trenton, N. J. An order to show cause was made returnable on April 4. These proceedings follow the recent appointment of a receiver for the company.

The company formerly had considerable holdings in this county, but some six months ago disposed of them to Pittsburgh parties.

WILL RESUME.

Work at the Toronto plants of the sewer pipe trust is to start again Monday after an idleness of several months. The announcement was made yesterday by Supt. Francy, of the Great Western plant there, and it is thought that the other plants will also start. The East End plant will not be in readiness for a start on Monday, owing to a delay in receiving a shipment of new machinery, but it was given out yesterday that work will commence as soon as the machinery is in place, probably one day next week. The announcement that the latter plant is to resume will be good news to the people of the East End. The employees have been loafing since the shut down for the holidays.

MRS. DUNSPAUGH DEAD.

The many friends of W. F. Dunspaugh, manager of the East End plant of the American Sewer Pipe company, will be pained to hear of the death of his wife, which occurred last Sunday at the home of her mother in Toronto, Canada. Mrs. Dunspaugh had been an invalid for several years and up until the time that her sickness became serious spent most of her time in the south. Mr. Dunspaugh was called to Toronto several weeks ago by her serious condition and remained at her bedside. The funeral services were held Wednesday. For a number of years, while Mr. Dunspaugh was associated with the Francies, Mrs. Dunspaugh lived at Toronto, where she had a large number of friends.

Some Red Saunders Philosophy.
"Of all the worlds I ever broke into this one's the most curious," said Red Saunders, "and one of the curious things in it is that I think it's queer. Why should I, now? What puts it in to our heads that affairs ought to go so and so when they never do anything of the sort? Take any book you read or any story a man tells you. It runs along about how Mr. Smith made up his mind to do this or that and proceeded to do it. And that never happened. What Mr. Smith calls making up his mind is, when you come down to bed rock, nothing more nor less than what Mr. Smith pleasantly calls his mind dodging to cover under pressure of circumstances. That's straight. Old Lady Luck comes for Mr. Smith's mind, swinging both hands. She gives it a stem winder on the ear, lams it for keeps on the smeller, chugs it one in the short ribs, drives right and left in to its stummock, and Mr. Smith's mind breaks for cover; then Mr. Smith tells his wife that he's made up his mind—be, mind you! Wouldn't that stun you?"—McClure's.

Novellists and Poisons.

We read very frequently how the hero or heroine had a chloroform soaked handkerchief pressed over the nose and became at once insensible. Chloroform does not act in that way. It causes excitement before anything approaching to loss of sensibility, and when insensibility has been reached the patient begins to kick and throw his arms about.

We are also told how he or she swallowed the drugged wine, gave a gasp and fell back senseless. The only senseless person in the business is the novelist. An absolutely poisonous dose of laudanum would not cause loss of consciousness until several minutes had elapsed after its being taken.

But the prize must be awarded to the writer who says that "the victim raised the glass containing strychnine, drank its contents and fell down dead." The victim would probably lie down sooner or later. Then he would writhe and twist, groan and cry aloud, for the strychnine would seem to be tying his inside and his muscles into knots. Death by strychnine poisoning is agonizing.

To the Grave in Spectacles.

At a recent funeral it was noticed that the face of the dead was adorned with glasses. Naturally the queer decoration occasioned surprise. Even the undertaker seemed hardly to know what to make of it.

"However," he said, "this is not the first time I have buried a man with glasses on. But the instances have been so few that I haven't got used to the idea. Certainly I never add that finishing touch of my own accord. It is always done at the request of the family. In every case I find that the deceased and his glasses were inseparable in life, and in order to preserve the likeness they are to be still undivided in death. Personally, I think the notion idiotic, but art is not my business. When anybody wants to be buried in glasses that's the way I bury him."—New York Times.

Compass Plants.

Several different countries—America, Asia Minor, Tartary, Madagascar and Australia—have shrubs and flowers which, are locally at least, known as "compass plants." The compass plant of the United States is the common rosin weed of our western prairies, which has the long leaves near the ground set in a vertical position in such a way as to always present the edges to the north and south. This peculiar propensity of the rosin weed is attributed to the fact that both the upper and lower surfaces of the leaves demand an equal share of light, something which can be said of but few known plants, the upper surfaces usually being much more sensitive to both light and heat than the lower. This demand for a share of Old Sol's attention causes the leaves to stand in the manner mentioned above.

Animals That Lay Eggs.

There are two animals in Australia that lay eggs after the manner of birds and reptiles. They are those quaint creatures the ornithomimids, or duck billed platypus, and the echidna, or porcupine ant eater. The former lays its eggs in burrows, which it scratches out on the banks of rivers. The latter carries them until hatched in a pouch somewhat like the kangaroo's.

In many respects these animals have an anatomical affinity to reptiles, but their mouths are toothless and bear like, resembling those of birds, while the feet of the platypus are webbed. The platypus is a semiaquatic animal, and the porcupine ant eater is much like the ground hog in appearance.

Dead Men's Teeth.

Before artificial teeth were created deficiencies had to be made good by the real article, so body snatchers ravaged the cemeteries at night, breaking up the jaws of the dead to extract their teeth to sell to dentists for insertion in live men's mouths. An army of these ghouls followed Wellington's army. They were licensed as sutlers, but once night fell out came their nippers, and they prowled over the battlefield extracting the teeth of the dead or dying.

"Orange Outang" Incorrect.

The large anthropoids of Borneo and Sumatra are usually called orang outangs. This form, it seems, is not correct. Orang signifies man and outang, or utang, debt, something owing; so that orang outang would simply mean a man in debt. The correct Malay name is orang utan, or outan. This signifies the forest man in distinction to orang dusun, or village (civilized) man.

Not the Same Meaning.

Nervous Old Lady (in saloon of steamer)—Oh, steward, where do I sleep? Steward—What is the number of your berth, ma'am? Nervous Old Lady—I don't see what that has to do with it, but if you must know it is third. There were a sister and a brother born before me.

"After all," remarked the sentimental wife, "home is the dearest spot on earth."

"Yes, verily," rejoined the head of the matrimonial trust as he finished auditing last month's grocery bill.

T. H. McGahan Tells How Father John's Medicine Cured Him of the Grip.

Alderman T. F. McGahan, of Amsterdam, N. Y., writes: "Father John's Medicine is the best medicine I ever used for grip, bronchial trouble and as an appetizer. I have recommended it to many here, and they all report the same success. I gave it to my little girl, who was for over two weeks nearly choking with bronchitis. She was relieved at once, and after taking two bottles, was entirely well."

(Signed) T. F. McGahan, Alderman, 15 Forbes street. "Father John's Medicine cures grip, colds, bronchitis and asthma—has for 50 years. It is all pure nourishment and builds up the body at the same time it cures the disease. No weakening stimulants, morphine, or other poisonous drugs, upon which so many patent medicines depend for their temporary effect, and which are dangerous."

The Origin of Dance.

A dance is named after Duns Scotus, the chief and leader of the schoolmen who were in opposition to what was called "the new learning" in the sixteenth century. It is easy to see how readily convertible the term would be. Any opponent of the new learning would be apt to be referred to as a Dunsman, or, more briefly, as a Duns, to indicate that he held the views of which Duns Scotus was the most eminent representative. But, as the time went on and the new learning triumphed, to call any one a Dunsman or a dance would be equivalent to describing him not merely as opposed to a certain set of doctrines, but as incapable of learning and enlightenment. It is certainly hard upon Duns Scotus, as Archbishop Trench has remarked, that he, "the subtle doctor" by preeminence, the "wittiest of the school divines," as Hooker terms him, should have his name handed down to future ages as a synonym for invincible stupidity.

Routine of a Chinese School.

Each Chinese schoolboy must furnish his own stool and table for school work and the "four precious articles," which are the ink slab, a cake of India ink, a brush for writing and paper. With these he begins his weary task, of learning to write and read the thousands of Chinese characters. These are to open the way to the Chinese classics, and a knowledge of this ancient literature and wisdom means education to the Chinese. At the opening of a Chinese school a paper on which is written the name of Confucius is pasted on the wall. Before this honored name the pupils and teachers burn paper money and joss sticks and bow their heads three times to the floor. The teacher then tells Confucius the day, the month and the year and begs for his favor.—Everybody's Magazine.

Snakeskin In a Bird's Nest.

The great crested flycatcher chooses for its nesting place a sheltered hollow bough or the abandoned excavation made by the golden winged woodpecker. His architecture is peculiar on account of the unusual materials he uses. In every nest you will find a bit of dry snakeskin and shreds of soft inner bark of trees. Among hundreds of nests examined not one has lacked these peculiar substances. Naturalists have tried in vain to discover why the bit of dry snakeskin is chosen. It does not seem to be of any use in the structure of the nest, and quite often it lies loosely on the outer rim or carelessly set into the exterior bottom. Possibly the flycatcher regards it as a choice bit of ornamentation.

Grim Relics.

A prison sale is held annually in Paris. The articles offered for sale are the clothes of murdered people, the instruments with which the crimes have been committed and the effects which have belonged to the deceased prisoners. Articles which have been taken to the prefecture of police and have not been claimed are also sold. The proceeds go to the Paris almshouse. Unclaimed jewelry is usually bought by ordinary brokers, but the articles which have belonged to criminals, especially those who are notorious, are bought at high prices.

Do Animals Dream?

Much research and investigation warrant the assertion that man is not the only animal subject to dreams. Horses neigh and rear upon their hind feet while fast asleep; dogs bark and growl and in many other ways exhibit all their characteristic passions. It is highly probable that at such times the remembrance of the chase or of a combat is passing through the dogs' minds. Besides the above signs of fleeting pain, anger and excitement these noble creatures often manifest signs of kindness, playfulness and of almost every other passion. Ruminant animals, such as the sheep and the cow, are believed to be less affected with dreams than those of higher passions which spend their waking hours in scenes of greater excitement.

Philosophers and investigators tell us that if we trace the dream faculty still lower in the scale of animal life we shall probably find that the same phenomena exist, and judging from analogy it is only reasonable to reckon on dreaming as one of the universal laws—almost as universal as sleep itself.

W. S. Brunt, who has been spending several weeks at Mt. Clemens, Mich., returned home today.

Homer Lamson, sagger maker at the Standard, has purchased a fine young driving mare from Calcutta parties.

Harry McElroy leaves today for Cameron, where he will accept a position as finisher for one of the dishmakers.

John Shrader and William Hughes have been elected delegates to the national convention by local No. 6 of Wheeling.

John Bucey, of the dipping house at the Standard, is moving to a new location on Jethro street and was not at work yesterday.

Miss Annie Jones, of the dipping department at the Standard pottery, has resigned her position and will leave the trade. Miss Ola Shaffer will succeed her.

Dutch Baur, of the ghost crew at the Standard, accompanied by John Fleisch and Joe Bloor, searched half of the Hancock county river front Thursday for water cress. They failed to find any and returned home disgusted.

Some Red Saunders Philosophy.

"Of all the worlds I ever broke into this one's the most curious," said Red Saunders, "and one of the curiosest things in it is that I think it's queer. Why should I, now? What puts it in to our heads that affairs ought to go so and so when they never do anything of the sort? Take any book you read or any story a man tells you. It runs along about how Mr. Smith made up his mind to do this or that and proceeded to do it. And that never happened. What Mr. Smith calls making up his mind is, when you come down to bed rock, nothing more nor less than what Mr. Smith pleasantly calls his mind dodging to cover under pressure of circumstances. That's straight. Old Lady Luck comes for Mr. Smith's mind, swinging both hands. She gives it a stern winder on the ear, lams it for keeps on the smeller, chugs it one in the short ribs, drives right and left in to its stummiel, and Mr. Smith's mind breaks for cover; then Mr. Smith tells his wife that he's made up his mind—he, mind you! Wouldn't that stun you?"—McClure's.

Novelists and Poisons.

We read very frequently how the hero or heroine had a chloroform soaked handkerchief pressed over the nose and became at once insensible. Chloroform does not act in that way. It causes excitement before anything approaching loss of sensibility, and when insensibility has been reached the patient begins to kick and throw his arms about.

We are also told how he or she swallowed the drugged wine, gave a gasp and fell back senseless. The only senseless person in the business is the novelist. An absolutely poisonous dose of laudanum would not cause loss of consciousness until several minutes had elapsed after its being taken.

But the prize must be awarded to the writer who says that "the victim raised the glass containing strychnine, drank its contents and fell down dead." The victim would probably lie down sooner or later. Then he would writhe and twist, groan and cry aloud, for the strychnine would seem to be tying his inside and his muscles into knots. Death by strychnine poisoning is agonizing.

To the Grave in Spectacles.

At a recent funeral it was noticed that the face of the dead was adorned with glasses. Naturally the queer decoration occasioned surprise. Even the undertaker seemed hardly to know what to make of it.

"However," he said, "this is not the first time I have buried a man with glasses on. But the instances have been so few that I haven't got used to the idea. Certainly I never add that finishing touch of my own accord. It is always done at the request of the family. In every case I find that the deceased and his glasses were inseparable in life, and in order to preserve the likeness they are to be still undivided in death. Personally, I think the notion inartistic, but art is not my business. When anybody wants to be buried in glasses that's the way I bury him."—New York Times.

Compass Plants.

Several different countries—America, Asia Minor, Tartary, Madagascar and Australia—have shrubs and flowers which are, locally at least, known as "compass plants." The compass plant of the United States is the common rosin weed of our western prairies, which has the long leaves near the ground set in a vertical position in such a way as to always present the edges to the north and south. This peculiar propensity of the rosin weed is attributed to the fact that both the upper and lower surfaces of the leaves demand an equal share of light, something which can be said of but few known plants, the upper surfaces usually being much more sensitive to both light and heat than the lower. This demand for a share of Old Sol's attention causes the leaves to stand in the manner mentioned above.

Animals That Lay Eggs.

There are two animals in Australia that lay eggs after the manner of birds and reptiles. They are those quaint creatures the ornithorhynchus, or duck billed platypus, and the echidna, or porcupine ant eater. The former lays its eggs in burrows, which it scratches out on the banks of rivers. The latter carries them until hatched in a pouch somewhat like the kangaroo's.

In many respects these animals have an anatomical affinity to reptiles, but their mouths are toothless and beak-like, resembling those of birds, while the feet of the platypus are webbed. The platypus is a semiaquatic animal, and the porcupine ant eater is much like the ground hog in appearance.

Dead Men's Teeth.

Before artificial teeth were created deficiencies had to be made good by the real article, so body snatchers ravaged the cemeteries at night, breaking up the jaws of the dead to extract their teeth to sell to dentists for insertion in live men's mouths. An army of these ghouls followed Wellington's army. They were licensed as sutlers, but once night fell out came their nippers, and they provided over the battlefield extracting the teeth of the dead or dying.

"Orange Outang" Incorrect.

The large anthropoids of Borneo and Sumatra are usually called orang outangs. This form, it seems, is not correct. Orang signifies man and outang, or utang, debt, something owing; so that orang outang would simply mean a man in debt. The correct Malay name is orang utan, or outan. This signifies the forest man in distinction to orang dusun, or village (civilized) man.

Not the Same Meaning.

Nervous Old Lady (in saloon of steamer)—Oh, steward, where do I sleep? Steward—What is the number of your berth, ma'am? Nervous Old Lady—I don't see what that has to do with it, but if you must know it is third. There were a sister and a brother born before me.

"After all," remarked the sentimental wife, "home is the dearest spot on earth."

"Yes, verily," rejoined the head of the matrimonial trust as he finished auditing last month's grocery bill.

T. H. McGahan Tells How Father John's Medicine Cured Him of the Grip.

Alderman T. F. McGahan, of Amsterdam, N. Y., writes: "Father John's Medicine is the best medicine I ever used for grip, bronchial trouble and as an appetizer. I have recommended it to many here, and they all report the same success. I gave it to my little girl, who was for over two weeks nearly choking with bronchitis. She was relieved at once, and after taking two bottles, was entirely well."

(Signed) T. F. McGahan, Alderman, 15 Forbes street. Father John's Medicine cures grip, colds, bronchitis and asthma—has for 50 years. It is all pure nourishment and builds up the body at the same time it cures the disease. The Origin of Dance.

A dance is named after Duns Scotus, the chief and leader of the schoolmen who were in opposition to what was called "the new learning" in the sixteenth century. It is easy to see how readily convertible the term would be. Any opponent of the new learning would be apt to be referred to as a Dunsman, or, more briefly, as a Duns, to indicate that he held the views of which Duns Scotus was the most eminent representative. But, as the time went on and the new learning triumphed, to call any one a Dunsman or a dunce would be equivalent to describing him not merely as opposed to a certain set of doctrines, but as incapable of learning and enlightenment. It is certainly hard upon Duns Scotus, as Archbishop Trenchard has remarked, that he, "the subtle doctor" by pre-eminence, the "wittiest of the school divines," as Hooker terms him, should have his name handed down to future ages as a synonym for invincible stupidity.

Routine of a Chinese School.

Each Chinese schoolboy must furnish his own stool and table for school work and the "four precious articles," which are the ink slab, a cake of India ink, a brush for writing and paper. With these he begins his weary task, of learning to write and read the thousands of Chinese characters. These are to open the way to the Chinese classics, and a knowledge of this ancient literature and wisdom means education to the Chinese. At the opening of a Chinese school a paper on which is written the name of Confucius is pasted on the wall. Before this honored name the pupils and teachers burn paper money and joss sticks and bow their heads three times to the floor. The teacher then tells Confucius the day, the month and the year and begs for his favor.—Everybody's Magazine.

Snakekin in a Bird's Nest.

The great crested flycatcher chooses for its nesting place a sheltered hollow bough or the abandoned excavation made by the golden winged woodpecker. His architecture is peculiar on account of the unusual materials he uses. In every nest you will find a bit of dry snakekin and shreds of soft inner bark of trees. Among hundreds of nests examined not one has lacked these peculiar substances. Naturalists have tried in vain to discover why the bit of dry snakekin is chosen. It does not seem to be of any use in the structure of the nest, and quite often it lies loosely on the outer rim or carelessly set into the extreme bottom. Possibly the flycatcher regards it as a choice bit of ornamentation.

Grim Relics.

A prison sale is held annually in Paris. The articles offered for sale are the clothes of murdered people, the instruments with which the crimes have been committed and the effects which have belonged to the deceased prisoners. Articles which have been taken to the prefecture of police and have not been claimed are also sold. The proceeds go to the Paris almshouse. Unclaimed jewelry is usually bought by ordinary brokers, but the articles which have belonged to criminals, especially those who are notorious, are bought at high prices.

Do Animals Dream?

Much research and investigation warrant the assertion that man is not the only animal subject to dreams. Horses neigh and rear upon their hind feet while fast asleep; dogs bark and growl and in many other ways exhibit all their characteristic passions. It is highly probable that at such times the remembrance of the chase or of a combat is passing through the dogs' minds. Besides the above signs of fleeting pain, anger and excitement these noble creatures often manifest signs of kindness, playfulness and of almost every other passion. Ruminant animals, such as the sheep and the cow, are believed to be less affected with dreams than those of higher passions which spend their waking hours in scenes of greater excitement.

Philosophers and investigators tell us that if we trace the dream faculty still lower in the scale of animal life we shall probably find that the same phenomena exist, and judging from analogy it is only reasonable to reckon dreaming as one of the universal laws—almost as universal as sleep itself.

No use to doctor Rheumatism unless you go after it the way it came.

It's useless to doctor Rheumatism from the outside. It didn't get in that way. Rubbing with oil, bandaging with salve, applying hot compresses won't do. WILL RESUME.

Work at the Toronto plants of the sewer pipe trust is to start again Monday after an idleness of several months. The announcement was made yesterday by Supt. Francy, of the Great Western plant there, and it is thought that the other plants will also start. The East End plant will not be in readiness for a start on Monday, owing to a delay in receiving a shipment of new machinery, but it was given out yesterday that work will commence as soon as the machinery is in place, probably one day next week. The announcement that the latter plant is to resume will be good news to the people of the East End. The employees have been loafing since the shut down for the holidays.

MRS. DUNSPAUGH DEAD.

The many friends of W. F. Dunspaugh, manager of the East End plant of the American Sewer Pipe company, will be pained to hear of the death of his wife, which occurred last Sunday at the home of her mother in Toronto, Canada. Mrs. Dunspaugh had been an invalid for several years and up until the time that her sickness became serious spent most of her time in the south. Mr. Dunspaugh was called to Toronto several weeks ago by her serious condition and remained at her bedside. The funeral services were held Wednesday. For a number of years, while Mr. Dunspaugh was associated with the Franceys, Mrs. Dunspaugh lived at Toronto, where she had a large number of friends.

At the opening of a Chinese school a paper on which is written the name of Confucius is pasted on the wall. Before this honored name the pupils and teachers burn paper money and joss sticks and bow their heads three times to the floor. The teacher then tells Confucius the day, the month and the year and begs for his favor. Everybody's Magazine.

Snakeskin in a Bird's Nest.

The great created flycatcher chooses for its nesting place a sheltered hollow bough or the abandoned excavation made by the golden winged woodpecker. His architecture is peculiar on account of the unusual materials he uses. In every nest you will find a bit of dry snakeskin and shreds of soft inner bark of trees. Among hundreds of nests examined not one has lacked these peculiar substances. Naturalists have tried in vain to discover why the bit of dry snakeskin is chosen. It does not seem to be of any use in the structure of the nest, and quite often it lies loosely on the outer rim or carelessly set into the extreme bottom. Possibly the flycatcher regards it as a choice bit of ornamentation.

Grim Relief.

A prison sale is held annually in Paris. The articles offered for sale are the clothes of murdered people, the instruments with which the crimes have been committed and the effects which have belonged to the deceased prisoners. Articles which have been taken to the prefecture of police and have not been claimed are also sold. The proceeds go to the Paris almshouse. Unclaimed jewelry is usually bought by ordinary brokers, but the articles which have belonged to criminals, especially those who are notorious, are bought at high prices.

Do Animals Dream?

Much research and investigation warrant the assertion that man is not the only animal subject to dreams. Horses neigh and rear upon their hind feet while fast asleep; dogs bark and growl and in many other ways exhibit all their characteristic passions. It is highly probable that at such times the remembrance of the chase or of a combat is passing through the dogs' minds. Besides the above signs of fleeting pain, anger and excitement these noble creatures often manifest signs of kindness, playfulness and of almost every other passion. Ruminant animals, such as the sheep and the cow, are believed to be less affected with dreams than those of higher passions which spend their waking hours in scenes of greater excitement.

Philosophers and investigators tell us that if we trace the dream faculty still lower in the scale of animal life we shall probably find that the same phenomena exist, and judging from analogy it is only reasonable to reckon on dreaming as one of the universal laws—almost as universal as sleep itself.

It's Useless to Doctor Rheumatism.

No use to doctor Rheumatism unless you go after it the way it came.

It's useless to doctor Rheumatism from the outside. It didn't get in that way. Rubbing with oil, bandaging with salve, applying hot compresses won't do. Your Rheumatism got into your system through exposure or faults of digestion. You must go after it the same way, if you expect to be cured! That's what Athlophoros does, and does a little better than anything else. It cures because it goes directly to the cause! Sounds sensible, does it not? It's also true.

We can show you how to get well, so that you may never have Rheumatism after being cured of it.

The city editor summoned the photographer of his staff, "Colonel Wellington's house is burning," he said, "and I want a picture of the fire. Get out there as quick as you can with your camera and take a view of what's left of the building from the inside of the fence corner."

"But," said the photographer, "if—that's the point I want it taken from—right in the corner."

"But I think there's—"

"I don't care whether there's a better point or not. You know what I want. Hurry up. You are losing time."

The photographer took his camera and departed. A few hours later he came in with the proof of a picture he had taken from the desired point of view.

"What is this?" said the city editor. "That is a photograph of the ruins of Colonel Wellington's house from the inside corner of the fence near the street."

"I can't see anything of the house."

"I couldn't, either," responded the photographer. "I tried to tell you there was a big tree standing between that corner and the house, but you wouldn't let me."

A Timely Suggestion.
This is the season of the year when the prudent and careful housewife replenishes her supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is certain to be needed before the winter is over, and results are much more prompt and satisfactory when it is kept at hand and given as soon as the cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system. In almost every instance a severe cold may be ward off by taking this remedy freely as soon as there is no danger in giving it to children, for it contains no harmful substance. It is pleasant to take—both adults and children like it. Buy it and you will get the best. It always cures. Sold by Alvin H. Bulger.

ADVERTISEMENT THAT BROUGHT GREAT RESULTS

Experience of Ross Mercer With Newspaper Agents Convinces Him That Publicity Pays.

Ross Mercer has been having some very material evidence that it pays to advertise. He has a double space in the News Review business directory and in changing his ad the other day mentioned three newspapers for which his firm has the exclusive agency in the East End. He has several other daily papers which were not mentioned and it was not long until a storm burst around his head.

An agent of one of the dailies not mentioned in the advertisement swooped down on him and after the first onslaught made the news dealer feel that he had done something almost criminal in not advertising that he sold the agent's publication. The matter was satisfactorily adjusted, but other agents appeared with the same complaint. He changed the ad again and thought the matter settled, but still another agent appeared today with, if anything, a more strenuous objection than his predecessors.

Mr. Mercer is now firmly convinced that advertising brings results.

CAZAR'S BANDIT FOES

HOW THE CHUNCHUSES ARE HARASSING THE RUSSIAN ARMY.

Line of Communication Constantly Menaced by These Rough Riders of Manchuria—Well Armed and Mounted, They Have No Fear of Cossacks.

The Chunchuses, Bunchuses and Nunchuses, as they are variously called, who have been frequently mentioned of late in the reports from the war zone in the far east as attacking Russian outposts, blowing up bridges and tearing up railway tracks, are organized bands of mounted Chinese brigands, which from time immemorial have infested the mountain regions of Manchuria and Mongolia.

Previous to the Russian occupation the Chinese government had made sporadic efforts to suppress these freebooters and after the Boxer uprising organized a corps of mounted militia for that purpose. The effort was of little avail, however, as the Chunchuses managed to have their friends drafted into the corps, and the militia soon became as great a scourge to the country as the bandits.

So well organized were these bands of marauders that they had agents everywhere, who sold flags as passes, demanding as the price of protection so much a wagon load or boat load, according to its value. The flag of one band was respected by all the other bands, and it was almost impossible to do business without paying tribute.

This was the situation when Russia took charge of affairs in Manchuria. The Chunchuses for the most part avoided the railway, but made frequent dashes along its line, robbing, killing and levying tribute on the villagers. Such a nuisance had they become in 1901 that General Cierpitsky organized an expedition and started to wipe them out. With relentless energy he pursued them, and after a brilliant campaign of six weeks, in which 2,000 of the robbers were killed, 3,000 taken prisoners and the rest dispersed, he apparently had broken their power. But the relief was only temporary, and now that the Russians have a war on their hands the freebooters are as active as ever.

They hate the "stinking Tartars," as they call the subjects of the czar, for the reason that if the Russians are victorious they will be deprived of means of existence. A celebrated Chunchuse leader called Tulensan by the Russians is said to be as clever as De Wet and has given the Russians several hard battles recently. He has under him two able lieutenants, one of them a Chinaman named Tenben, and the other a Russian convict from the penal colony at Sakhalin.

Yavantan, another leader, with 500 men, attacked the Russian outpost at Palepetze a few days ago and killed and wounded forty-two men out of the fifty composing the outpost. Still another Chunchuse chief, a Chinaman named Chang, has a well drilled, splendidly mounted and armed force of 2,000 men. These men are nearly as good horsemen as the Cossacks and meet them on even terms as regards fighting qualities.

That the Chunchuses have little respect for the Russian troops is shown by their attack on Newchwang while the czar's troops occupied it. The robbers threatened that if certain sums were not paid them by the Chinese residents of the town they would attack it at night, and they did so, invading the Chinese quarter and robbing the people. Newchwang was then the second largest depot for Russian troops in Manchuria, and the attack was evidence of their daring.

The Chunchuses are hardy mountaineers, nearly six feet high, of splendid build and very muscular. They are fond of athletic sports—shooting, riding and feats of strength. One of their most popular games is lifting heavy weights. They have flat and smooth faces, olive complexions and straight black hair.

It is known that the Japanese have won over the Chunchuses to their cause and have supplied them with arms and ammunition. Several of the bands are also believed to be commanded by Japanese officers. At the same time, the Chinese authorities along the Manchurian border, especially Yuan Shih Kai, the powerful viceroy of Chili, who is under the influence of the Japanese, are secretly working against the czar. The robber bands are encouraged and assisted in their raids on the Russian line of communication, and it is believed that in the event of an important land victory for the Japs there would be a tremendous uprising of the Chinese all along the Manchurian border. The czar has more enemies than the Japanese in his fight for supremacy in the far east.

QUEEN OF ACTRESSES PRAISES PE-RU-NA.

MISS JULIA MARLOWE.

In a recent letter to The Peruna Medicine Co., Miss Julia Marlowe of New York City, has the following to say of Peruna:

"I am glad to write my endorsement of the great remedy, Peruna, as a nerve tonic. I do so most heartily."—Julia Marlowe.

Nervousness is very common among women. This condition is due to anemic nerve centers. The nerve centers are the reservoirs of nervous vitality. These centers become bloodless for want of proper nutrition. This is especially true in the spring season. Every spring a host of invalids are produced as the direct result of weak nerves.

This could be easily obviated by the use of Peruna. Peruna strikes at the root of the difficulty by correcting the digestion. Digestion furnishes nutrition for the nerve centers. Properly digested food furnishes these reservoirs of life with vitality which leads to strong, steady nerves, and thus nourishes life. Peruna is in great favor among women, especially those who have vocations that are trying to the nervous system. Peruna furnishes the lasting invigoration for the nerves that such people so much need. Thousands of testimonials from women in all parts of the United States are being received every year. Such unsolicited evidence surely proves that Peruna is without an equal as a nerve tonic and a vital invigorator.

Buy a bottle of Peruna today. If you do not receive all the benefits from Peruna that you expected, write to Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio.

Umbrellas and Religious Services.
Umbrellas have always been intimately associated with religious services in Catholic churches. They were introduced in the church services of the Byzantine church, are borne over the host in procession and form part of the pontifical regalia as well as that of a cardinal. It is quite likely that the cardinal's hat is derived from the umbrella.

In Italian heraldry a vermilion umbrella in a field argent signifies dominion. The Harlequin manuscripts have at least one drawing of an Anglo-Saxon gentleman whose servant shades him with a sort of umbrella having a curved handle and evidently not meant to close.

A disordered stomach may cause no end of trouble. When the stomach fails to perform its functions the bowels become deranged, the liver and kidneys congested, causing numerous diseases, the most fatal of which are painless and therefore the more to be dreaded. The important thing is to restore the stomach and liver to a healthy condition, and for this purpose no better preparation can be used than Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

Foley's Honey and Tar contains no opiates, and will not constipate like nearly all other cough medicines. Refuse substitutes.

Letter from Rev. Mr. Chambers.

Mrs. Mary E. Chambers, of Pennsylvania avenue, has received a letter from Rev. H. C. Chambers, who last fall went to Punjab, India, Rev. Mr. Chambers and his wife have been enjoying excellent health and have been meeting with success in their work among the natives. On account of the extreme hot weather he has been compelled to find a home in the mountains.

A poor woman in a London parish was consulting me in connection with her domestic troubles, and there was some doubt as to whether her marriage was a legal one, inasmuch as her husband (as she had just discovered) appeared to have a wife living from whom he had separated. A Timely Suggestion.

This is the season of the year when the prudent and careful housewife replenishes her supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is certain to be needed before the winter is over, and results are much more prompt and satisfactory when it is kept at hand and given as soon as the cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system. In almost every instance a severe cold may be ward off by taking this remedy freely as soon as the first indication of the cold appears. There is no danger in giving it to children, for it contains no harmful substance. It is pleasant to take—both adults and children like it. Buy it and you will get the best. It always cures. The photographer took his camera and departed. A few hours later he came in with the proof of a picture he had taken from the desired point of view.

"What is this?" said the city editor.

"That is a photograph of the ruins of Colonel Wellington's house from the inside corner of the fence near the street."

"I can't see anything of the house."

"I couldn't, either," responded the photographer. "I tried to tell you there was a big tree standing between that corner and the house, but you wouldn't let me."

ADVERTISEMENT THAT BROUGHT GREAT RESULTS

Experience of Ross Mercer With Newspaper Agents Convinces Him That Publicity Pays.

Ross Mercer has been having some very material evidence that it pays to advertise. He has a double space in the News Review business directory and in changing his ad the other day mentioned three newspapers for which his firm has the exclusive agency in the East End. He has several other daily papers which were not mentioned and it was not long until a storm burst around his head.

An agent of one of the dailies not mentioned in the advertisement swooped down on him and after the first onslaught made the news dealer feel that he had done something almost criminal in not advertising that he sold the agent's publication. The matter was satisfactorily adjusted, but other agents appeared with the same complaint. He changed the ad again and thought the matter settled, but still another agent appeared today with, if anything, a more strenuous objection than his predecessors.

Mr. Mercer is now firmly convinced that advertising brings results.

THE ZAR'S BANDIT FOES

HOW THE CHUNCHUSES ARE HARASSING THE RUSSIAN ARMY.

Line of Communication Constantly Menaced by These Rough Riders of Manchuria—Well Armed and Mounted, They Have No Fear of Cossacks.

The Chunchuses, Bandhuses and Nuzners, as they are variously called, who have been frequently mentioned of late in the reports from the war zone in the far east as attacking Russian outposts, blowing up bridges and tearing up railway tracks, are organized bands of mounted Chinese brigands, which from time immemorial have infested the mountain regions of Manchuria and Mongolia.

Previous to the Russian occupation the Chinese government had made sporadic efforts to suppress these freebooters and after the Boxer uprising organized a corps of mounted militia for that purpose. The effort was of little avail, however, as the Chunchuses managed to have their friends drafted into the corps, and the militia soon became as great a scourge to the country as the bandits.

So well organized were these bands of marauders that they had agents everywhere, who sold flags as passes, demanding as the price of protection so much a wagon load or boat load, according to its value. The flag of one band was respected by all the other bands, and it was almost impossible to do business without paying tribute.

This was the situation when Russia took charge of affairs in Manchuria. The Chunchuses for the most part avoided the railway, but made frequent dashes along its line, robbing, killing and levying tribute on the villagers. Such a nuisance had they become in 1901 that General Cierpitsky organized an expedition and started to wipe them out. With relentless energy he pursued them, and after a brilliant campaign of six weeks, in which 2,000 of the robbers were killed, 3,000 taken prisoners and the rest dispersed, he apparently had broken their power. But the relief was only temporary, and now that the Russians have a war on their hands the freebooters are as active as ever.

They hate the "stinking Tartars," as they call the subjects of the czar, for the reason that if the Russians are victorious they will be deprived of means of existence. A celebrated Chunchuse leader called Tuksien by the Russians is said to be as clever as De Wet and has given the Russians several hard battles recently. He has under him two able lieutenants, one of them a Chinaman named Tonben, and the other a Russian convict from the penal colony at Sakhalin.

Yavantan, another leader, with 500 men, attacked the Russian outpost at Paleipotze a few days ago and killed and wounded forty-two men out of the fifty composing the outpost. Still another Chunchuse chief, a Chinaman named Chang, has a well drilled, splendidly mounted and armed force of 2,000 men. These men are nearly as good horsemen as the Cossacks and meet them on even terms as regards fighting qualities.

That the Chunchuses have little respect for the Russian troops is shown by their attack on Newchwang when the czar's troops occupied it. The robbers threatened that if certain sums were not paid them by the Chinese residents of the town they would attack it at night, and they did so, invading the Chinese quarter and robbing the people. Newchwang was then the second largest depot for Russian troops in Manchuria, and the attack was evidence of their daring.

The Chunchuses are hardy mountaineers, nearly six feet high, of splendid build and very muscular. They are fond of athletic sports—shooting, riding and feats of strength. One of their most popular games is lifting heavy weights. They have flat and smooth faces, olive complexions and straight black hair.

It is known that the Japanese have won over the Chunchuses by their cause and have supplied them with arms and ammunition. Several of the bands are also believed to be commanded by Japanese officers. At the same time, the Chinese authorities along the Manchurian border, especially Yuan Shih Kai, the powerful viceroy of Chihli, who is under the influence of the Japanese, are secretly working against the czar. The robber bands are encouraged and assisted in their raids on the Russian line of communication, and it is believed that in the event of an important land victory for the Japs there would be a tremendous uprising of the Chinese all along the Manchurian border. The czar has more enemies than the Japanese in his fight for supremacy in the far east.

QUEEN OF ACTRESSES PRAISES PE-RU-NA.

MISS JULIA MARLOWE.

In a recent letter to The Peruna Medicine Co., Miss Julia Marlowe of New York City, has the following to say of Peruna:

"I am glad to write my endorsement of the great remedy, Peruna, as a nerve tonic. I do so most heartily."—Julia Marlowe.

Nervousness is very common among women. This condition is due to anemic nerve centers. The nerve centers are the reservoirs of nervous vitality. These centers become bloodless for want of proper nutrition. This is especially true in the spring season. Every spring a host of invalids are produced as the direct result of weak nerves.

This could be easily obviated by the use of Peruna. Peruna strikes at the root of the difficulty by correcting the digestion. Digestion furnishes nutrition for the nerve centers. Properly digested food furnishes these reservoirs of life with vitality which leads to strong, steady nerves, and thus nourishes life.

Peruna is in great favor among women, especially those who have vocations that are trying to the nervous system. Peruna furnishes the lasting invigoration for the nerves that such people so much need. Thousands of testimonials from women in all parts of the United States are being received every year. Such unsolicited evidence surely proves that Peruna is without an equal as a nerve tonic and a vital invigorator.

Buy a bottle of Peruna today. If you do not receive all the benefits from Peruna that you expected, write to Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio.

$10,000 forfeit if we cannot produce the original letter and signature of above testimonial which well demonstrates its full genuineness.

As an outcome of the first county convention held under the delegate system, Columbiana county Republicans are confronted by the unusual and unwelcome spectacle of a refusal on the part of many who have hitherto supported the party through thick and thin to stand by the nominee for the office of auditor, the only position on the ticket for which there was any contest. If the delegate system, on its first trial, brings about such a state of affairs, what would be the result should it be continued in effect for a few years? The possibilities and probabilities in that direction are certainly something unpleasant for Republicans to contemplate. There is but one remedy for the existing unpleasantness, but one way to restore harmony in the Republican party of Columbiana county and maintain it. It is by returning to the system of voting at the primaries directly for the candidates, and having the primaries held under rules that will make them as reliable and as satisfactory in their results as the general elections are. No loopholes for fraud or questionable practices should be allowed. There should be a state law governing primaries, obedience to which should be compulsory with every party, every candidate and every voter. Let our legislators give us this and they will strengthen party organization, avert factional strife and remove from politics the temptation to practice dishonesty, at the same time encouraging the best citizens to interest themselves in elections, rather than to neglect them, as too many are inclined to do at present.

There is considerable comment and the disgrace to the country that a Kansas senator should be convicted and sentenced for bribery. It would be a far greater disgrace if, having been guilty of the offense, he should escape both conviction and sentence.

East Liverpool is fortunate this year in escaping all disputes and controversies over the spring settlement of wage scales. Several neighboring towns are having their troubles along that line.

Over in Indiana county, Pa., a political campaign has become so strenuous as to result in shooting and probable murder. That sort of politics ought to be left for Kentucky to monopolize.

Canada is about to prohibit the manufacture as well as the sale of cigarettes. Uncle Sam could save many a youth for future usefulness by doing likewise.

Coal prices are now declining. Of course they were maintained as long as there was a necessity for burning coal in order to keep warm.

The sooner political battles in Columbiana county cease to be fought on geographical lines the better for all concerned.

Looks as if the Ohio legislature were disposed to leave undone many things that ought to be done.

Bryan is helping Judge Parker by writing and talking against him.

"Play Ball!" will soon be the popular slogan.

A VERY LONG TERM OF CIRCUIT COURT

Session Likely to Continue Well Into Next Week—Hyland Oil Case Argued.

Lisbon, April 2.—(Special.)—The circuit court is having an unusually long session here this term and will probably continue it during most of next week. Opinions will be given Monday in a number of cases already submitted and on Tuesday the court will continue the hearings, opinions on the remaining cases to be given toward the last of the week.

The case of the Salem Iron company, of Leetonia, against H. H. Hyland et al., in which a temporary injunction restraining the defendants from pumping their oil well between Columbiana and Leetonia, was dissolved by Judge Hole a few months ago and which is in circuit court on appeal, was submitted to the court yesterday afternoon on the arguments and a transcript of the testimony in the court below. The decision in this case will be of far reaching importance and is awaited with much interest.

Billingsley, Clark & DeFord are the plaintiffs' attorneys, and James B.
Troop, of Bowling Green, O.; G. J.
Wolf, of Pittsburg, and Charles Dickinson, of Leetonia, represent the defendant.

SOUTH SIDE

BRIDGE IS INSECURE

Structure at First Street in Bad Shape
By the Recent Rains.

It has been discovered within the past few days that the bridge at First street is in very bad condition. The soil is so sandy, and the floods of the last few weeks have been of so severe a character that the abutment and even the structural work have been damaged.

The paving near the bridge has been undermined at both ends and is now in a very dangerous condition for travel.
The city authorities have been looking over the breaks and it is likely the necessary repairs will be made at once. Many of the teamsters and others who have occasion to drive there have chosen other routes, and owing to the danger it has been suggested that the street be entirely closed to traffic temporarily.

Pastor Expected Today.

Rev. I. W. Dunbar, who will have charge of the new Presbyterian church as soon as the edifice is ready for occupancy, is expected to arrive in Chester today. The household goods were received during the week, and have been moved to the Thomas Stewart house on Carolina avenue. The wife of Rev. Mr. Dunbar has been ill for some time and is now in the south.
She will not come to Chester until some time during the summer.

Hall May Be Moved.

V. M. Conkle, of East Liverpool, and several of the owners of the building that was formerly occupied by the Junior Mechanics and other lodges in lower Chester viewed the ground yesterday and considered the adviseability of having the building moved up town. If it is decided to move the building it will be taken to the lots of John E. and Samuel Newell on Second street between Virginia and Carolina avenues.

Taxes Must Be Paid.

Sergeant Rose posted notices yesterday for the payment of the taxes of 1903, also the delinquent taxes of 1901-2 and all other claims due the town. The back taxes must be paid between now and April 30, and in case they are not suits will be entered. The town is badly in need of funds.

CUT FLOWERS AT HARRISON'S
CONFECTIONERY IN THE DIA-MOND. 78-1

AT THE THEATER

Coming soon to the Grand. The only Othello in America this season is being successfully presented by an American actor. Harry Leighton, for the last three years starring in the Frohman plays, "Prisoner of Zenda," "Rupert of Hentzau," etc., has abandoned the romantic drama this season and under the management of Ernest Shipman is giving most artistic and finished performances of Shakespeare's greatest tragedy.

Lewis Morrison and his company did not fill their engagement at the Grand last evening, much to the disappointment of the large audience. The train bearing the company did not reach this city until nearly 10 o'clock, owing to a landslide that covered the track.
Mike Shea announced for the house management that the production would not be attempted, and the audience went home disappointed.

The success of "The Little Homestead," which comes to the Grand tonight, is due largely to the fact that no attempt is made to exaggerate on what might have been an actual life story. A play with the home as the central charm of "The Little Homestead," which is from the pen of W. B.
Patton, author of "The Minister's Son."
Don't miss it tonight.

At the Grand all next week Estella
Kennedy, in her marvelous exhibition of hypnotism. Don't forget a beautiful present will be given away at each performance.

"Quincy Adams Sawyer" will play a return date at the Grand opera house Saturday, April 23.

TWO STORES RUN UNDER ONE NAME

But With Different Proprietors Likely to Lead to a Controversy in Court.

Peculiar conditions exist in the fish market of the city. It is controlled by two firms on Market street. They are separate and distinct, but both are sailing under the name of F. W. Schlegel, and as a result of the conflict in names
there is sure to be something doing.
The court will be called upon to settle matters if satisfactory agreements are not soon reached by the proprietors of the respective places.

Shop No. 1 is owned by Joseph Boyd and No. 2 by David Wineswick. Boyd bought his shop from F. W. Schlegel with the understanding that he would be allowed to carry on the business under the original name of F. W. Schlegel. The latter had great success in the business and it was considered a bright thought to operate the store under his name. Boyd enjoyed a flourishing business. Then Wineswick started next door into the same business and has displayed the same signs as those used by Boyd. The unsuspecting ones would naturally fall into the first shop, seeing the name of Schlegel on the window and on another big fish sign.

Boyd declares that his competitor has no right whatever to use Schlegel's name and has written to the latter, who is in Pittsburg to come down and settle the affair.

On the other hand Wineswick states that he can use the name lawfully and will continue to do so.

It is probable that the affair will end by the filing of a petition for an injunction to prohibit Wineswick continuing business under name in dispute.

As an outcome of the first county convention held under the delegate system, Columbiana county Republicans are confronted by the unusual and unwelcome spectacle of a refusal on the part of many who have hitherto supported the party through thick and thin to stand by the nominee for the office of auditor, the only position on the ticket for which there was any contest. If the delegate system, on its first trial, brings about such a state of affairs, what would be the result should it be continued in effect for a few years? The possibilities and probabilities in that direction are certainly something unpleasant for Republicans to contemplate. There is but one remedy for the existing unpleasantness, but one way to restore harmony in the Republican party of Columbiana county and maintain it. It is by returning to the system of voting at the primaries directly for the candidates, and having the primaries held under rules that will make them as reliable and as satisfactory in their results as the general elections are. No loopholes for fraud or questionable practices should be allowed. There should be a state law governing primaries, obedience to which should be compulsory with every party, every candidate and every voter. Let our legislators give us this and they will strengthen party organization, avert factional strife and remove from politics the temptation to practice dishonesty, at the same time encouraging the best citizens to interest themselves in elections, rather than to neglect them, as too many are inclined to do at present.

There is considerable comment about the disgrace to the country that a Kansas senator should be convicted and sentenced for bribery. It would be a far greater disgrace if, having been guilty of the offense, he should escape both conviction and sentence.

East Liverpool is fortunate this year in escaping all disputes and controversies over the spring settlement of wage scales. Several neighboring towns are having their troubles along that line.

Over in Indiana county, Pa., a political campaign has become so strenuous as to result in shooting and probable murder. That sort of politics ought to be left for Kentucky to monopolize.

Canada is about to prohibit the manufacture as well as the sale of cigarettes. Uncle Sam could save many a youth for future usefulness by doing likewise.

Coal prices are now declining. Of course they were maintained as long as there was a necessity for burning coal in order to keep warm.

The sooner political battles in Columbiana county cease to be fought on geographical lines the better for all concerned.

Looks as if the Ohio legislature were disposed to leave anyone many things that ought to be done.

Bryan is helping Judge Parker by writing and talking against him.

"Play Ball!" will soon be the popular slogan.

AT THE THEATER

Coming soon to the Grand. The only Othello in America this season is being successfully presented by an American actor. Harry Leighton, for the last three years starring in the Frohman plays, "Prisoner of Zenda," "Rupert of Hentzau," etc., has abandoned the romantic drama this season and under the management of Ernest Shipman is giving most artistic and finished performances of Shakespeare's greatest tragedy.

Lewis Morrison and his company did not fill their engagement at the Grand last evening, much to the disappointment of the large audience. The train bearing the company did not reach this city until nearly 10 o'clock, owing to a landslide that covered the track. Mike Shea announced for the house management that the production would not be attempted, and the audience went home disappointed.

The success of "The Little Homestead," which comes to the Grand tonight, is due largely to the fact that no attempt is made to exaggerate on what might have been an actual life story. A play with the home as the central charm of "The Little Homestead," which is from the pen of W. B. Patton, author of "The Minister's Son." Don't miss it tonight.

At the Grand all next week Estella Kennedy, in her marvelous exhibition of hypnotism. Don't forget a beautiful present will be given away at each performance.

"Quincy Adams Sawyer" will play a return date at the Grand opera house Saturday, April 23.

TWO STORES RUN UNDER ONE NAME

But With Different Proprietors Likely to Lead to a Controversy in Court.

Peculiar conditions exist in the fish market of the city. It is controlled by two firms on Market street. They are separate and distinct, but both are sailing under the name of F. W. Schlegel, and as a result of the conflict in names there is sure to be something doing. The court will be called upon to settle matters if satisfactory agreements are not soon reached by the proprietors of the respective places.

Shop No. 1 is owned by Joseph Boyd and No. 2 by David Wineswick. Boyd bought his shop from F. W. Schlegel with the understanding that he would be allowed to carry on the business under the original name of F. W. Schlegel. The latter had great success in the business and it was considered a bright thought to operate the store under his name. Boyd enjoyed a flourishing business. Then Wineswick started next door into the same business and has displayed the same signs as those used by Boyd. The unsuspecting ones would naturally fall into the first shop, seeing the name of Schlegel on the window and on another big fish sign.

Boyd declares that his competitor has no right whatever to use Schlegel's name and has written to the latter, who is in Pittsburg to come down and settle the affair.

On the other hand Wineswick states that he can use the name lawfully and will continue to do so.

It is probable that the affair will end by the filing of a petition for an injunction to prohibit Wineswick continuing business under name in dispute.

Health means everything. In buying clothes, shoes, hats, furniture, etc., if the buyer is deceived and gets an imitation the only harm is loss of money. In buying food-products, if imitations are supplied, there is not only a loss of money, but perhaps an injury to health—which is beyond price.

$50,000 IN BONDS ARE TO BE ASKED

Money Is Desired to Connect Gaps in Storm Water Sewers in the West End.

COUNCILMEN ARE TO ACT

Property Has Been Damaged Throughout the City By Water Flowing Over Tops of Sewers Instead of Through Them—Sewers Clogged.

To complete the storm and sanitary water sewers of Wellsville, the city is sorely in need of $50,000. It may be possible that more than this amount will be needed. A bond issue for $50,000 is in sight and a vote will possibly be asked upon the proposition before many weeks.

All of this is caused by the recent heavy rains. Damage has resulted to property and if estimated correctly amounts to thousands of dollars. Damage to property will continue whenever there is a heavy rain unless the city takes steps to take care of the water, which is a problem that the council will commence to wrestle with at once.

Even the rains of Thursday night have resulted to damage to property that will take weeks to repair. Cellars have been flooded immediately after they were cleaned from being flooded during the floods of a few weeks ago. Foundations of homes have been weakened and property has been rendered unsafe, in some instances to live in.

Especially is this true of property in the immediate vicinity of McQueen's and Aten's runs. There is a partially constructed storm water sewer in both of these runs, but they proved their worthlessness yesterday morning, when they refused to carry off the water from these runs. There is not the least question but what these sewers are far too small, although if properly taken care of, might be made to carry all the water that would come from the hills.

City officials who have inspected these sewers, which are alleged to be of sufficient size to carry off any amount of water, and in one instance failed to locate the mouth of one sewer. It is covered with earth and stones, until the water is now flowing over the top of it, and making a course of its own. Private property is being submerged, until now it is almost absolutely worthless.

In order that all these sewers may be cleaned and extended, a bond issue of $50,000 will probably be recommended to the citizens by council at its next meeting. The plan of building a portion of a sewer one year, and then leaving a big gap in it before it is finally connected with another part has proved costly to the city and to the tax payers. This is conceded by certain city officials who say the "cart has in the past been placed before the horse."

It is now proposed to ask for a bond issue of $50,000 and to commence at once to close all the gaps in these storm water sewers, and extend them to the watersheds. Council will wrestle with the problem at its meeting Tuesday evening.

CITY OFFICIALS HAVE UNPLEASANT TRAMP

VISIT OF INSPECTION TO THE WEST END SEWERS.

The Flooded District Looked Over And the Cause of the Trouble Learned.

Councilman Shoub, City Solicitor Charles Boyd and Mayor W. L. Fogo inspected all the storm water and sanitary sewers throughout the West End yesterday afternoon. They viewed all the damage caused by the rains of Thursday night. To do this the little party had to tramp through mud and water of all kinds.

And the mayor and solicitor and councilman changed the course of several small streams running through streets and road roads with their hands and with heavy sticks.

The run near the Vulcan brick plant and running near the home of Councilman McDonald was the first one looked at. This run is fast undermining the bank of the property abutting and will have to be looked after at once. It is thought the county commissioners will spend some money repairing Steubenville road at this place, as the culvert under the road is to be rebuilt of brick and cement.

Steubenville street is in a fearful condition. A stream of water was flowing down the middle of the street yesterday afternoon, six feet away from the gutter. This water was washing a lot of mud from this unpaved street onto Clark avenue, which is only making additional work for the street force.

Water has been flowing along Clark avenue at a fearful rate, and in some places the pavement is becoming weakened. Attention is to be given such places at once.

One of the worst places in the West End is the Twenty-second street sewer. That the city will have heavy damage suits to settle soon if improvements are not made to this sewer at once there is no doubt. From Clark avenue to Chester avenue there is a trench at least 10 feet in depth and in some places as many wide. It is uncovered. Water comes through the Chester avenue culvert or a portion of the alleged Twenty-second street sewer with the force of a Niagara. It has washed away the old bed, and is continually getting deeper. The banks of this trench or ditch are caving in, thus widening the run. There will be but little excavating to do when the contract is let to connect the culvert at Clark avenue with that at Chester avenue. Nature is now doing it.

The sewer in Aten's run, which was partially completed could not be seen yesterday evening. The north mouth of this sewer could only be told by trees in the vicinity, which the residents of that section pointed out to the city officials, while on their inspection trip.

This sewer is claimed to be stuffed full of dirt and debris in such a manner that water cannot flow through it, but is now running over the top of the sewer, over private property to another sewer opening. Water in this run in some places was three feet deep last night, and running at terrific speed.

All the cellars in the vicinity of Aten's run were flooded, and more than one woman told these city officials that they proposed to put bills for damages into council. The foundations of two houses, built last year, which are near the run, are in danger of being washed away by the swift current of this run when it is high. The conditions there are almost beyond comprehension.

The sewers on Commerce street in the West End are far too small to carry such water from the streets. They soon became clogged yesterday morning and then the water commenced to back on private property. It was impossible for these sewers to be opened, for the water was several feet deep and covering acres of ground.

All these conditions will be talked of at the next meeting of council. Mayor Fogo took data of all he learned on this inspection trip and the members of the little party were a unit in the thought that it was up to the city to get busy, and that at once.

WELLSVILLE APPLAUDS ACTION OF M'DONALD

Claim Is Made That He Will Receive an Immense Vote at the Fall Election for Auditor.

By the action of Prof. J. L. McDonald in deciding to allow his name to be used on an independent ticket at the fall election for auditor the claim is made by many Wellsville voters that he will receive an immense vote next November. Prof. McDonald has been besieged all week by his friends, who have been urging him to take this step, but he refused to say then whether he would allow his name to be used.

The plan to hold a joint conference between the Republican central committee of both cities and delegates at East Liverpool next week meets with favor among the Republicans of Wellsville. It is said by many that such a conference would result in much good to the party, and that such meetings should have been held long ago.

The Wellsville central committee will meet for the purpose of reorganizing this evening, and all members will be urged to attend the meeting at East Liverpool next week.

INJURED TRAINMEN FAST RECOVERING

Two Hurt in Collision at Yellow Creek Are Able to Be Out, But Not Working.

Brakeman Frederick Mabey, of the Cleveland & Pittsburg road, who was injured in a wreck at Yellow Creek Thursday evening, was not injured as bad as announced. Yesterday afternoon he was walking about the streets, but he will not be able to resume his work for several days.

Conductor Harry Williams, who was also injured in the same wreck, has been taken to his home at Cleveland. His injuries are in no wise dangerous, and he also will be able to resume his work soon.

To have such a wreck as this, and to have the line cleared and the trainmen injured only slightly is an unusual happening on a railroad. The death of Flagman Rogerson was the most unfortunate thing connected with the wreck. It is claimed that if Rogerson had remained even in the caboose he would have escaped with only a possible few bruises.

HEAVY FREIGHT HAULING

Cleveland & Pittsburg Road Push Cars Through from Conway Yards After Slip Is Cleared.

After the numerous washouts and slides were cleared from the main line of the Cleveland & Pittsburg road, between Smith's Ferry and Beaver yesterday afternoon, many freight crews were put to work. Five light engines and cabooses containing as many crews were sent east to Conway to bring freight trains to the Wellsville yards. As many crews were waiting for the road to be cleared at Conway, and when it was opened an immense movement of cars resulted.

A number of drags were also sent east and with a movement both east and west, the company was enabled to move several thousand cars last night and early this morning.

Through passenger traffic was opened from Bellaire to Pittsburg early last evening, the late evening train east being able to get through, although somewhat belated.

The main line was blocked all day and was not opened until early today. Passengers were transferred at the washouts yesterday from train to train, and passengers for the main line from the east were sent to Alliance, thence down the line to Sallineville. Passengers for the river division from the main line were sent to Rochester and then down the river road.

HORSES MAY DRINK

Fountains Throughout the City Have Been Started in All Parts of Wellsville.

Supt. Ewing, of the Wellsville water department, has cleaned all the drinking fountains about the city and immediately afterwards turned water into them. The fountain most used by teamsters to water their horses is that in the public square.

The several fountains in the West End are filled with water, and the one located at Fifteenth and Commerce streets was surrounded by water yesterday by the flood from Aten's run.

Finds Waste of Water.

Waste of city water was discovered by the city officials who visited the West End yesterday afternoon. In an unoccupied house near the Buckeye brick plant was a stream of water running through a window. The hydrant in the kitchen was leaking and a hose was attached to the hydrant and it was turned on, allowing the water to run full force through a small hose which was shoved through a window. A few moments later the water department was notified and the water shut off. It had been running in this manner for five days.

Horses Nearly Drowned.

Walter Simpson, a driver for Contractor C. A. Sims, nearly caused two horses of the firm to be drowned last night at Eighteenth street. Simpson drove the team attached to a wagon, into the Ohio river to wash the mud from them. One horse fell into the deep water, and pulled its mate down also. Two men went out in a skiff and held the heads of the horses above the water, until other assistance arrived. The bed of the wagon floated down the river, and was caught at Twenty-first street by John Raymond.

Funeral Services.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Nora Whitehill, who died at her home on Fourteenth street Thursday afternoon, were held this morning at her late home, Rev. W. M. Glasgow, of the United Presbyterian church, officiating.

Railroad Again Open.

After working constantly for almost 24 hours, the main line of the Cleveland & Pittsburg road was opened for through traffic at 3:15 a. m. today. Several heavy engines were run over the damaged bridges near Irondale shortly after 4 a. m. after all repairs to the bridges had been completed. The first train to Cleveland over the road was run this morning. Slow orders were in force near Sallineville. Work trains are clearing up the last of the washouts and slips.

Pumping Station Flooded.

Water is again flooding the new pumping station. Backwater from Little Yellow creek has filled the hole about the concrete well hole, and is now flowing into the well. Workmen were busy all day removing building materials to places of safety. The flood will cause all the filling about the well hole to settle, which is favorable to the water works trustees. The new concrete piers are not endangered.

The Effect of the Flood.

Because of the high water it is impossible for coal boats to proceed south farther than Wellsville. The Gleaner, Tom Lysle and D. B. Wood, with big tows of coal, are tied to the West Virginia shore. They cannot get south until the river recedes. A shanty boat is under water opposite Eighteenth street. Mayor Fogo this morning issued a warning to prepare for higher water.

Teachers Examined.

A county teachers' examination was held in the central school building at Wellsville today by the county examiners, Prof. J. L. MacDonald, of Wellsville; Supt. Crooks, of the Lisbon schools; and Supt. John Moore, of the Leetonia schools. The attendance was not large on account of the country roads being almost impassable.

Champion Brick Plant Starts.

After being idle for many months the plant of the Champion Brick company has resumed. It will be operated to its capacity within a few days. The company is said to have an immense amount of orders on its books, sufficient to keep the plant in operation for months to come.

Hill Is Slipping Away.

The hill in front of the George Aten property near Aten's run is slipping away, and is fast slipping onto the Aten property. The slide has covered the roadway, making it almost impassable to teams and pedestrians.

Bids Being Prepared.

Carpenters are now preparing final bids for the proposed improvements that are to be made to the postoffice. These will be opened and let at the next meeting of the board of service next Tuesday.

Finds Waste of Water.

Waste of city water was discovered by the city officials who visited the West End yesterday afternoon. In an unoccupied house near the Buckeye brick plant was a stream of water running through a window. The hydrant in the kitchen was leaking and a hose was attached to the hydrant and it was turned on, allowing the water to run full force through a small hose which was shoved through a window. A few moments later the water department was notified and the water shut off. It had been running in this manner for five days.

Horses Nearly Drowned.

Walter Simpson, a driver for Contractor C. A. Sims, nearly caused two horses of the firm to be drowned last night at Eighteenth street. Simpson drove the team attached to a wagon, into the Ohio river to wash the mud from them. One horse fell into the deep water, and pulled its mate down also. Two men went out in a skiff and held the heads of the horses above the water, until other assistance arrived. The bed of the wagon floated down the river, and was caught at Twenty-first street by John Raymond.

Funeral Services.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Nora Whitehill, who died at her home on Fourteenth street Thursday afternoon, were held this morning at her late home, Rev. W. M. Glasgow, of the United Presbyterian church, officiating.

Railroad Again Open.

After working constantly for almost 24 hours, the main line of the Cleveland & Pittsburg road was opened for through traffic at 3:15 a. m. today. Several heavy engines were run over the damaged bridges near Irondale shortly after 4 a. m. after all repairs to the bridges had been completed. The first train to Cleveland over the road was run this morning. Slow orders were in force near Salineville. Work trains are clearing up the last of the washouts and slips.

Pumping Station Flooded.

Water is again flooding the new pumping station. Backwater from Little Yellow creek has filled the hole about the concrete well hole, and is now flowing into the well. Workmen were busy all day removing building materials to places of safety. The flood will cause all the filling about

The Effect of the Flood.

Because of the high water it is impossible for coal boats to proceed south farther than Wellsville. The Gleaner, Tom Lysle and D. B. Wood, with big tows of coal, are tied to the West Virginia shore. They cannot get south until the river recedes. A shanty boat is under water opposite Eighteenth street. Mayor Fogo this morning issued a warning to prepare for higher water.

Teachers Examined.

A county teachers' examination was held in the central school building at Wellsville today by the county examiners, Prof. J. L. MacDonald, of Wellsville; Supt. Crooks, of the Lisbon schools, and Supt. John Moore, of the Leetonia schools. The attendance was not large on account of the country roads being almost impassable.

Champion Brick Plant Starts.

After being idle for many months the plant of the Champion Brick company has resumed. It will be operated to its capacity within a few days. The company is said to have an immense amount of orders on its books, sufficient to keep the plant in operation for months to come.

Hill Is Slipping Away.

The hill in front of the George Aten property near Aten's run is slipping away, and is fast slipping onto the Aten property. The slide has covered the roadway, making it almost impassable to teams and pedestrians.

Bids Being Prepared.

Carpenters are now preparing final bids for the proposed improvements that are to be made to the postoffice. These will be opened and let at the next meeting of the board of service next Tuesday.

MANY NEW HORSES FOR THIS SEASON

Talk of Driving Club and Race Meet
By Local Turfmen—Notes
of the Turf.

There will be more fast horses in East Liverpool this season than ever before and all owners of good horse flesh are anticipating the driving season and getting ready for it. There is strong talk of a gentlemen's driving club and of a race meet for county horses later in the season. The new horses are many. Several local parties have patronized Kentucky stables for fine thoroughbreds and others have made purchases from breeders in this section.

J. Bert George has sold his fine pacing mare to Pittsburg parties but will not be without a speedy one this season.

Pat Creig's mare, wintering near Lisbon, has been brought here and the owner will try her out on the track.

George Smith's fine driving mare will also be given track trials this summer. The mare's sire has a mark of 2:20 and has gone a trial mile in 2:15.

Harrison Rinehart's string is now getting road work after being in stable most of the winter and it is said that they will be taken to Columbian park as soon as the track is in condition to be used.

Maley in Sebring.

Larry Maley, noted East Liverpool hall pitcher, is in Sebring this week, visiting the boys and also turning his

HAPPINESS

Where good health is present. How many households have been wracked by the presence of disease? A father who is in poor health—perhaps the victim of over work or over confinement—after a few years, becomes a helpless invalid, unable to provide for the needs of his family. A wife and mother suffering from the peculiar troubles of her sex becomes weak, irritable, sickly, unable to perform her duties to family and friends. Untold misery has been caused by simple ignorance of

ATHLETICS WILL OPEN SEASON FOR SALEM

Local Players Are Popular in the Quaker City and For This Reason Was Given the Honor.

The East Liverpool Athletics have been given the honor of playing the opening game of the season with the Salem ball team. The Quaker City club will be one of the best in this section of the state this season. The team has secured a fine new park and the opening day will be marked with elaborate ceremonies.

The Athletics are favorites in Salem, having played there a number of times in the last two or three years. Last season Salem's best games were with the Athletics.

The local players will begin to practice for the opening as soon as there is favorable weather and will be in good shape for the opening. George Emmerling, Carey and Flicker Allison will be the pitchers this season and one of the trio will pitch against Salem. It is said that Allison's arm has come around all right and if it has good work can be expected of him. Emmerling made a great showing last season and can be counted on again to do good work. Carey has played ball for years, but this season will be his first as a twirler.

Local Sporting Notes.

Billy Stilwell, who in spite of his many troubles, is popular as a ball player, has caught on with an independent team in Minnesota.

The Marines are getting ready for their benefit dance to be given April 11.

George Carey and Kid Barker are basket ball enthusiasts and have been taking in all the games at the pavilion. Goode, the port side twirler who played a number of games here last season, will play with a college team this year.

Olympics Here Next.

The champions will have the Olympics, of McKeesport, for their opponents next Tuesday night at the pavilion. This team is a member of the Allegheny county league and a protest pending may place it in second place above Manchester. The Olympics made as good a showing as Manchester in the games against Southside and are considered a fast bunch of players.

Basket Ball Tonight.

In the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium this evening the Olympics of the Y. M. C. A. and the National club team will have a contest at basket ball.

SPORTING MISCELLANY.

The trout season in Pennsylvania opens April 15.

The Norfolk baseball club has sued the New York National League club for $2,000 for the release of Christy Mathewson.

LaChance, the ex-Cleveland first-baseman, had eleven putouts without an error in a recent game for the Boston Americans.

The Boston club will fly two pennants this season—the regular American league championship pennant and a world's championship flag presented by General Dixwell.

Manager Phillips, of Indianapolis, is negotiating with the St. Louis American league club for the services of either Swander or Hulesman, both outfielders, who made good with the Browns.

Baseball Doings.

Jimmy Callahan and the Chicago Americans & Rube Waddell & Minor Leagues.

Having finally decided to remain with the Chicago Americans, Captain-Manager Jimmy Callahan is now hard at work rounding the White Sox into shape for the campaign.

Callahan counts his aggregation as second to none this season. He believes that Jimmy Collins' Boston Americans are the only people in the pennant race he should fear.

Callahan announced during the winter that he would leave Comiskey's team, and Patsy Donovan of the St. Louis Nationals was mentioned as his possible successor. However, Jimmy's work was made considerably lighter, and he changed his mind. He was one of the hardest worked men in the major leagues last year. He covered third base in addition to captaining and managing the club. He also pitched during the early part of the season.

Rube Waddell, so rumor says, is to play in the west on a minor league team this summer. Just why he should leave the Philadelphia Americans is not known, but, truth to tell, Rube is at best an uncertain quantity. He would rather fish than play ball, although the latter sport provides him with the necessities of life, and no manager could be certain of having the erratic twirler on hand whenever needed.

Rube has a most aggravating manner of disappearing from the scene of action at periods when his services are urgently required, and perhaps a month will elapse before he is heard from.

Still, Waddell is a sensational pitcher. He is able to "hold down" a job on any major league team in existence and should not be allowed to "tie up" with a minor league club.

Should Rube fail to remain with the major leagues he will be greatly missed. His freakish escapades could always be relied on to break the monotony of a summer campaign. Besides, when in form his work is always of a gilt edged order. Rube once struck out sixteen men in a single game.

The minor league baseball magnates' troubles never cease. The latest hardship discovered under the operation of the new national agreement is the so-called abuse of the drafting rule.

It is alleged that certain shrewd club owners in the minor circuits have made friendly arrangements with clubs in higher classes to draft a number of their best players, not for the use of the drafting club, but with the understanding that these players shall be returned in the spring to the club from which they were drafted. In this way, it is claimed, a good minor league team may be kept intact, while less provident managers lose their all through the draft. This is made possible by the new clause in the agreement which provides that a drafted player, when released within a certain length of time by the drafting club, shall revert to the club from which he was taken. Before that provision was made the minors were always kicking because players could be drafted and then sold or farmed to any club at the choice of the drafting club, it frequently happening that good players came back to strengthen a rival club to the one from which they were taken.

The clause was inserted to prevent that and help to bar the farming evil, but the minors are still kicking. As a matter of fact, the chances of a really good player reverting to a minor league, after being drafted, are small.

MANY NEW HORSES FOR THIS SEASON

Talk of Driving Club and Race Meet
By Local Turfmen—Notes
of the Turf.

There will be more fast horses in East Liverpool this season than ever before and all owners of good horse flesh are anticipating the driving season and getting ready for it. There is strong talk of a gentlemen's driving club and of a race meet for county horses later in the season. The new horses are many. Several local parties have patronized Kentucky stables for fine thoroughbreds and others have made purchases from breeders in this section.

J. Bert George has sold his fine pacing mare to Pittsburg parties but will not be without a speedy one this season.

Pat Creig's mare, wintering near Lisbon, has been brought here and the owner will try her out on the track.

George Smith's fine driving mare will also be given track trials this summer. The mare's sire has a mark of 2:20 and has gone a trial mile in 2:15.

Harrison Rinehart's string is now getting road work after being in stable most of the winter and it is said that they will be taken to Columbian park as soon as the track is in condition to be used.

Maley in Sebring.

Larry Maley, noted East Liverpool hall pitcher, is in Sebring this week, visiting the boys and also turning his hand in a useful manner in the big shops. Maley played last year with the Columbian university team, and this year will play with Marion. The team would have been pleased to have him stayed and twirl the ball for them this season, but could not secure him. —Sebring News.

ATHLETICS WILL OPEN SEASON FOR SALEM

Local Players Are Popular in the Quaker City and For This Reason Was Given the Honor.

The East Liverpool Athletics have been given the honor of playing the opening game of the season with the Salem ball team. The Quaker City club will be one of the best in this section of the state this season. The team has secured a fine new park and the opening day will be marked with elaborate ceremonies.

The Athletics are favorites in Salem, having played there a number of times in the last two or three years. Last season Salem's best games were with the Athletics.

The local players will begin to practice for the opening as soon as there is favorable weather and will be in good shape for the opening. George Emmerling, Carey and Flicker Allison will be the pitchers this season and one of the trio will pitch against Salem. It is said that Allison's arm has come around all right and if it has good work can be expected of him. Emmerling made a great showing last season and can be counted on again to do good work. Carey has played ball for years, but this season will be his first as a twirler.

Local Sporting Notes.

Billy Stilwell, who in spite of his many troubles, is popular as a ball player, has caught on with an independent team in Minnesota.

The Marines are getting ready for their benefit dance to be given April 11.

George Carey and Kid Barker are basket ball enthusiasts and have been taking in all the games at the pavilion. Goode, the port side twirler who played a number of games here last season, will play with a college team this year.

Olympics Here Next.

The champions will have the Olympics of McKeesport, for their opponents next Tuesday night at the pavilion. This team is a member of the Allegheny county league and a protest pending may place it in second place above Manchester. The Olympics made as good a showing as Manchester in the games against Southside and are considered a fast bunch of players.

Basket Ball Tonight.

In the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium this evening the Olympics of the Y. M. C. A. and the National club team will have a contest at basket ball.

SPORTING MISCELLANY.

The trout season in Pennsylvania opens April 15.

The Norfolk baseball club has sued the New York National League club for $2,000 for the release of Christy Mathewson.

LaChance, the ex-Cleveland first-baseman, had eleven putouts without an error in a recent game for the Boston Americans.

The Boston club will fly two pennants this season—the regular American league championship pennant and a world's championship flag presented by General Dixwell.

Manager Phillips, of Indianapolis, is negotiating with the St. Louis Americans league club for the services of either Swander or Hulesman, both outfielders, who made good with the Browns.

Baseball Doings.

Jimmy Callahan and the Chicago Americans * Rube Waddell * Minor Leagues.

Having finally decided to remain with the Chicago Americans, Captain-Manager Jimmy Callahan is now hard at work rounding the White Sox into shape for the campaign.

Callahan counts his aggregation as second to none this season. He believes that Jimmy Collins' Boston Americans are the only people in the pennant race he should fear.

Callahan announced during the winter that he would leave Comiskey's team, and Patsy Donovan of the St. Louis Nationals was mentioned as his possible successor. However, Jimmy's work was made considerably lighter, and he changed his mind. He was one of the hardest worked men in the major leagues last year. He covered third base in addition to captaining and managing the club. He also pitched during the early part of the season.

Rube Waddell, so rumor says, is to play in the west on a minor league team this summer. Just why he should leave the Philadelphia Athletics is not known, but, truth to tell, Rube is at best an uncertain quantity. He would rather fish than play ball, although the latter sport provides him with the necessities of life, and no manager could be certain of having the erratic twirler on hand whenever needed.

Rube has a most aggravating manner of disappearing from the scene of action at periods when his services are urgently required, and perhaps a month will elapse before he is heard from.

Still, Waddell is a sensational pitcher. He is able to "hold down" a job on any major league team in existence and should not be allowed to "tie up" with a minor league club.

Should Rube fail to remain with the major leagues he will be greatly missed. His freakish escapades could always be relied on to break the monotony of a summer campaign. Besides, when in form his work is always of a gift edged order. Rube once struck out sixteen men in a single game.

The minor league baseball magnates' troubles never cease. The latest hardship discovered under the operation of the new national agreement is the so-called abuse of the drafting rule.

It is alleged that certain shrewd club owners in the minor circuits have made friendly arrangements with clubs in higher classes to draft a number of their best players, not for the use of the drafting club, but with the understanding that these players shall be returned in the spring to the club from which they were drafted. In this way, it is claimed, a good minor league team may be kept intact, while less provident managers lose their all through the draft. This is made possible by the new clause in the agreement which provides that a drafted player, when released within a certain length of time by the drafting club, shall revert to the club from which he was taken. Before that provision was made the minors were always kicking because players could be drafted and then sold or farmed to any club at the choice of the drafting club, it frequently happening that good players came back to strengthen a rival club to the one from which they were taken.

The clause was inserted to prevent that and help to bar the farming evil, but the minors are still kicking. As a matter of fact, the chances of a really good player reverting to a minor league, after being drafted, are small.

SENTENCED TO DEATH

By "The Best Physicians of Elgin,"
But Neuropathy Saved Him.

Mr. Henry A. Groce, one of the pioneer residents of Elgin, Ill., was saved from a terrible and lingering death from dropsy and heart disease by means of the wonderful discovery that derangements of the brain center called the "seat of life" is the principal cause of many diseases. He says:

"It is about five years since I took Dr. Miles' Neuropathic Treatment for dropsy and heart disease. I experienced great difficulty in breathing and could not lie down without smothering. My limbs and body were badly swollen and I became very weak. I had been under treatment by the best physicians of Elgin, and was growing worse every day. They could do nothing to relieve me, and, in fact, gave me up to die. As soon as I consulted Dr. Miles he showed me that my doctors had failed to understand my case and said he could help me. I was wonderful how soon relief came. It was almost instantaneous. I was soon a well man. The cure was truly wonderful, considering my age, which was 70 at that time. I am now 75 years old, and able to enjoy life."

Mr. Groce is only one of the many hundreds of remarkable cures effected by Dr. Miles' discovery regarding the "Brain Centers." The doctor's reputation as a specialist is national. His Heart and Dropsy Cure is a marvel. Persons afflicted with disease of the heart, stomach, kidneys, nerves or dropsy, which often complicate each case, should write to him. He will send you one thousand testimonials, his Heart and Dropsy Book, an Examination Chart and a $3.75 treatment free. Address Dr. Miles, 652 to 572 Main street, Elkhart, Ind. Please mention this paper.

A Unique Character.
Rufus York, a peculiar man and a New York merchant, daringly manipulated the coffee and spice markets in the middle of the nineteenth century. On one occasion when he owned a large quantity of coffee the market rapidly declined. His ruin was predicted. "What are you going to do?" I asked him.
"Why," he said, with a shrewd wink, "I shall buy several thousand bags more and steady the market."
He came out of this speculation and almost every other in which he embarked with success. He commenced business in butter and eggs and became the master of the spice market of the world. Once he imported an entire cargo of pepper. He had only a dim idea of where coffee and spice came from, and usually spoke of the places as "way off." His books were kept by single entry, as he refused to understand any other system. A small paper memorandum carried in the lining of his high hat was his chief reliance in regard to his business affairs. He was one of the founders of the National Broadway bank.—Town Topics.

CHARLES CLARK TELLS SOME VERY INTERESTING FACTS

Story From Well Known Akron Man is Remarkable.

No one in the world is more to be pitied than a sufferer from stomach trouble, as stomach trouble means the undermining of the entire system, and, therefore, untold misery results. The following letter from Mr. Charles Clark, an employee of the American Cereal Co., of Akron, O., should prove of interest to all sufferers from troubles of this character.

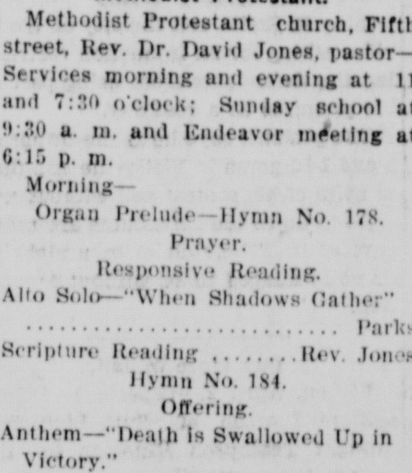

The Cooper Medicine Co.

Dear Sirs:—Over six years ago I began to suffer from stomach trouble and have since been unable to get relief until I tried one bottle of your New Discovery. I have now taken three bottles in all and consider myself permanently cured and able to work every day.

Yours truly,
CHARLES CLARK.

There are many people who, like Mr. Clark, have found difficulty in doing their work owing to a severe attack of stomach trouble. Are you one of these? If so, don't allow yourself to continue in the rut of sickness and unhappiness. Get a bottle of Dr. Cooper's New Discovery from your druggist and see how quickly it will bring back to you the bloom of health. If it fails your money will be refunded.

SENTENCED TO DEATH

By "The Best Physicians of Elgin,"
But Neuropathy Saved Him.

Mr. Henry A. Groce, one of the pioneer residents of Elgin, Ill., was saved from a terrible and lingering death from dropsy and heart disease by means of the wonderful discovery that derangements of the brain center called the "seat of life" is the principal cause of many diseases. He says:

"It is about five years since I took Dr. Miles' Neuropathic Treatment for dropsy and heart disease. I experienced great difficulty in breathing and could not lie down without smothering. My limbs and body were badly swollen and I became very weak. I had been under treatment by the best physicians of Elgin, and was growing worse every day. They could do nothing to relieve me, and, in fact, gave me up to die. As soon as I consulted Dr. Miles he showed me that my doctors had failed to understand my case and said he could help me. I was wonderful how soon relief came. It was almost instantaneous. I was soon a well man. The cure was truly wonderful, considering my age, which was 70 at that time. I am now 75 years old, and able to enjoy life."

Mr. Groce is only one of the many hundreds of remarkable cures effected by Dr. Miles' discovery regarding the "Brain Centers." The doctor's reputation as a specialist is national. His Heart and Dropsy Cure is a marvel. Persons afflicted with disease of the heart, stomach, kidneys, nerves or dropsy, which often complicate each case, should write to him. He will send you one thousand testimonials, his Heart and Dropsy Book, an Examination Chart and a $3.75 treatment free. Address Dr. Miles, 652 to 572 Main street, Elkhart, Ind. Please mention this paper.

A Unique Character.
Rufus Story, a peculiar man and a New York merchant, daintily manipulated the coffee and spice markets in the middle of the nineteenth century. On one occasion when he owned a large quantity of coffee the market rapidly declined. His ruin was predicted. "What are you going to do?" I asked him.
"Why," he said, with a shrewd wink, "I shall buy several thousand bags more and steady the market."
He came out of this speculation and almost every other in which he embarked with success. He commenced business in butter and eggs and became the master of the spice market of the world. Once he imported an entire cargo of pepper. He had only a dim idea of where coffee and spice came from, and usually spoke of the places as "way off." His books were kept by single entry, as he refused to understand any other system. A small paper memorandum carried in the lining of his high hat was his chief reliance in regard to his business affairs. He was one of the founders of the National Broadway bank.—Town Topics.

Yours truly,

CHARLES CLARK.

There are many people who, like Mr. Clark, have found difficulty in doing their work owing to a severe attack of stomach trouble. Are you one of these? If so, don't allow yourself to continue in the rut of sickness and unhappiness. My limbs and body were badly swollen and I became very weak. I had been under treatment by the best physicians of Elgin, and was growing worse every day. They could do nothing to relieve me, and, in fact, gave me up to die. As soon as I consulted Dr. Miles he showed me that my doctors had failed to understand my case and said he could help me. I was wonderful how soon relief came. It was almost instantaneous. I was soon a well man. The cure was truly wonderful, considering my age, which was 70 at that time. I am now 75 years old, and able to enjoy life."

Mr. Groce is only one of the many hundreds of remarkable cures effected by Dr. Miles' discovery regarding the "Brain Centers." The doctor's reputation as a specialist is national. His Heart and Dropsy Cure is a marvel. Persons afflicted with disease of the heart, stomach, kidneys, nerves or dropsy, which often complicate each case, should write to him. He will send you one thousand testimonials, his Heart and Dropsy Book, an Examination Chart and a $3.75 treatment free. Address Dr. Miles, 652 to 572 Main street, Elkhart, Ind.

Rufus Story, a peculiar man and a New York merchant, daringly manipulated the coffee and spice markets in the middle of the nineteenth century. On one occasion when he owned a large quantity of coffee the market rapidly declined. His ruin was predicted. "What are you going to do?" I asked him.

"Why," he said, with a shrewd wink, "I shall buy several thousand bags more and steady the market."

He came out of this speculation and almost every other in which he embarked with success. He commenced business in butter and eggs and became the master of the spice market of the world. Once he imported an entire cargo of pepper. He had only a dim idea of where coffee and spice came from, and usually spoke of the places as "way off." His books were kept by single entry, as he refused to understand any other system. A small paper memorandum carried in the lining of his high hat was his chief reliance in regard to his business affairs. He was one of the founders of the National Broadway bank—Town Topics.

CHARLES CLARK TELLS SOME VERY INTERESTING FACTS

Story From Well Known Akron Man Is Remarkable.

No one in the world is more to be pitied than a sufferer from stomach trouble, as stomach trouble means the undermining of the entire system, and, therefore, untold misery results. The following letter from Mr. Charles Clark, an employee of the American Cereal Co., of Akron, O., should prove of interest to all sufferers from troubles of this character.

The Cooper Medicine Co.

Dear Sirs:—Over six years ago I began to suffer from stomach trouble and have since been unable to get relief until I tried one bottle of your New Discovery. I have now taken three bottles in all and consider myself permanently cured and able to work every day.

Yours truly,

CHARLES CLARK.

There are many people who, like Mr. Clark, have found difficulty in doing their work owing to a severe attack of stomach trouble. Are you one of these? If so, don't allow yourself to continue in the rut of sickness and unhappiness. Get a bottle of Dr. Cooper's New Discovery from your druggist and see how quickly it will bring back to you the bloom of health. If it fails your money will be refunded.

East Liverpool railway to be the cause of much of the damage on the Lisbon road and other locations in the city, the board had General Manager Healy appear before it last evening and asked him for an explanation. Mr. Healy was willing to do his part in any repair, but wanted to know the exact conditions and arrangements that were made to inspect the streets over which his line is laid.

William Swindles appeared before the board and demanded that the Voder Pottery company be compelled to desist in the practice of throwing straw and other rubbish in front of his premises. The matter was referred to the street commissioner, who was also instructed to see that no more dumping is done at the foot of Second street and at the corner of Franklin and Seventh streets. Dr. Ogden, the health officer, asked that the practice be stopped.

Attorney Frank Grosshans was also before the board in behalf of the residents of North street. He wanted the board to sanction the circulation of a petition for the paving of the street. The board granted the request.

SOCIAL EVENTS

The entertainment which will be given next Tuesday evening, April 5, in Y. M. C. A. hall, promises to be one of the well attended and noteworthy events of the approaching week. The affair will be given under the auspices of the ladies' auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A., by Mrs. T. H. Tompkinson and the best local talent. Mr. Lee, of Richmond, Va., will also give several interesting selections on the program. The stage of the Y. M. C. The lecture room of Y. M. C. A. will, with comfort, seat about 300, and fully that many citizens will be eager to purchase tickets. The proceeds will be used for the improvement of the Y. M. C. A. building.

Pink Tea to Be Given.

It was decided some time ago by the Woman's Home Missionary society of the First M. E. church to give a pink tea, but it has been the desire of this society and the Epworth League of the church to combine their efforts and interests and give an entertainment. It will be given on April 14 and will probably retain the form of opal tea and the ladies of the missionary society will serve splendid refreshments. Mrs. Alvin Bulger is chairman of the committee on refreshments. Miss Lena Howard is chairman of the program committee, which will be furnished by the Epworth League. The program will consist of vocal and instrumental selections.

Reception Arranged.

The entertainment which was to be given by the Christian Endeavor society of the First Presbyterian church has been postponed from April 7. On that evening the Westminster bible class of E. D. Moore will tender a reception to the Young People's bible class of Supt. R. E. Rayman. It has been the purpose of Mr. Moore's class for some time to entertain Prof. Rayman's class, and this event will be a thoroughly enjoyable one. An interesting program of a musical and literary nature will be arranged. These are two of the largest Sunday school classes in the First Presbyterian church.

Left Over From Bazaar.

There is an assortment of articles left over from the hospital bazaar. They consist of a number and variety of aprons, domestic goods and fancy work articles. A committee of ladies are in charge of these unsold articles and will place them on sale this evening at the Y. M. C. A. The sale of articles for the hospital will in all probability close out this evening. On last Monday evening this plan was adopted for the disposal of the remaining goods, and the committee succeeded in selling $25 worth for the benefit of the hospital. A good patronage is desired this evening at the closing out sale.

Appomattox Day.

General Lyon post, G. A. R., held a business meeting last evening. It was decided to have the Appomattox Day celebration on the evening of Saturday, April 9, instead of Friday evening, as formerly announced. The supper will be from 5 until 8 o'clock after which a program, patriotic and interesting, will be rendered. The W. R. C. ladies also met yesterday afternoon and transacted the business of the organization. They also considered the plan and arrangements for Appomattox Day.

Camera Club Exhibit.

The Camera club is planning for an exhibition of pictures to be given in the very near future. The exhibition will be held at the Carnegie library, where quite a number of fine pictures will be displayed. During the coming week the members of the club will be busy in hanging the pictures and in making preparations for the exhibition. Last year a similar exhibition was held and the Camera club were successful in interesting a large number of the East Liverpool citizens in their art work.

Luther League Meeting.

The Luther League of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church will hold a meeting next Friday evening in the church. Only the business of the society will be taken up. On Wednesday evening the Mission League of the same church will meet and questions on missionary topics will be discussed, besides the regular business of the league.

STREET REPAIRS WILL BE MADE

East Liverpool railway to be the cause of much of the damage on the Lisbon road and other locations in the city, the board had General Manager Healy appear before it last evening and asked him for an explanation. Mr. Healy was willing to do his part in any repair, but wanted to know the exact conditions and arrangements that were made to inspect the streets over which his line is laid.

William Swindles appeared before the board and demanded that the Vordy Pottery company be compelled to desist in the practice of throwing straw and other rubbish in front of his premises. The matter was referred to the street commissioner, who was also instructed to see that no more dumping is done at the foot of Second street and at the corner of Franklin and Seventh streets. Dr. Ogden, the health officer, asked that the practice be stopped.

Attorney Frank Grosshans was also before the board in behalf of the residents of North street. He wanted the board to sanction the circulation of a petition for the paving of the street. The board granted the request.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Attractive Entertainment.

The entertainment which will be given next Tuesday evening, April 5, in Y. M. C. A. hall, promises to be one of the well attended and noteworthy events of the approaching week. The affair will be given under the auspices of the ladies' auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A., by Mrs. T. H. Tompkinson and the best local talent. Mr. Lee, of Richmond, Va., will also give several interesting selections on the program. The stage of the Y. M. C. A. hall is being much enlarged and improved by Contractor Nease and the platform will be beautiful in electrical light effects, which feature of the entertainment will be in charge of a local hardware firm. The lecture room of Y. M. C. A. will, with comfort, seat about 300, and fully that many citizens will be eager to purchase tickets. The proceeds will be used for the improvement of the Y. M. C. A. building.

Pink Tea to Be Given.

It was decided some time ago by the Woman's Home Missionary society of the First M. E. church to give a pink tea, but it has been the desire of this society and the Epworth League of the church to combine their efforts and interests and give an entertainment. It will be given on April 14 and will probably retain the form of a pink tea and the ladies of the missionary society will serve splendid refreshments. Mrs. Alvin Bulger is chairman of the committee on refreshments. Miss Lena Howard is chairman of the program committee, which will be furnished by the Epworth League. The program will consist of vocal and instrumental selections.

Reception Arranged.

The entertainment which was to be given by the Christian Endeavor society of the First Presbyterian church has been postponed from April 7. On that evening the Westminster bible class of E. D. Moore will tender a reception to the Young People's bible class of Supt. R. E. Rayman. It has been the purpose of Mr. Moore's class for some time to entertain Prof. Rayman's class, and this event will be a thoroughly enjoyable one. An interesting program of a musical and literary nature will be arranged. These are two of the largest Sunday school classes in the First Presbyterian church.

Left Over From Bazaar.

There is an assortment of articles left over from the hospital bazaar. They consist of a number and variety of aprons, domestic goods and fancy work articles. A committee of ladies are in charge of these unsold articles and will place them on sale this evening at the Y. M. C. A. The sale of articles for the hospital will in all probability close out this evening. On last Monday evening this plan was adopted for the disposal of the remaining goods, and the committee succeeded in selling $25 worth for the benefit of the hospital. A good patronage is desired this evening at the closing out sale.

Appomattox Day.

General Lyon post, G. A. R., held a business meeting last evening. It was decided to have the Appomattox Day celebration on the evening of Saturday, April 9, instead of Friday evening, as formerly announced. The supper will be from 5 until 8 o'clock after which a program, patriotic and interesting, will be rendered. The W. R. C. ladies also met yesterday afternoon and transacted the business of the organization. They also considered the plan and arrangements for Appomattox Day.

Camera Club Exhibit.

The Camera club is planning for an exhibition of pictures to be given in the very near future. The exhibition will be held at the Carnegie library, where quite a number of fine pictures will be displayed. During the coming week the members of the club will be busy in hanging the pictures and in making preparations for the exhibition. Last year a similar exhibition was held and the Camera club were successful in interesting a large number of the East Liverpool citizens in their art work.

Luther League Meeting.

The Lutheran League of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church will hold a meeting next Friday evening in the church. Only the business of the society will be taken up. On Wednesday evening the Mission League of the same church will meet and questions on missionary topics will be discussed, besides the regular business of the league.

Entertained Sunday School Class.

Miss Ada B. Ashbaugh last evening entertained the members of Miss Maud Baum's Sunday school class of the First M. E. church at her home on Lisbon street. The class is made up of ten young ladies, and Miss Ashbaugh, view.

An Injunction Asked to Prevent the Municipality from Occupying a Roadway.

Lisbon, April 2.—(Special.)—Herman C. McElvane has entered suit in court here against Henry Herbert, Benton R. Smith and the city of Wellsville, asking for an injunction restraining the defendants from using part of his premises as a roadway.

Lisbon, April 2.—(Special.)—Officer Clifford Dawson, of East Liverpool, brought Thompson Hineman to the county jail yesterday afternoon. Hineman was bound over in the court of Mayor Weaver in the sum of $100 for larceny. John E. East Liverpool railway to be the cause of much of the damage on the Lisbon road and other locations in the city, the board had General Manager Healy appear before it last evening and asked him for an explanation. Mr. Healy was willing to do his part in any repair, but wanted to know the exact conditions and arrangements that were made to inspect the streets over which his line is laid.

William Swindles appeared before the board and demanded that the Voderrey Pottery company be compelled to desist in the practice of throwing straw and other rubbish in front of his premises. The matter was referred to the street commissioner, who was also instructed to see that no more dumping is done at the foot of Second street and at the corner of Franklin and Seventh streets. Dr. Ogden, the health officer, asked that the practice be stopped.

Attorney Frank Grosshans was also before the board in behalf of the residents of North street. He wanted the board to sanction the circulation of a petition for the paving of the street. The board granted the request.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Attractive Entertainment.

The entertainment which will be given next Tuesday evening, April 5, in Y. M. C. A. hall, promises to be one of the well attended and noteworthy events of the approaching week. The affair will be given under the auspices of the ladies' auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A., by Mrs. T. H. Tompkinson and the best local talent. Mr. Lee, of Richmond, Va., will also give several interesting selections on the program. The stage of the Y. M. C. A. hall is being much enlarged and improved by Contractor Nease and the platform will be beautiful in electrical light effects, which feature of the entertainment will be in charge of a local hardware firm. The lecture room of Y. M. C. A. will, with comfort, seat about 300, and fully that many citizens will be eager to purchase tickets. The proceeds will be used for the improvement of the Y. M. C. A. building.

Pink Tea to Be Given.

It was decided some time ago by the Woman's Home Missionary society of the First M. E. church to give a pink tea, but it has been the desire of this society and the Epworth League of the church to combine their efforts and interests and give an entertainment. It will be given on April 14 and will probably retain the form of a pink tea and the ladies of the missionary society will serve splendid refreshments. Mrs. Alvin Bulger is chairman of the committee on refreshments. Miss Lena Howard is chairman of the program committee, which will be furnished by the Epworth League. The program will consist of vocal and instrumental selections.

Reception Arranged.

The entertainment which was to be given by the Christian Endeavor society of the First Presbyterian church has been postponed from April 7. On that evening the Westminster bible class of E. D. Moore will tender a reception to the Young People's bible class of Supt. R. E. Rayman. It has been the purpose of Mr. Moore's class for some time to entertain Prof. Rayman's class, and this event will be a thoroughly enjoyable one. An interesting program of a musical and literary nature will be arranged. These are two of the largest Sunday school classes in the First Presbyterian church.

Left Over From Bazaar.

There is an assortment of articles left over from the hospital bazaar. They consist of a number and variety of aprons, domestic goods and fancy work articles. A committee of ladies are in charge of these unsold articles and will place them on sale this evening at the Y. M. C. A. The sale of articles for the hospital will in all probability close out this evening. On last Monday evening this plan was adopted for the disposal of the remaining goods, and the committee succeeded in selling $25 worth for the benefit of the hospital. A good patronage is desired this evening at the closing out sale.

Appomattox Day.

General Lyon post, G. A. R., held a business meeting last evening. It was decided to have the Appomattox Day celebration on the evening of Saturday, April 9, instead of Friday evening, as formerly announced. The supper will be from 5 until 8 o'clock after which a program, patriotic and interesting, will be rendered. The W. R. C. ladies also met yesterday afternoon and transacted the business of the organization. They also considered the plan and arrangements for Appomattox Day.

Camera Club Exhibit.

The Camera club is planning for an exhibition of pictures to be given in the very near future. The exhibition will be held at the Carnegie library, where quite a number of fine pictures will be displayed. During the coming week the members of the club will be busy in hanging the pictures and in making preparations for the exhibition. Last year a similar exhibition was held and the Camera club were successful in interesting a large number of the East Liverpool citizens in their art work.

Luther League Meeting.

The Luther League of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church will hold a meeting next Friday evening in the church. Only the business of the society will be taken up. On Wednesday evening the Mission League of the same church will meet and questions on missionary topics will be discussed, besides the regular business of the league.

OHIO CITIES FLOODED

Grand Reservoir at Celina Threatens to Destroy Life and Property.

MANY STREAMS OUT OF BOUNDS

Findlay, Lima, Youngstown and a Dozen Other Towns Report Damage from High Water—Mills Shut Down and Thousands Are Idle.

Celina, O., April 2.—The apprehension regarding the banks of the Grand reservoir has increased. The water continues rising, but the greatest danger is believed to exist on account of the high wind that has been blowing since sundown and is continually getting stronger. The gale is from the west and is driving the water against the east bank around St. Marys, where the bank has already been weakened. A large force is at work trying to save the locks at the bulkhead. St. Marys is at the east end of the reservoir and Celina at the west end. Flood signals have been given not only around the reservoir but also to people along the canal to be ready to vacate. The St. Marys river has broken its record, doing much damage to the railroads and other property.

The Grand reservoir is the largest artificial body of water in the world, being 10 miles long and from two to four miles wide and covering about 20,000 acres. Its banks are from 10 to 20 feet high and it was constructed on the summit between the Ohio river and the lakes so as to feed the canal both ways. Having outlets into the Maumee and the Wabash rivers, its waters take opposite directions, and in the event of a serious break the damages would be beyond description. The state was engaged from 1837 to 1845 in constructing this great lake, and it has been the scene of many troubles. All sorts of craft ply its waters and it is a great resort for fishermen.

The superintendent of the canal has notified the people occupying houses on the south side of the Lake Erie and Western railway, in this city, to vacate at once.

Canton, O., April 2.—Train service into this city has been practically suspended. There has been no mail service since early morning. There are washouts on all sides of the city. Ralph Edelman, 13 years old, was drowned in East creek and his body, which was carried away by the swift current, was not recovered.

Troy, O., April 2.—The Miami river reached a higher stage than ever known before. The levee above the state dam broke and the water came rushing down upon the city without a moment's warning. That section of Troy known as Nineveh was soon inundated, and the water last night stood four to six feet deep in the streets. The residents were rescued in boats and many had narrow escapes from drowning.

Bucyrus, O., April 2.—All records for 30 years were broken here by the high water in the Sandusky river. The northern part of the city was cut off, and buildings along the bottoms were swept away.

Lima, O., April 2.—Ottawa river, which runs through the center of this city, is higher than has ever been known. Two thousand persons are either homeless or confined to the second stories or roofs of their homes to escape the raging waters. Fully 500 houses are submerged and many have been washed from their foundations.

Piqua, O., April 2.—The hydraulic canal, which supplies this city with water, has overflowed its banks. Two hundred residences are surrounded by water.

Delaware, O., April 2.—High waters are raging here and the loss to property will be great.

DAYS OF DIZZINESS

Come to Hundreds of East Liverpool People.

There are days of dizziness; Spells of headache, side ache, back ache; Sometimes rheumatic pains; Often urinary disorders. All tell you plainly the kidneys are sick.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure all kidney ills.

Here is proof in East Liverpool. Henry Bevington, who resides at the corner of Avondale and Bradshaw avenues, says: "During three years I had attacks of dull steady aching in the back. When stooping or sitting for some time it would change to a quick pang as I arose to an upright position. My back tired out easily when walking or standing long and I often had headaches, dizziness and in the mornings great depression. I took medicines, many of them, but found Doan's Kidney Pills sold at the W. & W. Pharmacy to be more suitable for my complaint than anything I had ever tried."

Sold for 50 cents a box by all dealers. Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other. Sold by W. & W. Pharmacy.

REPORT IS DEMANDED.

Friends of Brannock Local Option Bill Pressing for Action.

Columbus, O., April 2.—The next hearing on the Brannock local option bill by the senate committee will be held Tuesday. The friends of the measure were insistent that the committee meet Monday night, but fear was expressed that there would not be a quorum.

The committee have been besieged by friends of the bill. All demanded a speedy report. They wish the committee to have the bill back by Thursday at the latest.

There is small likelihood that the senate will adopt the house resolution providing for an adjournment on the 8th instant. The senate committee on banks and banking has reported the Moore bill regulating state banks. It is so amended as to do away with the provision requiring the examination of banks, the creation of a state superintendent of banks being abolished. Another concession to the banking interests is a stipulation that any such bank may loan to any one firm to the extent of 25 per cent of its capital stock, whereas at present the limit is 10 per cent. This provision, however, has been constantly ignored by the banks.

SCALE AGREED UPON.

Miners and Operators at Altoona Fix Wages for One Year.

Altoona, Pa., April 2.—After a week's stubborn fight the operators and miners last night agreed upon the scale to be paid in the Central Pennsylvania field for one year.

The basis of the settlement is for 62 cents for a gross pick-mined ton, which proposition was offered by the miners' members of the joint scale committee. It is a reduction of 6.08 per cent over last year's rate of 65 cents for a gross ton.

The same reduction affects the machine cutters, loaders and scrapers and all other labor, both inside and outside the mines receive the Indianapolis cut of 5.55 per cent. Last year's differential of 5.9 of the pick-mining rate, with 1/2 cent added, continues for another year.

Before the scale can be signed it will be necessary for the miners' delegates to ratify it. They meet today for that purpose.

THREE MORE ARE DEAD.

Explosion in Squib Factory Causes Nine Fatalities.

Seranton, April 2.—Two more names have been added to the list of victims of the explosion in the squib factory at Priceburg, making the total number of fatalities nine.

Six girls were killed outright. Elizabeth Howey, aged 16, died later. Oscar Azer, foreman of the factory, aged 31, died at noon. Last night at 10 o'clock Miss Mary Gilgallon, formerly of the factory, passed away. Burns and internal injuries were the immediate causes of death in each instance. Martha Hildebrand, Sophie Paulds, two of the factory girls, and Lily Callahan, a 3-year-old child of the family living over the factory, are in a critical condition.

Coroner Salter continued his investigation of the accident and will impanel a jury. The remains will be viewed and then the jury will adjourn until the injured survivors are sufficiently recovered to give testimony.

RAN INTO A FIRE.

Train on Cuban Railroad Meets With Peculiar Mishap.

Santiago, Cuba, April 2.—The Havana express, on the Cuba railroad, ran into the flames from one of the company's wood piles burning alongside the track east of Las Tunas. A sleeper, two coaches and an observation car were burned. The mail, baggage and express consignments were saved. No passengers were injured.

The engineer of the train discovered the fire on passing a curve and when it was impossible to stop the train he attempted to speed through the flames from the burning ties, but they caused the rails to spread and consequently the train, which was crowded with passengers, was derailed in the midst of the flames. Among the passengers was Terazine, the Italian opera singer. A relief train brought all the passengers and the crew of the train here.

CHURCH CONFESSED.

Tells St. Louis Police How He Cut Benefactors' Throats.

St. Louis, April 2.—William E. Church, who was arrested in Philadelphia and brought here to answer the charge of having murdered Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Yeater, his benefactors, at Warrenton, Mo., last August, has confessed that he committed the double crime just because he felt impelled to.

"I just went up to their room and cut their throats with my razor while they were asleep," he said.

The couple had adopted him when he was a baby and had raised him. He told the police that he had believed the Yeaters had made a will leaving their property to a stepson, and this so incensed him that he decided to kill them.

100 CITIZENS THREATEN TO LYNCH A FUGITIVE.

Indiana, Pa., April 2.—This town is excited over a shooting affray and a crowd of citizens are scouring the neighborhood in search of a negro who is blamed for shooting Yank Jenison, a young man, as the result of a dispute. The shooting occurred on one of the main streets and Jenison is believed to be mortally wounded.

NEW RAILROAD

IN EASTERN OHIO

A Line to Run from Lorain to Pennsylvania via Youngstown.

Youngstown, April 2.—Another railroad will soon be added to the resources of the city. The new line is to be constructed from Lorain to the Pennsylvania state line, where it will connect with a road built by capitalists from that commonwealth. Papers of incorporation have been issued from Columbus and appropriation papers are now in the hands of the probate court.

The project is backed by millions and some of the wealthiest and most progressive business men of the city are furnishing finances. The officers are: Will H. Park, president; John Stambaugh, vice president; W. F. Ritter, secretary; Robert Bentley, treasurer; Grant Whitlair, Henry Stambaugh, S. D. L. Jackson, E. L. Ford, J. W. Fawcett, directors.

Rumors of a new railroad from Lorain to Pittsburgh have been heard for several months, but this is the first definite information given out. It has been stated that the Jones & Laughlin company, Pittsburgh, was seeking a line from the lake to their works. Other statements have been to the effect that the Wabash was seeking an entry here. Officials of the Lake Erie & Eastern, as the new line will be known, deny they have any connection with the Laughlin company or the Wabash and claim they are building the line strictly for themselves.

The plans call for a line from Lorain to a point on the Ohio and Pennsylvania state line near where the Mahoning river crosses. This is just west of Lowellville. Officials of the company refuse to state where the road goes after leaving Ohio, but it is certainly not to end in the woods there. It is learned from a reliable source that a company will be organized in Pennsylvania to construct a road to meet the Ohio line. This will give it direct connection with Pittsburgh.

Seeing what Hamlin's Wizard Oil had done for others I tried a bottle and in two days I was able to work. W. L. west creek discovered that there were a lot of snakes out getting a whip of fitful sunshine. Eight boys started in at the South street bridge and hunted snakes along the Duerber works bank up to the Tuscarawas street bridge, and they killed by actual count 87 reptiles measuring in length from one to four feet. The greater number were garter snakes, water snakes and common varieties, but several were large black snakes that showed some fight when approached by the gang of slayers.

A number of the largest were taken to the South street bridge and placed upon the sidewalk just before the Duerber works employees went home to dinner. Among the workers were hundreds of girls, and when they reached the bridge and saw the snakes there were screams that could be heard all over that end of the city. The girls gathered up their skirts and skedaddled across the street and ran as though pursued by the Old Nick. Even some of the men were a little leary about crossing past the dead reptiles.

Where the snakes came from is a mystery. They may have a winter's den somewhere in that neighborhood, or they may have been washed down by the recent flood from some of the swamps north of the town.

COAL SCARCE IN IOWA.

Miners' Refusal to Work Causes Much Inconvenience.

Des Moines, April 2.—Iowa is confronted with a coal famine as a result of the lockout which closed every mine in the state and a section of Missouri. Not a pound of coal is to be had for sale in Des Moines and other cities of the state are similarly affected.

Local dealers placed rush orders with Kansas City, Omaha and other neighboring cities, but it is only possible to secure it in limited quantities. Unless the situation is improved within the next three weeks manufacturers will be compelled to shut down for want of fuel.

Severe Storm in Ohio.

Celina, O., April 2.—The worst electric and rain storm in years visited Celina last night, a steady downpour for two hours submerging the streets and increasing the height of Lake Mercer to the danger point. There is fear that this stream will overflow its banks. Several duck hunters were caught on the lake in the storm and may be lost.

TOGO IS PERSISTENT

Reported to Be Making Another Effort to Bottle the Russians.

LAND BATTLE IS EXPECTED

Air at Tokio Charged With Reports of Encounters—Japan Forwards Anonymous War Correspondents to Front—Their Destination Kept Secret.

Tokio, April 2.—Admiral Togo is engaged in another desperate attack on Port Arthur in an attempt to bottle up the Russian warships there, according to announcement here.

Wednesday night Admiral Togo made a vigorous attack on the forts. While this was going on he had soundings made to ascertain just where the passages to the harbor had been left clear. Four vessels had been sunk at the entrance of the harbor on the last attempt of the Japanese to bottle up the Russians, and the channel left was too narrow for any but small ships. However, even this channel is likely to be closed within a few hours.

In the meantime news is hourly expected of an engagement, probably on Korean territory. There are rumors that a battle has been fought, others that it is now being waged, but so far no official report of an engagement has been given out.

Tokio, April 2.—Information has been received here from a private source that the Japanese troops, after dislodging the Russians at Chong-Ju, about 50 miles northwest of Ping Yang, on March 28, rested for one day and then advanced to Yong Chun, about 45 miles west of Chong-Ju. After a brief engagement they drove the enemy further north, the Russians retreating toward Unsan, a town 50 miles northeast of Yong Chun.

The Marquis Ito has returned from his special mission to the emperor of Korea.

Correspondents Off to the Front.

The first party of foreign correspondents left Tokio for the front today. It consisted of 16 newspaper men, mostly British and Americans. From here the party goes to Miji, leaving there April 6 on a Japanese transport for their destination, which is kept secret.

The order of the Japanese authorities unleashing the correspondents was joyously received. It ended a long siege on the part of the correspondents at Tokio. They appreciated the necessity for the government maintaining secrecy in regard to the movements of the troops and their disposition for the campaign, but the newspaper men chafed under their extended idleness.

A crowd gathered at the Shinbashi station, where the correspondents went on board a train, and cheered the departing writers.

Seoul, April 2.—Brigadier General Allen, United States military observer with the Japanese army, has returned here from Ping Yang. He says the roads in Northern Korea are in very bad condition and that the Russians have lost excellent opportunities to take advantage of the natural obstacles offered by the country to oppose the Japanese advance. General Allen believes that the Russians intend to make a stand at the Yalu.

Russian cavalry in much distress is retiring toward Wiju. They are cutting down telegraph poles to use as fuel and their horses are dying for lack of proper food.

Victory at Port Arthur.

St. Petersburg, April 2.—Viceroy Alexieff is at Port Arthur on a tour of inspection. With Admiral Makaroff, General Stessel and Smirnov he visited the battleships Petropavlovsk, Retvizan and Czarvitch, the protected cruiser Pallada and other ships in the harbor and later conferred gold swords of honor with St. George's ribbons inscribed "for gallantry" upon the captains of the cruisers Bayan, Novik and Askold.

It is believed the Japanese are preparing to repeat their attempts on Port Arthur.

Lieutenant Newton A. McNally, assigned as United States naval attaché with the Russian navy at Port Arthur and Captain William V. Judson of the United States engineer corps, who is to be attached to General Kuropatkin's headquarters, left here, accompanied by Colonel Pappadoff, the Bulgarian military attaché, and two Swiss attaches. They will go direct to Vice Admiral Alexieff's headquarters at Mukden, where their future movements will be determined. Both the American officers speak in the highest praise of the treatment accorded them here.

The emperor has ordered the Korietz, Varaz, Stereguschitchi and Yenisei to be stricken from the navy list. The Korietz and Varaz were sunk at Chemulpo by the Japanese, the Stereguschitchi off Port Arthur in one of Admiral Togo's attacks, and the Yenisei was blown up while laying mines in the entrance to Port Arthur.

OHIO CITIES FLOODED

Grand Reservoir at Celina Threatens to Destroy Life and Property.

Findlay, Lima, Youngstown and a Dozen Other Towns Report Damage from High Water—Mills Shut Down and Thousands Are Idle.

Celina, O., April 2.—The apprehension regarding the banks of the Grand reservoir has increased. The water continues rising, but the greatest danger is believed to exist on account of the high wind that has been blowing since sundown and is continually getting stronger. The gale is from the west and is driving the water against the east bank around St. Marys, where the bank has already been weakened. A large force is at work trying to save the locks at the bulkhead. St. Marys is at the east end of the reservoir and Celina at the west end. Flood signals have been given not only around the reservoir but also to people along the canal to be ready to vacate. The St. Marys river has broken its record, doing much damage to the railroads and other property.

The Grand reservoir is the largest artificial body of water in the world, being 10 miles long and from two to four miles wide and covering about 20,000 acres. Its banks are from 10 to 20 feet high and it was constructed on the summit between the Ohio river and the lakes so as to feed the canal both ways. Having outlets into the Maumee and the Wabash rivers, its waters take opposite directions, and in the event of a serious break the damages would be beyond description. The state was engaged from 1837 to 1845 in constructing this great lake, and it has been the scene of many troubles. All sorts of craft ply its waters and it is a great resort for fishermen.

The superintendent of the canal has notified the people occupying houses on the south side of the Lake Erie and Western railway, in this city, to vacate at once.

Canton, O., April 2.—Train service into this city has been practically suspended. There has been no mail service since early morning. There are washouts on all sides of the city. Ralph Edelman, 13 years old, was drowned in East creek and his body, which was carried away by the swift current, was not recovered.

Troy, O., April 2.—The Miami river reached a higher stage than ever known before. The levee above the state dam broke and the water came rushing down upon the city without a moment's warning. That section of Troy known as Nineveh was soon inundated, and the water last night stood four to six feet deep in the streets. The residents were rescued in boats and many had narrow escapes from drowning.

Bucyrus, O., April 2.—All records for 30 years were broken here by the high water in the Sandusky river. The northern part of the city was cut off, and buildings along the bottoms were swept away.

Lima, O., April 2.—Ottawa river, which runs through the center of this city, is higher than has ever been known. Two thousand persons are either homeless or confined to the second stories or roofs of their homes to escape the raging waters. Fully 500 houses are submerged and many have been washed from their foundations.

Piqua, O., April 2.—The hydraulic canal, which supplies this city with water, has overflowed its banks. Two hundred residences are surrounded by water.

Delaware, O., April 2.—High waters are raging here and the loss to property will be great.

My back tired out easily when walking or standing long and I often had headaches, dizziness and in the mornings great depression. REPORT IS DEMANDED.

Friends of Brannock Local Option Bill Pressing for Action.

Columbus, O., April 2.—The next hearing on the Brannock local option bill by the senate committee will be held Tuesday. The friends of the measure were insistent that the committee meet Monday night, but fear was expressed that there would not be a quorum.

The committee have been besieged by friends of the bill. All demanded a speedy report. They wish the committee to have the bill back by Thursday at the latest.

There is small likelihood that the senate will adopt the house resolution providing for an adjournment on the 8th instant. The senate committee on banks and banking has reported the Moore bill regulating state banks. It is so amended as to do away with the provision requiring the examination of banks, the creation of a state superintendent of banks being abolished. Another concession to the banking interests is a stipulation that any such bank may loan to any one firm to the extent of 25 per cent of its capital stock, whereas at present the limit is 10 per cent. This provision, however, has been constantly ignored by the banks.

SCALE AGREED UPON.

Miners and Operators at Altoona Fix Wages for One Year.

Altoona, Pa., April 2.—After a week's stubborn fight the operators and miners last night agreed upon the scale to be paid in the Central Pennsylvania field for one year.

The basis of the settlement is for 62 cents for a gross pick-mined ton, which proposition was offered by the miners' members of the joint scale committee. It is a reduction of 6.08 per cent over last year's rate of 65 cents for a gross ton.

The same reduction affects the machine cutters, loaders and scrapers and all other labor, both inside and outside the mines receive the Indianapolis cut of 5.55 per cent. Last year's differential of 5-9 of the pick mining rate, with 1/2 cent added, continues for another year.

Before the scale can be signed it will be necessary for the miners' delegates to ratify it. They meet today for that purpose.

THREE MORE ARE DEAD.

Explosion in Squib Factory Causes Nine Fatalities.

Scranton, April 2.—Two more names have been added to the list of victims of the explosion in the squib factory at Priceburg, making the total number of fatalities nine.

Six girls were killed outright. Elizabeth Howey, aged 16, died later. Oscar Azer, foreman of the factory, aged 31, died at noon. Last night at 10 o'clock Miss Mary Gilgallon, forelady of the factory, passed away. Burns and internal injuries were the immediate causes of death in each instance. Martha Hildebrand, Sophie Faulds, two of the factory girls, and Lilly Callahan, a 3-year-old child of the family living over the factory, are in a critical condition.

Coroner Salley continued his investigation of the accident and will impanel a jury. The remains will be viewed and then the jury will adjourn until the injured survivors are sufficiently recovered to give testimony.

RAN INTO A FIRE.

Train on Cuban Railroad Meets With Peculiar Mishap.

Santiago, Cuba, April 2.—The Havana express, on the Cuba railroad, ran into the flames from one of the company's wood piles burning alongside the track east of Las Tunas. A sleeper, two coaches and an observation car were burned. The mail, baggage and express consignments were saved. No passengers were injured.

The engineer of the train discovered the fire on passing a curve and when it was impossible to stop the train he attempted to speed through the flames from the burning ties, but they caused the rails to spread and consequently the train, which was crowded with passengers, was derailed in the midst of the flames. Among the passengers was Terazine, the Italian opera singer. A relief train brought all the passengers and the crew of the train here.

CHURCH CONFESSED.

Tells St. Louis Police How He Cut Benefactors' Throats.

St. Louis, April 2.—William E. Church, who was arrested in Philadelphia and brought here to answer the charge of having murdered Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Yeater, his benefactors, at Warrenton, Mo., last August, has confessed that he committed the double crime just because he felt impelled to.

"I just went up to their room and cut their throats with my razor while they were asleep," he said. The couple had adopted him when he was a baby and had raised him. He told the police that he had believed the Yeaters had made a will leaving their property to a stepson, and this so incensed him that he decided to kill them.

NEW RAILROAD IN EASTERN OHIO

A Line to Run from Lorain to Pennsylvania via Youngstown.

Youngstown, April 2.—Another railroad will soon be added to the resources of the city. The new line is to be constructed from Lorain to the Pennsylvania state line, where it will connect with a road built by capitalists from that commonwealth. Papers of incorporation have been issued from Columbus and appropriation papers are now in the hands of the probate court.

The project is backed by millions and some of the wealthiest and most progressive business men of the city are furnishing finances. The officers are: Will H. Park, president; John Stambaugh, vice president; W. F. Ritter, secretary; Robert Bentley, treasurer; Grant Whitlar, Henry Stambaugh, S. D. L. Jackson, E. L. Ford, J. W. Fawcett, directors.

Rumors of a new railroad from Lorain to Pittsburgh have been heard for several months, but this is the first definite information given out. It has been stated that the Jones & Laughlin company, Pittsburgh, was seeking a line from the lake to their works. Other statements have been to the effect that the Wabash was seeking an entry here. Officials of the Lake Erie & Eastern, as the new line will be known, deny they have any connection with the Laughlin company or the Wabash and claim they are building the line strictly for themselves.

The plans call for a line from Lorain to a point on the Ohio and Pennsylvania state line near where the Mahoning river crosses. This is just west of Lowellville. Officials of the company refuse to state where the road goes after leaving Ohio, but it is certainly not to end in the woods there. It is learned from a reliable source that a company will be organized in Pennsylvania to construct a road to meet the Ohio line. This will give it direct connection with Pittsburgh.

OHIO CITIES FLOODED

Grand Reservoir at Celina Threatens to Destroy Life and Property.

Findlay, Lima, Youngstown and a Dozen Other Towns Report Damage from High Water—Mills Shut Down and Thousands Are Idle.

Celina, O., April 2.—The apprehension regarding the banks of the Grand reservoir has increased. The water continues rising, but the greatest danger is believed to exist on account of the high wind that has been blowing since sundown and is continually getting stronger. The gale is from the west and is driving the water against the east bank around St. Marys, where the bank has already been weakened. A large force is at work trying to save the locks at the bulkhead. St. Marys is at the east end of the reservoir and Celina at the west end. Flood signals have been given not only around the reservoir but also to people along the canal to be ready to vacate. The St. Marys river has broken its record, doing much damage to the railroads and other property. The Grand reservoir is the largest artificial body of water in the world, being 10 miles long and from two to four miles wide and covering about 20,000 acres. Its banks are from 10 to 20 feet high and it was constructed on the summit between the Ohio river and the lakes so as to feed the canal both ways. Having outlets into the Maumee and the Wabash rivers, its waters take opposite directions, and in the event of a serious break the damages would be beyond description. The state was engaged from 1837 to 1845 in constructing this great lake, and it has been the scene of many troubles. All sorts of craft ply its waters and it is a great resort for fishermen.

The superintendent of the canal has notified the people occupying houses on the south side of the Lake Erie and Western railway, in this city, to vacate at once.

Canton, O., April 2.—Train service into this city has been practically suspended. There has been no mail service since early morning. There are washouts on all sides of the city. Ralph Edelman, 13 years old, was drowned in East creek and his body, which was carried away by the swift current, was not recovered.

Troy, O., April 2.—The Miami river reached a higher stage than ever known before. The levee above the state dam broke and the water came rushing down upon the city without a moment's warning. That section of Troy known as Nineveh was soon inundated, and the water last night stood four to six feet deep in the streets. The residents were rescued in boats and many had narrow escapes from drowning.

Bucyrus, O., April 2.—All records for 30 years were broken here by the high water in the Sandusky river. The northern part of the city was cut off, and buildings along the bottoms were swept away.

Lima, O., April 2.—Ottawa river, which runs through the center of this city, is higher than has ever been known. Two thousand persons are either homeless or confined to the second stories or roofs of their homes to escape the raging waters. Fully 500 houses are submerged and many have been washed from their foundations.

Piqua, O., April 2.—The hydraulic canal, which supplies this city with water, has overflowed its banks. Two hundred residences are surrounded by water.

Delaware, O., April 2.—High waters are raging here and the loss to property will be great.

There are days of dizziness; Spells of headache, side ache, back-ache;

Sometimes rheumatic pains; Often urinary disorders.

Here is proof in East Liverpool.

Henry Bevington, who resides at the corner of Avondale and Bradshaw avenues, says: "During three years I had attacks of dull steady aching in the back. When stooping or sitting for some time it would change to a quick pang as I arose to an upright position. My back tired out easily when walking or standing long and I often had headaches, dizziness and in the mornings great depression. I took medicines, many of them, but found Doan's Kidney Pills sold at the W. & W. Pharmacy to be more suitable for my complaint than anything I had ever tried."

REPORT IS DEMANDED.

Friends of Brannock Local Option Bill Pressing for Action.

Columbus, O., April 2.—The next hearing on the Brannock local option bill by the senate committee will be held Tuesday. The friends of the measure were insistent that the committee meet Monday night, but fear was expressed that there would not be a quorum.

The committee have been besieged by friends of the bill. All demanded a speedy report. They wish the committee to have the bill back by Thursday at the latest.

There is small likelihood that the senate will adopt the house resolution providing for an adjournment on the 8th instant. The senate committee on banks and banking has reported the Moore bill regulating state banks. It is so amended as to do away with the provision requiring the examination of banks, the creation of a state superintendent of banks being abolished. Another concession to the banking interests is a stipulation that any such bank may loan to any one firm to the extent of 25 per cent of its capital stock, whereas at present the limit is 10 per cent. This provision, however, has been constantly ignored by the banks.

SCALE AGREED UPON.

Miners and Operators at Altoona Fix Wages for One Year.

Altoona, Pa., April 2.—After a week's stubborn fight the operators and miners last night agreed upon the scale to be paid in the Central Pennsylvania field for one year.

The basis of the settlement is for 62 cents for a gross pick-mined ton, which proposition was offered by the miners' members of the joint scale committee. It is a reduction of 6.08 per cent over last year's rate of 65 cents for a gross ton.

The same reduction affects the machine cutters, loaders and scrapers and all other labor, both inside and outside the mines receive the Indianapolis cut of 5.55 per cent. Last year's differential of 5.9 of the pick mining rate, with 1/2 cent added, continues for another year.

Before the scale can be signed it will be necessary for the miners' delegates to ratify it. They meet today for that purpose.

THREE MORE ARE DEAD.

Explosion in Squib Factory Causes Nine Fatalities.

Scranton, April 2.—Two more names have been added to the list of victims of the explosion in the squib factory at Priceburg, making the total number of fatalities nine.

Six girls were killed outright. Elizabeth Howey, aged 16, died later. Oscar Azer, foreman of the factory, aged 31, died at noon. Last night at 10 o'clock Miss Mary Gilligan, forelady of the factory, passed away. Burns and internal injuries were the immediate causes of death in each instance.

Martha Hildebrand, Sophie Faulds, two of the factory girls, and Lilly Callahan, a 3-year-old child of the family living over the factory, are in a critical condition.

Coroner Salley continued his investigation of the accident and will impanel a jury. The remains will be viewed and then the jury will adjourn until the injured survivors are sufficiently recovered to give testimony.

RAN INTO A FIRE.

Train on Cuban Railroad Meets With Peculiar Mishap.

Santiago, Cuba, April 2.—The Havana express, on the Cuba railroad, ran into the flames from one of the company's wood piles burning alongside the track east of Las Tunas. A sleeper, two coaches and an observation car were burned. The mail, baggage and express consignments were saved. No passengers were injured.

The engineer of the train discovered the fire on passing a curve and when it was impossible to stop the train he attempted to speed through the flames from the burning ties, but they caused the rails to spread and consequently the train, which was crowded with passengers, was derailed in the midst of the flames. Among the passengers was Terazine, the Italian opera singer. A relief train brought all the passengers and the crew of the train here.

CHURCH CONFESSED.

Tells St. Louis Police How He Cut Benefactors' Throats.

St. Louis, April 2.—William E. Church, who was arrested in Philadelphia and brought here to answer the charge of having murdered Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Yeater, his benefactors, at Warrenton, Mo., last August, has confessed that he committed the double crime just because he felt impelled to.

"I just went up to their room and cut their throats with my razor while they were asleep," he said.

The couple had adopted him when he was a baby and had raised him. He told the police that he had believed the Yeaters had made a will leaving their property to a stepson, and this so incensed him that he decided to kill them.

Indiana, Pa., April 2.—This town is excited over a shooting affray and a crowd of citizens are scouring the neighborhood in search of a negro who is blamed for shooting Yank Jenson, a young man, as the result of a dispute. The shooting occurred on one of the main streets and Jenson is believed to be mortally wounded.

NEW RAILROAD IN EASTERN OHIO

A Line to Run from Lorain to Pennsylvania via Youngstown.

Youngstown, April 2.—Another railroad will soon be added to the resources of the city. The new line is to be constructed from Lorain to the Pennsylvania state line, where it will connect with a road built by capitalists from that commonwealth. Papers of incorporation have been issued from Columbus and appropriation papers are now in the hands of the probate court.

The project is backed by millions and some of the wealthiest and most progressive business men of the city are furnishing finances. The officers are: Will H. Park, president; John Stambaugh, vice president; W. F. Ritter, secretary; Robert Bentley, treasurer; Grant Whittier, Henry Stambaugh, S. D. L. Jackson, E. L. Ford, J. W. Fawcett, directors.

Rumors of a new railroad from Lorain to Pittsburgh have been heard for several months, but this is the first definite information given out. It has been stated that the Jones & Laughlin company, Pittsburgh, was seeking a line from the lake to their works. Other statements have been to the effect that the Wabash was seeking an entry here.

Officials of the Lake Erie & Eastern, as the new line will be known, deny they have any connection with the Laughlin company or the Wabash and claim they are building the line strictly for themselves.

The plans call for a line from Lorain to a point on the Ohio and Pennsylvania state line near where the Mahoning river crosses. This is just west of Lowellville. Officials of the company refuse to state where the road goes after leaving Ohio, but it is certainly not to end in the woods there. It is learned from a reliable source that a company will be organized in Pennsylvania to construct a road to meet the Ohio line. This will give it direct connection with Pittsburgh.

EIGHT BOYS KILLED EIGHTY-EIGHT SNAKES

Youthful Serpent Hunters in Canton Did a Great Deal of Slaughtering.

John Smith, Starbuck, Minn., writes April 13, 1904: "I have been in bed for four weeks with a sprained knee, caused by too heavy lifting. I have tried almost everything to cure it. Seeing what Hamlin's Wizard Oil had done for others I tried a bottle and in ten days I was able to work."

W. L. Steele, Santa Barbara, Cal., writes: "My child fell from a high chair upon a hot stove and burned its forehead and side of face severely. It suffered intensely for three days, when we commenced using Hamlin's Wizard Oil. The pain was relieved in twenty minutes and the burns healed in about five days."

There is only one Wizard Oil—Hamlin's—name blown in the bottle. Signature "Hamlin Bros." on wrapper. Take no substitute. 50c. and $1.00.

west creek discovered that there were a lot of snakes out getting a whip of fiftieth sunshine. Eight boys started in at the South street bridge and hunter snakes along the Dueber works bank up to the Tuscarawas street bridge, and they killed by actual count 87 reptiles measuring in length from one to four feet. The greater number were garter snakes, water snakes and common varieties, but several were large black snakes that showed some fight when approached by the gang of slayers.

A number of the largest were taken to the South street bridge and placed upon the sidewalk just before the Dueber works employees went home to dinner. Among the workers were hundreds of girls, and when they reached the bridge and saw the snakes there were screams that could be heard all over that end of the city. The girls gathered up their skirts and skedaddled across the street and ran as though pursued by the Old Nick. Even some of the men were a little leary about crossing past the dead reptiles. Where the snakes came from is a mystery. They may have a winter's den somewhere in that neighborhood, or they may have been washed down by the recent flood from some of the swamps north of the town.

COAL SCARCE IN IOWA.

Miners' Refusal to Work Causes Much Inconvenience.

Des Moines, April 2.—Iowa is confronted with a coal famine as a result of the lockout which closed every mine in the state and a section of Missouri. Not a pound of coal is to be had for sale in Des Moines and other cities of the state are similarly affected.

Local dealers placed rush orders with Kansas City, Omaha and other neighboring cities, but it is only possible to secure it in limited quantities. Unless the situation is improved within the next three weeks manufacturers will be compelled to shut down for want of fuel.

Severe Storm in Ohio.

Celina, O., April 1.—The worst electric and rain storm in years visited Celina last night, a steady downpour for two hours submerging the streets and increasing the height of Lake Mercer to the danger point. There is fear that this stream will overflow its banks. Several duck hunters were caught on the lake in the storm and may be lost.

TOGO IS PERSISTENT

Air at Tokio Charged With Reports of Encounters—Japan Forwards Anxious War Correspondents to Front—

Their Destination Kept Secret.

Tokio, April 2.—Admiral Togo is engaged in another desperate attack on Port Arthur in an attempt to bottle up the Russian warships there, according to announcement here.

Wednesday night Admiral Togo made a vigorous attack on the forts. While this was going on he had soundings made to ascertain just where the passages to the harbor had been left clear. Four vessels had been sunk at the entrance of the harbor on the last attempt of the Japanese to bottle up the Russians, and the channel left was too narrow for any but small ships. However, even this channel is likely to be closed within a few hours.

In the meantime news is hourly expected of an engagement, probably on Korean territory. There are rumors that a battle has been fought, others that it is now being waged, but so far no official report of an engagement has been given out.

Tokio, April 2.—Information has been received here from a private source that the Japanese troops, after dislodging the Russians at Chong-Ju, about 50 miles northwest of Ping Yang, on March 28, rested for one day and then advanced to Yong Chun, about 45 miles west of Chong-Ju. After a brief engagement they drove the enemy further north, the Russians retreating toward Unsan, a town 80 miles northeast of Yong Chun.

The Marquis Ito has returned from his special mission to the emperor of Korea.

Correspondents Off to the Front.

The first party of foreign correspondents left Tokio for the front today. It consisted of 16 newspaper men, mostly British and Americans. From here the party goes to Moji, leaving there April 6 on a Japanese transport for their destination, which is kept secret.

The order of the Japanese authorities unleashing the correspondents was joyously received. It ended a long siege on the part of the correspondents at Tokio. They appreciated the necessity for the government maintaining secrecy in regard to the movements of the troops and their disposition for the campaign, but the newspaper men chafed under their extended idleness.

A crowd gathered at the Shinbashi station, where the correspondents went on board a train, and cheered the departing writers.

Seoul, April 2.—Brigadier General Allen, United States military observer with the Japanese army, has returned here from Ping Yang. He says the roads in Northern Korea are in very bad condition and that the Russians have lost excellent opportunities to take advantage of the natural obstacles offered by the country to oppose the Japanese advance. General Allen believes that the Russians intend to make a stand at the Yalu.

Russian cavalry in much distress is retiring toward Wiju. They are cutting down telegraph poles to use as fuel and their horses are dying for lack of proper food.

Viceroy at Port Arthur.

St. Petersburg, April 2.—Viceroy Alexieff is at Port Arthur on a tour of inspection. With Admiral Makaroff, General Stossel and Smirnov he visited the battleships Petropavlovsk, Retvizan and Czarevitch, the protected cruiser Pallada and other ships in the harbor and later conferred gold swords of honor with St. George's ribbons inscribed "for gallantry" upon the captains of the cruisers Bayan, Novik and Askold.

It is believed the Japanese are preparing to repeat their attempts on Port Arthur.

Lieutenant Newton A. McNally, assigned as United States naval attaché with the Russian navy at Port Arthur and Captain William V. Judson of the United States engineer corps, who is to be attached to General Kuropatkin's headquarters, left here, accompanied by Colonel Papdaroff, the Bulgarian military attaché, and two Swiss attaches. They will go direct to Vice Admiral Alexieff's headquarters at Mukden, where their future movements will be determined. Both the American officers speak in the highest praise of the treatment accorded them here.

The emperor has ordered the Korietz, Varag, Stereguschicht and Yenisei to be stricken from the navy list. The Korietz and Varag were sunk at Chemulpo by the Japanese, the Stereguschicht off Port Arthur in one of Admiral Togo's attacks, and the Yenisei was blown up while laying mines in the entrance to Port Arthur.

Bandits Were Resentenced.

Chicago, April 2.—Owing to an alleged technical error the car barn bandits, Vandine, Niedermeyer and Marx, were resentenced in the criminal court by Judge Kersten. The bandits are to be executed on April 22, the date named in their original sentence.

YOU MAY BE CURED

544 Garfield Avenue, Chicago, Ill., October 9, 1902.

After doctoring for eleven months and taking forty-three bottles of medicine and finding no relief for leucorrhoea resulting from irritation of a fallen womb I took Wine of Cardui and fourteen bottles cured me. This seems strange but it is the simple truth. Wine of Cardui helped me from the time I began taking it and having heard it praised so highly by friends who had tried it I felt satisfied that it would help me, and it did. It cured me. Took every bit of ache, pain and headache, cramps and dragging down sensations away till I felt young, strong and happy once more. It is a wonderful medicine and a true friend to women. When I look back on the months of torture I had it seems like a hideous nightmare. Wine of Cardui will cure any woman I believe. I have more faith in it than all other medicines combined.

Finding of Frozen Chinaman in Refrigerator Car Leads to Discovery.

RINGLEADERS ARE ARRESTED

Organized Gang for the Surreptitious Importation of Chinese—Government Detectives Trace Clue to Windsor, Canada.

Chicago, April 2.—An organized gang for the systematic smuggling of Chinese into the United States by the way of the Canadian border is believed to have been disrupted by the arrest of three Chinamen, who, it is said, were active agents of the organization. The arrest of an American, the ringleader of the gang, is all that is lacking to make the breaking up of the smugglers complete, according to agents of the department of commerce and labor of Washington, who have been working secretly in Chicago for several weeks. Those already arrested are Lam Chee, a prominent Chinese merchant of Chicago; Leong Man of Joliet, Ill., who admits paying Lam Chee $150 to arrange for the smuggling of countrymen into the United States, and Leong Dock of St. Louis, cousin of Leong Man and a patron of Lam Chee.

For several months the United States authorities have been aware of the existence of an organized gang which has been smuggling Chinese across the Canadian border line, principally between Windsor, Canada, and Detroit. Every effort was made to discover the ringleaders of the band until last January, when the dead body of Leong Dock was found in a refrigerator car at St. Louis, and Chinese Inspector C. O. Cowley, who had charge of the investigation, found a clue which led to important discoveries.

Cowley tracked the car in which the Chinaman had met death to Windsor, Canada. There Cowley learned that Leong Man and Leong Dock, cousins of the victim, had paid Lam Chee $300 to smuggle Leong Dock across the Canadian border. Leong Dock was secreted in the refrigerator compartment of a freight car in Canada and a week later his body was found frozen stiff at St. Louis. The white agent of Lam Chee, who is believed to have started Leong Dock to his fate, is now being sought, and according to Inspector Cowley will be placed under arrest before many hours.

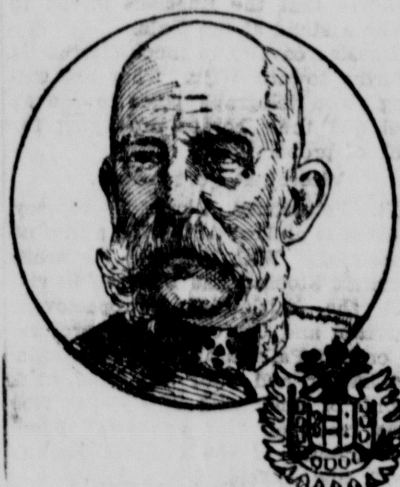

When arraigned before United States Commissioner Foote, Lam Chee and Leong Man denied the charges made against them and the hearing of the case was set for April 8.

WASHES OLD MEN'S FEET.

Emperor of Austria Goes Through Ancient Ceremony at the Hofburg.

Vienna, April 2.—Emperor Francis Joseph observed the ancient ceremony of washing the feet of 12 old men in the Crystal hall of the Hofburg.

The emperor, assisted by eight arch dukes, personally waited on the old men, placing before them food and drink, which, however they did not consume; then, the refreshments being immediately removed and later sent to their homes. The ceremony concluded with the emperor hanging around the neck of each of the old men a silk purse containing the traditional 30 pieces of silver.

The United States was represented at the ceremony by Ambassador Storor, Captain Harris, the military attaché; Secretary Hale and Mrs. Hale, Secretary Rives and Miss Diehl.

OBSTACLE REMOVED.

Panama Canal Assured by Decision of French Court.

Paris, April 2.—The first civil tribunal of the Seine has decided the case of the republic of Colombia against the Panama Canal company in favor of the defendants. The decision holds that the complaint of Colombia is not receivable and condemns the plaintiffs to pay the costs of the action.

This decision has the effect of removing the legal obstacles in the way of the transfer of the canal concession from the company to the United States.

Chief Zimmer is an Umpire. New York, April 2.—Charles Zimmer, manager and captain of the Philadelphia National league club last year, has been selected as the fifth member of the staff of umpires in the National league.

JURY NOT DISCHARGED.

Trial of Botkin Case Proceeds at San Francisco.

San Francisco, April 2.—There has been another surprise in the Botkin murder trial. Owing to the charges of attempts to tamper with jurors it was understood that the first proceeding would be the discharge of the jury. This, however, did not occur and the trial proceeded as usual.

Attorney Knight stated to the court that contrary to the advice of her counsel, Mrs. Botkin insisted on the trial continuing, saying she was satisfied the jury would render a just verdict. On being asked by the judge if this was her decision Mrs. Botkin said that it was.

Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Ferrell called Judge Cook's attention to the statement by the court that under the circumstances should the defendant be found guilty he would be compelled to grant a new trial. Mr. Ferrell said he did not want this assertion considered binding. An order abrogating that portion of the proceedings was made. The court then ordered that the jury be admitted and the trial was resumed.

District Attorney Byington offered in evidence the testimony of Mrs. W. W. Barnes, formerly Miss Birdie Price, and Miss Lizzie Livernash, given at the former trial, and it was admitted. Both of these witnesses are ill.

"I have decided not to admit the testimony of Prof. Price, who analyzed some of the candy in this city," Judge Cook announced.

The prosecution then rested. Judge Cook again admonished the jury, informing them that until the end of the trial they must remain together in the care of the sheriff.

MURDER SYNDICATE.

Philadelphia Coroner Puts Stop to Nefarious Business.

Philadelphia, April 2.—Four persons are in prison, three awaiting the action of the grand jury and the fourth under indictment on the charge of being accessory to the death of an infant, as the result of Coroner Dugan's crusade against an alleged syndicate of malpractitioners, which he says flourished in this city for years. Detectives are following clues developed at an inquest in the death of Mary B. Sloan and Sarah Hughes, young women who died more than a year ago.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ashmend, also known as "Dr. Conde" and "Dr. Moran," is the principal in the case. The coroner declares that many young women and countless babies have come to their death through treatment received at Mrs. Ashmend's establishment. The woman, her son, Rowland Ashmend, Jr., and Dr. Matthew McVicker have been committed to prison without bail. "Dr." David A. Mosier, whom the coroner styles the "king of malpractitioners," is under indictment and is said to have made a confession revealing the names of others engaged in the same nefarious business. Additional arrests are expected.

BOARD TO FIX RATES.

Important Measure to Be Introduced in Ohio Assembly Soon.

Columbus, O., April 2.—Announcement is made that the bill to provide for the appointment of a board of five members by the governor to have supervision of public service corporations will be forthcoming within the next week. The members shall draw $6,000 each annually.

The board of control of public service corporations will have power to regulate rates of fare and other charges of such corporations as street railroads, interurban railroads, artificial gas, electric light, heat, power and water companies, and require such companies to make annual reports giving full information as to capital, indebtedness, officers, rates of fare, incomes and expenses, dividends and such other information as the board may desire. In the granting of new franchises the board shall fix the terms and conditions.

The Heinlein bill appropriating $35,000 to be used by a commission composed of the governor, attorney general, auditor, secretary of state, the state board of health, and one citizen appointed by the governor, in purchasing a site of not less than 350 acres for the establishment of a tuberculosis hospital, was favorably reported by the finance committee.

WENT OVER THE RAPIDS.

Shoshone Falls in Snake River Scene of Triple Drowning.

Boise, Idaho, April 2.—Three persons have plunged 210 feet to their death over the Shoshone falls of the Snake river. They were Miss Marie Willis, Samuel Graham and a man whose name is unknown. Miss Willis sometimes runs the ferryboat at this point.

Miss Willis took the boat across in response to a call. On the return she found the guide rope was not working properly and put back. Graham and the other man, seeing from the opposite side that there was trouble, took their skiff and crossed to the ferryboat. They took Miss Willis off and started back to the south bank. As the boat neared the shore it filled and went down, all three being lost. No trace of the bodies has been found.

HIS EXCESSIVE HILARITY

ENDS IN FATAL INJURY.

East St. Louis, April 2.—After contesting his wife's will, which cut him off with $50, and left $50,000 to European relatives, and winning the suit for $25,000, John Thornberg rejoiced to such an extent that he broke his leg and died from blood poisoning.

YOU MAY BE CURED

544 Garfield Avenue,
Chicago, Ill., October 9, 1902.

After doctoring for eleven months and taking forty-three bottles of medicine and finding no relief for leucorrhoea resulting from irritation of a fallen womb I took Wine of Cardui and fourteen bottles cured me. This seems strange but it is the simple truth. Wine of Cardui helped me from the time I began taking it and having heard it praised so highly by friends who had tried it I felt satisfied that it would help me, and it did. It cured me. Took every bit of ache, pain and headache, cramps and dragging down sensations away till I felt young, strong and happy once more. It is a wonderful medicine and a true friend to women. When I look back on the months of torture I had it seems like a hideous nightmare. Wine of Cardui will cure any woman I believe. I have more faith in it than all other medicines combined.

Francis Kingsley
Vice-Pres., Chicago Historical Club.

How can you refuse relief when you know you are growing worse day after day? Shooting pains, irregularity, inflammation and bearing down pains make thousands of women miserable. Why drag through life never enjoying anything? Wine of Cardui has made over 1,500,000 weak and suffering women well and strong. We ask you to go to your druggist today and secure a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui and begin to take it at once. Do that and the health Mrs. Kingsley writes about will soon be yours. Hearts Courageous

Copyright, 1932, by THE DOWNE-MERRILL COMPANY

She glanced at the old watchman. Daily familiarity had made such councils hackneyed to him. With eyes upon him she stole to the door in the center. She turned the knob softly and tried it. It was locked. Smitten with her impotency, she leaned against it and rattled the knob.

All at once she felt it giving. A key had been turned from the inside. She heard the roused doorkeeper shuffling toward her, heard his protestant whisper and tugged with all her strength.

A buzz of talk that the stout panels had deadened clamored loud in her ears. She saw nothing but a broad aisle, above whose center hung an enormous, many pruned chandelier, glancing back the sunlight.

Tears burned her eyes to mist, and her throat was choking. Out of the mist as she stopped the crowded body of the hall stupefied her with people. The sound of voices rising as she had entered stilled in an instant to a silence, broken by an exclamation and the taut blow of a gavel. She was dimly conscious of men—bewigged, dressed mostly in black and snuff color, with white neckcloths—one or two on their feet. Her fingers under her cloak clasped tight the precious packet—so tight she could feel its ridges cut into her flesh—and a clammy faintness was upon her.

Suddenly this left her, and the jarring walls drew into place.

She was standing in the center of a square room, plain walled, with three tall barred windows at each side hung with green Venetian blinds. In front of her was a raised, square rostrum between great empty fireplaces, and, leaning over its desk, an elderly man gazing down. Surprise seemed carved upon his features, and, looking, she felt a dreadful hysterical desire to laugh.

Below on the floor and facing her stood a short, stout old man, with a bald head and a fringe of white hair. His kindly eyes, behind great iron rimmed spectacles, gave her confidence. It came to her in a flash that this was the great Dr. Franklin.

Quivering, she stood before him and courted low. Then she raised her hand and gave him the packet.

Everything clouded after that, and the ground was swaying. She saw him break the seal to unfold the paper and start as he bent his eyes upon it. Through the buzz of whispered curiosity she felt a familiar voice strike, speaking her name, and saw the sharp features and foxy hair of Mr. Jefferson.

The strongest castle could be reduced by siege if the garrison could be starved out. The strongest body has to give up the fight when starvation weakens it. There are more deaths from starvation than the world dreams of. When the stomach is diseased and the food eaten is not digested and assimilated, then the strength of the body begins to fall because of lack of nutrition, and the weak body falls an easy victim to the microbes of disease.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores physical strength in the only possible way, by enabling the assimilation of the nutrition contained in food.

"I was sick for over three years with a complication of stomach troubles," writes Mr. John H. Castana, residing at 202 Arch St., Chicago, Illinois. "I had tried every good physician I knew of, as well as many patent medicines, but received only temporary relief. One day a friend recommended your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I immediately procured some and began its use. Commenced to gain the first week, and after I had taken one bottle I could eat as well as any one without experiencing ill effects. I took five bottles, and to-day am happy to announce that I am as well and healthy as any one could be. I owe it all to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery."

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make the little more profit paid by the sale of less meritorious medicines. He gains. You lose. Therefore accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

son. His hand was drawing her toward the entrance. She heard Dr. Franklin's voice, like a great clear organ note, "I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills from whence cometh my help."

Then, as they reached the doors, a clamor on the other side—the sound of metal striking against the wood.

The hinges swung outward. She had a momentary glimpse of Armand standing in the corridor, white, disheveled, a broken sword in his hand—saw him starting back, and, as the doors closed heavily behind her, she felt herself sinking into blackness.

"Louis! Louis!" She thrust the faintness back with a will. "I could not help it!"

His eyes were sharp spears through her heart, his voice like twisted agony.

He sprang at the great doors. "Betrayed! Denounced to the congress! Oh, God, and by you! My honor—my love—my trust—all ended!"

Galloway entered from the porch with two soldiers in the Continental uniform. "In the name of the congress!" said Dickinson, pointing to Armand.

"Save—tell!" Piarne's warning vibrated with anxiety. He stumbled awkwardly with the cry, pitching in front of the soldiers and as though to save himself the fall grasped each by an ankle.

Before they could recover from the surprise Armand, turning like a flash, had darted by them to the anteroom, gained the door and disappeared.

"Quick!" gasped Anne as the discomfited soldiers bolted after him. "He must not escape!"

"Are you not satisfied, mistress?" demanded Piarne, turning on her bitterly.

She staggered through the torn curtain to the table at this and held out to him his lordship's pledge, with a hand shaking like a wave ripple.

He started uncontrollably as he read it and made a gesture of despair. "Le bon Dieu!" he cried, his eyes filling with tears. "Unfortunate that I am! I have helped him to die!"

Then she drooped forward into Piarne's arms.

"Clang!" The great bell in the dome above spoke suddenly. Dickinson, with an exclamation, went out hastily, the other delegates with him. The single remaining spectator approached the spot where Piarne knelt chafing Anne's hands.

The Frenchman said no word, but he got upon his feet with such a look in his face that Joseph Galloway, his head bent down, went out slinking and with speed, like a whipped cur.

The sound rang out again, and with it music mixed a vast roar of voices that penetrated from the streets. "Clang!" Another brazen throat took it up, and "They sign! They sign!" came in a shout that shook the building.

"Clash! Clash!"

All the steeples in Philadelphia were shouting to one another now. The great sundering was accomplished. That hour a nation was born—out of the clamor of bells, out of the hearts of men.

But in the statehouse under the cupola, where the big bell that first pealed liberty cracked its throat for joy, Anne lay sobbing.

"Louis! Listen, Louis! Listen to the bells! It was yours—a message that I gave them! Independence! It is come at last, and you have gone to die because I betrayed you. But it was to save you, dear! Will you ever understand? Can you hear them, Louis? The bells! Come back! Come back to me—only to hear them ring! Only to understand!"

DUNNING MARBLE & GRANITE CO.
PITTSBURGH, PA.

General Lord Howe sat one evening a month later aboard the Duchess of Gordon, anchored below Staten Island, paying at draughts. His late surrender of Boston to General Washington had ruffled his equanimity. But now Clinton had joined him, haggard from the trouncing Moultrie had given him in South Carolina, and his lordship's brother, Admiral Lord Howe, had hove to in the harbor with a prodigious new army in a fleet of 120 sail. My lord, therefore, felt very comfortable again.

The general's opponent at the table, Lord Chetwynde, wore lace in his sleeves and smoked a foreign cigarette, from which he flicked the white ash daintily with his little finger. As he sat, one felt his eyes, a kind of cold, keen, speculative humor in them. Another officer, Sir Evelyn Clarke, sat with legs wide apart near by. The glazed sconces were brilliantly lighted, and the room reeked pleasantly as the ship rose and fell to the wash.

An aid, pausing at the cabin door, saluted.

"Well?" asked Lord Howe. "Any one else for me?"

"No, sir," for Lord Chetwynde. He brings a personal communication to his lordship.

"Very well; bring him down; with your permission, of course, my lord." And his lordship turned to the game again.

"I would the admiral might haste with his olive branch," he yawned, studying the draughtboard through lazy eyelids. "Tis most uncommon dull here. 'Hell, Hull and Halifax'—egad! 'd as lief be a prison governor at any one of them."

"Less room for your cursed experiments, I suppose, Charles. You were always fond of them at Halifax," commented the single spectator in an Irish brogue. "Why, my lord, I remember just before he sailed (may you never run another jail, Charles) he let a rascal out on a secret service and took his promise in writing to come back to him in a month to the noose. I hope you'll invite me to meet him when he returns. Eh? What! May I bet the devil my head, but there he is now!"

The pair at the table looked at the face of the man who had entered and at his dress of purple velvet frayed with travel, and Lord Chetwynde started to sudden incisiveness.

"Louis Armand?"

The newcomer bowed and stood silent, waiting.

"You return in accordance with our contract, I presume?"

"Yes, your lordship."

"You are a day late."

"I was not aware of your lordship's conference."

"Burn me, but he's been to Halifax," exclaimed Lord Chetwynde under his breath.

In certain parts of Sweden, where the most absolute confidence is reposed in the honesty of the people, a very informal postal system is in vogue. CHAPTER XVI—Continued.
She glanced at the old watchman. Daily familiarity had made such counsels hackneyed to him. With eyes upon him she stole to the door in the center. She turned the knob softly and tried it. It was locked. Smitten with her impotency, she leaned against it and rattled the knob.

All at once she felt it giving. A key had been turned from the inside. She heard the roused doorkeeper shuffling toward her, heard his protestant whisper and tugged with all her strength. A buzz of talk that the stout panels had deadened clamored loud in her ears. She saw nothing but a broad aisle, above whose center hung an enormous, many prisms chandelier, glancing back the sunlight.

Tears burned her eyes to mist, and her throat was choking. Out of the mist as she stopped the crowded body of the hall stifled her with people. The sound of voices rising as she had entered stilled in an instant to a silence, broken by an exclamation and the taut blow of a gavel. She was dimly conscious of men—bewigged, dressed mostly in black and snuff color, with white neckcloths—one or two on their feet. Her fingers under her cloak clasped tight the precious packet—so tight she could feel its ridges cut into her flesh—and a clammy faintness was upon her.

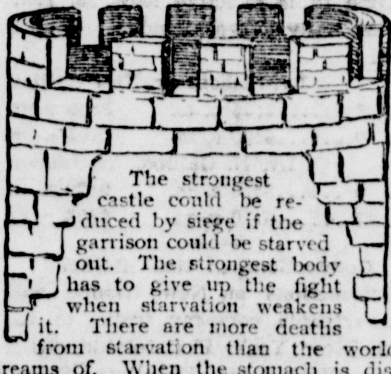

Suddenly this left her, and the jarring walls drew into place.

She was standing in the center of a square room, plain walled, with three tall barred windows at each side hung with green Venetian blinds. In front of her was a raised, square rostrum between great empty fireplaces, and, leaning over its desk, an elderly man gazing down. Surprise seemed carved upon his features, and, looking, she felt a dreadful hysterical desire to laugh.

Below on the floor and facing her stood a short, stout old man, with a bald head and a fringe of white hair. His kindly eyes, behind great iron rimmed spectacles, gave her confidence. It came to her in a flash that this was the great Dr. Franklin.

Quivering, she stood before him and courted low. Then she raised her hand and gave him the packet.

Everything clouded after that, and the ground was swaying. She saw him break the seal to unfold the paper and start as he bent his eyes upon it. Through the buzz of whispered curiosity she felt a familiar voice strike, speaking her name, and saw the sharp features and foxy hair of Mr. Jefferson.

She glanced at the old watchman. Daily familiarity had made such councils hackneyed to him. With eyes upon him she stole to the door in the center. She turned the knob softly and tried it. It was locked. Smitten with her impotency, she leaned against it and rattled the knob.

All at once she felt it giving. A key had been turned from the inside. She heard the roused doorkeeper shuffling toward her, heard his protestant whisper and tugged with all her strength. A buzz of talk that the stout panels had denuded clamored loud in her ears. She saw nothing but a broad aisle, above whose center hung an enormous, many pruned chandelier, glancing back the sunlight.

Tears burned her eyes to mist, and her throat was choking. Out of the mist as she stopped the crowded body of the hall stifled her with people. The sound of voices rising as she had entered stilled in an instant to a silence, broken by an exclamation and the taut blow of a gavel. She was dimly conscious of men—beggared, dressed mostly in black and snuff color, with white neckcloths—one or two on their feet. Her fingers under her cloak clasped tight the precious packet—so tight she could feel its ridges cut into her flesh—and a clammy faintness was upon her.

Suddenly this left her, and the jarring walls drew into place. She was standing in the center of a square room, plain walled, with three tall barred windows at each side hung with green Venetian blinds. In front of her was a raised, square rostrum between great empty fireplaces, and, leaning over its desk, an elderly man gazing down. Surprise seemed carved upon his features, and, looking, she felt a dreadful hysterical desire to laugh.

Below on the floor and facing her stood a short, stout old man, with a bald head and a fringe of white hair. His kindly eyes, behind great iron rimmed spectacles, gave her confidence. It came to her in a flash that this was the great Dr. Franklin.

Quivering, she stood before him and courted low. Then she raised her hand and gave him the packet.

Everything clouded after that, and the ground was swaying. She saw him break the seal to unfold the paper and start as he bent his eyes upon it. Through the buzz of whispered curiosity she felt a familiar voice strike, speaking her name, and saw the sharp features and foxy hair of Mr. Jefferson.

The strongest castle could be reduced by siege if the garrison could be starved out. The strongest body has to give up the fight when starvation weakens it. There are more deaths from starvation than the world dreams of. When the stomach is diseased and the food eaten is not digested and assimilated, then the strength of the body begins to fail because of lack of nutrition, and the weak body falls an easy victim to the microbes of disease.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores physical strength in the only possible way, by enabling the assimilation of the nutrition contained in food.

"I was sick for over three years with a complication of stomach troubles," writes Mr. John H. Castana, residing at 204 Arch St., Chicago. "I had tried every good physician I knew of, as well as many patent medicines, but received only temporary relief. One day a friend recommended your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I immediately procured some and began its use. Commenced to gain the first week, and after I had taken only one bottle I could eat as well as any one without experiencing ill effects. I took five bottles, and to-day am happy to announce that I am as well and healthy as any one could be. I owe it all to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery."

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make the little more profit paid by the sale of less meritorious medicines. He gains. You lose. Therefore accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

PREZ. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send twenty-one one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or thirty-one stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Every Woman is interested and should know about the wonderful MARVEL Whirling Spray. The new vaginal spray. It is the most perfect and effective remedy for all diseases of the female system. It cleanses, soothes, and cures. Ask your druggist for it. It cannot be applied to the vagina. Avoid all other sprays, unless stamped with the MARVEL logo. Beware of cheap imitations. The MARVEL Whirling Spray is sold by all druggists. Times Bldg., New York.

son. His hand was drawing her toward the entrance. She heard Dr. Franklin's voice, like a great clear organ note, "I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills from whence cometh my help."

Then, as they reached the doors, a clamor on the other side—the sound of metal striking against the wood.

The hinges swung outward. She had a momentary glimpse of Armand standing in the corridor, white, disheveled, a broken sword in his hand—saw him starting back, and, as the doors closed heavily behind her, she felt herself sinking into blackness.

"Louis! Louis!" She thrust the faintness back with a wail. "I could not help it!"

His eyes were sharp spears through her heart, his voice like twisted agony.

He sprang at the great doors.

"Betrayed! Denounced to the congress! Oh, God, and by you! My honor—my love—my trust—all ended!"

Galloway entered from the porch with two soldiers in the Continental uniform. "In the name of the congress," said Dickinson, pointing to Armand. "Save—tol!" Piarne's warning vibrated with anxiety. He stumbled awkwardly with the cry, pitching in front of the soldiers and as though to save himself the fall grasped each by an ankle.

Before they could recover from the surprise Armand, turning like a flash, had darted by them to the anteroom, gained the door and disappeared.

"Quick!" gasped Anne as the discomfited soldiers bolted after him. "He must not escape!"

"Are you not satisfied, mistress?" demanded Piarne, turning on her bitterly.

She staggered through the torn curtain to the table at this and held out to him his lordship's pledge, with a hand shaking like a wave ripple.

He started uncontrollably as he read it and made a gesture of despair. "Le bon Dieu!" he cried, his eyes filling with tears. "Unfortunate that I am! I have helped him to die!"

Then she drooped forward into Piarne's arms.

"Clang!" The great bell in the dome above spoke suddenly. Dickinson, with an exclamation, went out hastily, the other delegates with him. The single remaining spectator approached the spot where Piarne knelt chafing Anne's hands.

The Frenchman said no word, but he got upon his feet with such a look in his face that Joseph Galloway, his head bent down, went out slinking and with speed, like a whipped cur.

"Clang!" The sound rang out again, and with it music mixed a vast roar of voices that penetrated from the streets. "Clang!" Another brazen throat took it up, and "They sign! They sign!" came in a shout that shook the building.

"Clash! Clash!" All the steeples in Philadelphia were shouting to one another now. The great sundering was accomplished. That hour a nation was born—out of the clamor of bells, out of the hearts of men.

But in the statehouse under the cupola, where the bell that first pealed liberty cracked its throat for joy, Anne lay sobbing.

"Louis! Listen, Louis! Listen to the bells! It was yours—your message that I gave them! Independence! It is come at last, and you have gone to die because I betrayed you. But it was to save you, dear! Will you ever understand? Can you hear them, Louis? The bells! Come back! Come back to me—only to hear them ring! Only to understand!"

General Lord Howe sat one evening a month later about the Duchess of Gordon, anchored below Staten Island, paying at draughts. His late surrender of Boston to General Washington had ruffled his equanimity. But now Clinton had joined him, haggard from the trouncing Moultrie had given him in South Carolina, and his lordship's brother, Admiral Lord Howe, had come to in the harbor with a prodigious new army in a fleet of 120 sail. My lord, therefore, felt very comfortable again.

The general's opponent at the table, Lord Chetwynde, wore lace in his sleeves and smoked a foreign cigarette, from which he flicked the white ash daintily with his little finger. As he sat, one felt his eyes, a kind of cold, keen, speculative humor in them. Another officer, Sir Evelyn Clarke, sat with legs wide apart near by. The glazed sconces were brilliantly lighted, and the room rocked pleasantly as the ship rose and fell to the wash.

An aid, pausing at the cabin door, saluted.

"Well?" asked Lord Howe. "Any one else for me?"

"No, sir; for Lord Chetwynde. He brings a personal communication to his lordship."

"Very well; bring him down; with your permission, of course, my lord." And his lordship turned to the game again.

"I would the admiral might haste with his olive branch," he yawned, studying the draughtboard through lazy eyelids. "Tis most uncommon dull here. 'Hell, Hull and Halifax'—egad! I'd as lief be a prison governor at any one of them."

"Less room for your cursed experiments, I suppose, Charles. You were always fond of them at Halifax," commented the single spectator in an Irish brogue. "Why, my lord, I remember just before he sailed (may you never run another jail, Charles) he let a rascal out on a secret service and took his promise in writing to come back to him in a month to the noose. I hope you'll invite me to meet him when he returns. Eh? What! May I bet the devil my head, but there he is now!"

The pair at the table looked at the face of the man who had entered and

"My obligation is at an end!"

at his dress of purple velvet frayed with travel, and Lord Chetwynde started to sudden incisiveness.

"Louis Armand!" The newcomer bowed and stood silent, waiting.

"You return in accordance with our contract, I presume?"

"Yes, your lordship."

"You are a day late."

"I was not aware of your lordship's tardiness."

"Burn me, but he's been to Halifax!" exclaimed Lord Chetwynde under his breath.

The Malls in Sweden. In certain parts of Sweden, where the most absolute confidence is reposed in the honesty of the people, a very informal postal system is in vogue. As the mail steamer reaches a landing place a man goes ashore with the letters, which he places in an unlocked box on the pier. Then the passerby who expects a letter opens the box, turns over the letters and selects his own without being questioned by any one.

SLEEPLESS AND RUN DOWN

You Can't Hold Out Long This Way.

YOU ARE WORKING TOO HARD AND YOU KNOW IT.

You Can Get Strong Without Stopping Your Work.

What the people want is to get over that weakness and tired feeling, that nervousness and sleeplessness without stopping their work. They can't afford to be idle. They must work.

And it is not necessary to rest. You can get well and strong without losing a day's work. There is a remedy so great and powerful in building up the system, strengthening the nerves and producing sleep, that it never fails. The following letter, written and signed by Mr. H. M. Levy, 100 Mulberry street, Newark, N. J., says:

"I suffered for six years with terrible racking pains in my back and chest, and was so nervous that I could not attend to business from loss of sleep and appetite so that it almost set me insane. I tried five doctors in this city and could find no relief.

"At last, I was told to try Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and after taking not quite two bottles I found myself perfectly well. During my sickness I lost flesh until I was almost a skeleton. Since taking Nervura, I have gained nearly 60 pounds. I have only praise for this wonderful remedy. Dr. Greene's Nervura, and do all in my power to recommend it to my friends. I have told several customers of it, and they have tried it with wonderful results."

All kinds of nervous, chronic and blood diseases are quickly and permanently cured by Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. Try it and notice the change in your feelings, for it acts quickly and it will make you well and strong.

Dr. Greene, the well known physician of 101 Fifth avenue, N. Y. city, discovered it. He is the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, and can be consulted free, personally or by letter.

BANDITS' ROB TRAIN

Kill Messenger, Blow Up Two Safes, and Make Their Escape.

PASSENGERS ARE NOT MOLESTED

Oregon Express Held Up and Express Car Looted at Copley, Cal.—Engine Crew Subdued by Firearms—Thieves Disappear in Woods.

Redding, Cal., April 2.—Three armed men held up the Oregon express and attempted to rob it at Copley. The particulars were obtained when the train, minus the express car, reached Redding.

When the train pulled into Copley the highwaymen emerged from the brush. They first encountered a tramp, who was attempting to steal a ride. He was forced at the point of a rifle to enter the smoker. Meanwhile one of the robbers knocked on the door of the express car. W. J. O'Neill, the Wells Fargo messenger, asked him some question. The reply was evidently satisfactory, because O'Neill slid the door back about 18 inches, when a rifle bullet was sent through his body. It passed near the heart and the messenger fell back dead. O'Neill was not armed. He evidently believed from what he was told that the knock came from a member of the train crew.

Then while one robber remained on the lookout the other two marched the engine crew to the express car. The robbers all the time used vile language and discharged occasional shots from the rifles. This apprised the passengers of what was going on, but they remained in the cars and were not molested. Colford, helper to messenger O'Neill, was armed with a shotgun and tried to shoot one of the robbers, but the cartridge failed to explode. Colford pluckily stood his ground and started to put another shell into the gun, but the robbers leveled their rifles at him and commanded him to lay down his gun or be killed. Engineer Bissell also urged Colford not to make a fight, arguing that if he did they might all be killed.

The robbers now compelled the two firemen and the brakeman to climb into the smoker. Because brakeman Stone was not quick enough one of the robbers hit him over the head with a rifle, inflicting a severe scalp wound.

When the robbers found that Colford could not open the safe they used dynamite, first removing the body of O'Neill, which lay near the safe.

There were two safes in the car, a heavy through safe and a smaller local safe. The local safe was blown to atoms and the top of the through safe was blown off. Tiny pieces of greenbacks and twisted coins covered the floor. It is certain that the robbers did not get a great amount of plunder, although their blundering work may have destroyed thousands of dollars.

ALL RECORDS BROKEN.

Three Carloads of Gold Coined in March at 'Frisco Mint.

San Francisco, April 2.—The coinage of gold that has been taking place at the mint in this city since last February has been concluded. Superintendent Leach said regarding the coinage:

"The mint has undoubtedly broken all records for gold coinage since the use of money began in civilization. The amount coined in March reached the enormous sum of $33,113,500, an average of more than $1,000,000 a day. In fact, the deliveries to the superintendent from the coining department during the last four days averaged $1,550,000 per day. This, with the sum of $21,580,000 coined in February, makes a total of $54,693,500. In weight this amount would make more than 110 tons or a little more than four big carloads of 25 tons each.

"A research of books and records pertaining to coinage matters fails to show any account of a coinage executed in the same length of time equal to this in any of the other nations of the world."

LEAPED 21 STORIES.

New Yorker Takes a Sensational Means of Committing Suicide.

New York, April 2.—Sidney Johnson Haydon of the Hotel Holley jumped to the street from the top floor of the 21-story skyscraper at Broadway and New Street. Nearly every bone in his body was broken.

Haydon went into one of the unoccupied offices on the top floor of the New Street side, raised a window, laid an umbrella he carried on the ledge and at once crawled out and jumped. His body made one full turn backward and struck the pavement with fearful force. Most of the persons who were passing in the street ran away in horror.

BUSINESS IMPROVING.

More Favorable Reports Being Received from All Sections.

New York, April 2.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

Much deferred Easter business was transacted during the last few days and some sections report satisfactory results, but at many points the weather is not normal and the season's trade thus far compares unfavorably with last year. Manufacturing returns continue conflicting; iron and steel plants gaining ground, footwear exhibiting the natural reaction from an unprecedented production in 1902, while textile mills have much idle machinery and little forward business.

Lumber and building materials are in better demand, although floods at the best and labor troubles at the east retarded structural work. At Baltimore the general situation is satisfactory, despite the fact that rebuilding of the devastated district is hampered by efforts to secure legislative enactments regarding the arrangement of streets. Transportation is still interrupted by scarcity of cars, although in the coke region there is less congestion, and railway earnings thus far reported for March are but 12 per cent smaller than last year. Agricultural prospects are unchanged, better weather conditions at some points being offset by less favorable news from other regions and the price situation is extremely irregular.

Further progress in the right direction is reported in the iron and steel industry. Pig iron is in better demand, quotations for Bessemer advancing slightly, and the outlook for sufficient supplies of coke has improved owing to less traffic congestion and more prompt transportation from the ovens to the furnaces. The most disturbing factor at present is the attitude of tin plate workers, those who have been idle apparently favoring the acceptance of the proposed wage reduction, while others recently employed are favoring resistance. Large contracts for castings and pipe are under consideration and work on the Pennsylvania tunnel will do much to restore normal conditions at many plants. Western inquiries for cast iron pipe promise much activity in that line and implement manufacturers are busier than at any recent date. Agricultural needs are expected to be very heavy, including wagons, tools and all kinds of modern machinery while there is evidence of increased business for car shops and locomotive works.

Wholesale trade in boots and shoes has expanded and New England shops are receiving urgent calls for quick delivery. Manufacturers are extremely conservative, however, despite larger orders, for the labor outlook is by no means settled. Sellers of cotton have counted on a liberal supplementary business owing to small initial purchases, but thus far buyers have been able to confine operations within narrow limits.

Commercial failures this week in the United States are 208, against 220 last week, 229 the preceding week and 173 the corresponding week last year.

ARREST ORDERED.

Missing Official of Cleveland Bank Is Object of Search.

Cleveland, April 2.—The Bankers' Surety company, which is on the bond of George F. Clewell, the missing secretary and treasurer of the assigned Federal Trust company, has been given a warrant for his arrest. This was required under the conditions on which their bond was issued. The surety company has sent out circulars to its branch offices and secret service men to try to apprehend Mr. Clewell.

A check for $8,100 cashed by Mr. Clewell last Saturday was found in a package of currency marked to contain $10,000. Only $1,900 of the $10,000 remained in the package.

Another discrepancy of $10,000 in the bank's accounts will be made good by the check of the Bankers' Surety company when it pays Clewell's bond of $10,000.

It is believed by the officials of the Guardian Trust company, the assignee, that no further irregularities will be discovered. Mr. Clewell has been missing from his home in this city since last Saturday. His family say they do not know his whereabouts. His wife is prostrated over her husband's disappearance.

WORK OF CONGRESS.

House Passes the Sundry Civil Appropriation Measure.

Washington, April 2.—The house passed the sundry civil appropriation bill after voting down a proposition by Mr. Sulzer to recommit it with instructions to take out the appropriation of $136,600 for rent of the New York custom house.

The remainder of the day was devoted to the discussion of the conference report on the army appropriation bill. With the exception of one amendment, providing certain increases in the signal corps, the house disagreed to all other important senate amendments and the bill was sent back to conference. The proposition to consolidate the office of the adjutant general with that of the record and pension division and make Brigadier General Ainsworth, chief of the latter division, military secretary with the rank of major general and put him in charge, and the amendment to allow officers who served in the Civil war who retire or who already may have retired to retire at the next higher grade, were debated at length and met strong opposition.

Good Friday was devoted by the senate to almost continuous discussion of political questions. The time until 2 o'clock was devoted to consideration of the Carmack resolution proposing an inquiry into the legality of the recent executive old age pension order.

The latter half of the day was devoted to the postoffice appropriation bill, but no appreciable progress was made. There was a spirited debate between Mr. Simmons and Mr. Beveridge on the question of the propriety of a congressional investigation into the affairs of the postoffice department, during which the prospective presidential nominees of the two political parties in the next campaign were freely discussed. Mr. Beveridge admitted that the Republicans had agreed on a candidate and named President Roosevelt as the man.

The colloquy occasioned considerable amusement and was discussed in the corridors with much animation.

RAILROADS ARE SUED.

Chicago Coal Shippers Allege Conspiracy to Restrain Trade.

Chicago, April 2.—Eight specific charges, each one pointed out as a violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, are brought against the 26 leading railroads running into Chicago in a bill prepared for the Chicago Coal Shippers' association to be filed in the United States circuit court.

The action is an attempt by the coal men to put the Chicago Coal Service association out of business on the ground that it is an illegal combination of railroads. Its acts are said to be the enforcement of a uniform system of demurrage and per diem charges on cars, which adds to the freight rates.

The bill to be filed is a petition for injunction against each of the railroads restraining them from continuing their membership in the association and from combining to form a similar organization. The charges are summed up in the last clause, wherein it is alleged that "the purpose and object of said association and the direct and necessary effect of its operations is artificially to restrain trade and commerce among and between the several states and territories, and the maintenance of abnormal, unreasonable and arbitrary regulations for the conduct of the business of the defendant railroad companies, to the manifest injury of the people and in defiance of the law."

The petition was presented to United States District Attorney Bethea six weeks ago and forwarded to Attorney General Knox. The latter instructed Mr. Bethea to hear both sides and prosecute if the association appears unlawful. The railroad will be given their first hearing before the district attorney on April 15.

MRS. BOTKIN'S DEFENSE.

Defendant in Famous Case Refutes Testimony of Witnesses.

San Francisco, April 2.—Mrs. Cordelia Botkin was called as the first witness for the defense in her trial for the murder of Mrs. John P. Dunning by means of poisoned candy. She denied all incriminating evidence given against her by witnesses for the state.

Mrs. Botkin told at length of her relations with John P. Dunning, whom she said she first met in Golden Gate park and had assisted financially. She said she also received $800 from Mrs. Corbally. She said she was in Humboldt county on June 17, 1897, the date of a postmark on an anonymous letter mailed to Mrs. Dunning from San Francisco. She denied that she wrote the letter, and also denied the statements concerning her movements in the testimony of Miss Lizzie Livernash.

She had never inquired regarding the effects of poisons and had never contemplated suicide. She denied purchasing the handkerchief found in the box of poisoned candy. She said she had never in her life been in the store of Haas & Son, where the candy is alleged to have been bought.

Naval Officer Commits Suicide.

Pensacola, Fla., April 2.—Lieutenant Commander Edgar Townsend Warburton, chief engineer of the battleship Maine, now in this harbor, committed suicide in his cabin on board the vessel.

Strike Threatened in Panama.

Panama, April 2.—The railroad laborers threaten to strike unless the company grants an increase of wages from $2.20 to $3.

Whiskey and Beer Habit

PERMANENTLY CURED BY "ORRINE," A SAFE, SURE AND HARMLESS SPECIFIC.

Physicians pronounce drunkenness a disease of the nervous system, creating a morbid craving for a stimulant. Continued indulgence in whiskey, beer or wine eats away the stomach lining and staggers the digestive organs, thus destroying the system and ruining the health. No "will power" can heal the inflamed stomach membranes. "ORRINE" permanently removes the craving for liquor by acting directly on the affected nerves, restoring the stomach and digestive organs to normal conditions, improving the appetite and restoring the health. No sanitarium treatment necessary. "ORRINE" can be taken at your own home without publicity. Can be given secretly if desired.

CURE GUARANTEED OR MONEY REFUNDED.

Mr. E. T. Sims, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes: "Use my name as a twenty-year drunkard restored to manhood and health by four boxes of 'ORRINE.' It is a wonderful and marvelous cure for the drink habit."

Mrs. E. Wycliff, New York City, writes: "ORRINE" cured my husband, who was a steady drunkard for many years. He now has no desire for stimulants, his health is good and he is fully restored to manhood. He used only five boxes of 'ORRINE.'"

Mrs. W. L. D. Helena, Mont., writes: "I have waited one year before writing you of the permanent cure of my son. He took sanitarium treatment, as well as other advertised cures, but they all failed until we gave him 'ORRINE.' He is now fully restored to health and has no desire for drink."

Mr. U. L. K. Kansas City, Mo., writes: "I am satisfied that drunkenness is a disease, the worst in the world. 'ORRINE,' in my opinion, will cure any case if taken as you direct. I was a common drunkard for twenty years, but to-day I am free of any desire for liquor. You have saved the specific. God bless you!"

Mr. A. E. L. Atlanta, Ga., writes: "I was born with a love of whiskey and drank it for thirty-two years. It finally brought me to the gutter, homeless and friendless. I would steal and lie to get whiskey. Four boxes of 'ORRINE' cured me of all desire and I now hate the smell of liquor."

Price per box, 6 boxes for $5. Mailed in plain sealed wrapper by Orrine Company, 877 14th street, Washington, D. C. Interesting booklet (sent) free on request. Sold and recommended by

CLEVELAND BANK FAILS.

Mysterious Absence of Official Precipitates an Assignment.

Cleveland, April 2.—The Federal Trust company has made an assignment to the Guardian Trust company. The action is stated to have been taken as a result of the disappearance of a prominent official of the Federal Trust company. Reports are in circulation that a shortage has been found in the funds of the concern.

While no statement has been filed by the Federal company, it is understood it will turn over about $1,000,000 in deposits to the assignee. Its total assets will be about $3,000,000.

An agreement was reached between the directors of the Federal Trust company and the Guardian Trust company several days ago providing for the merging of the concerns. The disappearance of the official of the Federal company, however, precipitated matters and the directors decided that an assignment would probably avert a run on the bank.

President J. C. Gilchrist, of the Federal Trust company, made the following statement last evening to the Associated Press concerning the assignment: "The turning over of the Federal Trust company to the Guardian Trust company was along the line of a proposed consolidation which was to have taken place April 1. But the absence of one of our officers from the city since Saturday last caused a feeling of alarm in certain quarters that probably would have resulted in a run on the bank before that date. As all the signatures of the stockholders of the Federal company had not been secured the directors of the latter concern could not guarantee the Guardian Trust company that it would be unanimous. The Guardian company was willing to carry out its consolidation agreement, but in order to make it safe for them to do so they advised the assignment of the Federal company, with the understanding that the agreement for the consolidation be carried out."

"The Guardian company had already examined the securities of the Federal company and finding the securities and assets of the bank in good shape they were willing to pay the depositors in the latter bank in full and at once, and this plan was carried out."

Antarctic Expedition Returns.

Christchurch, New Zealand, April 2.—The British antarctic expedition, which sailed on the steamer Discovery from London, July 31, 1901, has signalled that it is returning.

Chronic Bronchitis Cured.

"For ten years I had chronic bronchitis so bad that at times I could not speak above a whisper," writes Mr. Joseph Coffman, of Montgomery, Ind. "I tried all remedies available, but with no success. Fortunately my employer suggested that I try Foley's Honey and Tar. Its effect was almost miraculous, and I am now cured of the disease. On my recommendation many people have used Foley's Honey and Tar, and always with satisfaction." Sold by Will Reed.

SLEEPLESS AND RUN DOWN
You Can't Hold Out Long This Way.
You Can Get Strong Without Stopping Your Work.

What the people want is to get over that weakness and tired feeling, that nervousness and sleeplessness without stopping their work. They can't afford to be idle. They must work. And it is not necessary to rest. You can get well and strong without losing a day's work. There is a remedy so great and powerful in building up the system, strengthening the nerves and producing sleep, that it never fails. The following letter, written and signed by Mr. H. M. Levy, 100 Mulberry street, Newark, N. J., says:

"I suffered for six years with terrible racking pains in my back and chest, and was so nervous that I could not attend to business from loss of sleep and appetite so that it almost set me insane. I tried five doctors in this city and could find no relief. At last, I was told to try Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and after taking not quite two bottles I found myself perfectly well. During my sickness I lost flesh until I was almost a skeleton. Since taking Nervura, I have gained nearly 60 pounds. I have only praise for this wonderful remedy. Dr. Greene's Nervura, and do all in my power to recommend it to my friends. I have told several customers of it, and they have tried it with wonderful results." All kinds of nervous, chronic and blood diseases are quickly and permanently cured by Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. Try it and notice the change in your feelings, for it acts quickly and it will make you well and strong. Dr. Greene, the well known physician of 101 Fifth Avenue, N. Y. city, discovered it. He is the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, and can be consulted free, personally or by letter.

BANDITS ROB TRAIN
Kill Messenger, Blow Up Two Safes, and Make Their Escape.

Oregon Express Held Up and Express Car Looted at Copley, Cal.—Engine Crew Subdued by Firearms—Thieves Disappear in Woods.

Redding, Cal., April 2.—Three armed men held up the Oregon express and attempted to rob it at Copley. The particulars were obtained when the train, minus the express car, reached Redding. When the train pulled into Copley the highwaymen emerged from the brush. They first encountered a tramp, who was attempting to steal a ride. He was forced at the point of a rifle to enter the smoker. Meanwhile one of the robbers knocked on the door of the express car. W. J. O'Neill, the Wells Fargo messenger, asked him some question. The reply was evidently satisfactory, because O'Neill slid the door back about 18 inches, when a rifle bullet was sent through his body. It passed near the heart and the messenger fell back dead. O'Neill was not armed. He evidently believed from what he was told that the knock came from a member of the train crew. Then while one robber remained on the lookout the other two marched the engine crew to the express car. The robbers all the time used language and discharged occasional shots from the rifles. This apprised the passengers of what was going on, but they remained in the cars and were not molested. Colford, helper to Messenger O'Neill, was armed with a shotgun and tried to shoot one of the robbers, but the cartridge failed to explode. Colford pluckily stood his ground and started to put another shell into the gun, but the robbers leveled their rifles at him and commanded him to lay down his gun or be killed. Engineer Bissell also urged Colford not to make a fight, arguing that if he did they might all be killed. The robbers now compelled the two firemen and the brakeman to climb into the smoker. Because Brakeman Stone was not quick enough one of the robbers hit him over the head with a rifle, inflicting a severe scalp wound. When the robbers found that Colford could not open the safe they used dynamite, first removing the body of O'Neill, which lay near the safe. There were two safes in the car, a heavy through safe and a smaller local safe. The local safe was blown to atoms and the top of the through safe was blown off. Tiny pieces of greenbacks and twisted coins covered the floor. It is certain that the robbers did not get a great amount of plunder, although their blundering work may have destroyed thousands of dollars.

ALL RECORDS BROKEN.
Three Carloads of Gold Coined in March at 'Frisco Mint.
San Francisco, April 2.—The coinage of gold that has been taking place at the mint in this city since last February has been concluded. Superintendent Leach said regarding the coinage: "The mint has undoubtedly broken all records for gold coinage since the use of money began in civilization. The amount coined in March reached the enormous sum of $3,113,500, an average of more than $1,000,000 a day. In fact, the deliveries to the superintendent from the coining department during the last four days averaged $1,550,000 per day. This, with the sum of $2,150,000 coined in February, makes a total of $54,633,500. In weight this amount would make more than 110 tons or a little more than four big carloads of 25 tons each."

"A research of books and records pertaining to coinage matters fails to show any account of a coinage executed in the same length of time equal to this in any of the other nations of the world."

LEAPED 21 STORIES.
New Yorker Takes a Sensational Means of Committing Suicide.
New York, April 2.—Sidney Johnson Haydon of the Hotel Holley jumped to the street from the top floor of the 21-story skyscraper at Broadway and New Street. Nearly every bone in his body was broken. Haydon went into one of the unoccupied offices on the top floor of the New Street side, raised a window, laid an umbrella he carried on the ledge and at once crawled out and jumped. His body made one full turn backward and struck the pavement with fearful force. Most of the persons who were passing in the street ran away in horror.

BUSINESS IMPROVING.
More Favorable Reports Being Received from All Sections.
New York, April 2.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: Much deferred Easter business was transacted during the last few days and some sections report satisfactory results, but at many points the weather is not normal and the season's trade thus far compares unfavorably with last year. Manufacturing returns continue conflicting; iron and steel plants gaining ground, footwear exhibiting the natural reaction from an unprecedented production in 1902. While textile mills have much idle machinery and little forward business. Lumber and building materials are in better demand, although floods at the west and labor troubles at the east retarded structural work. At Baltimore the general situation is satisfactory, despite the fact that rebuilding of the devastated district is hampered by efforts to secure legislative enactments regarding the arrangement of streets. Transportation is still interrupted by scarcity of cars, although in the coke region there is less congestion, and railway earnings thus far reported for March are but 1.2 per cent smaller than last year. Agricultural prospects are unchanged. Better weather conditions at some points being offset by less favorable news from other regions and the price situation is extremely irregular.

Further progress in the right direction is reported in the iron and steel industry. Pig iron is in better demand, quotations for Bessemer advancing slightly, and the outlook for sufficient supplies of coke has improved owing to less traffic congestion and more prompt transportation from the ovens to the furnaces. The most disturbing factor at present is the attitude of tin plate workers, those who have been idle apparently favoring the acceptance of the proposed wage reduction, while others recently employed are favoring resistance. Large contracts for castings and pipe are under consideration and work on the Pennsylvania tunnel will do much to restore normal conditions at many plants. Western inquiries for cast iron pipe promise much activity in that line and implement manufacturers are busier than at any recent date. Agricultural needs are expected to be very heavy, including wagons, tools and all kinds of modern machinery while there is evidence of increased business for car shops and locomotive works.

Wholesale trade in boots and shoes has expanded and New England shops are receiving urgent calls for quick delivery. Manufacturers are extremely conservative, however, despite larger orders for the labor outlook is by no means settled. Sellers of cotton have counted on a liberal supplementary business owing to small initial purchases, but thus far buyers have been able to confine operations within narrow limits. Commercial failures this week in the United States are 208, against 226 last week, 229 the preceding week and 173 the corresponding week last year.

ARREST ORDERED.
Missing Official of Cleveland Bank Is Object of Search.
Cleveland, April 2.—The Bankers' Surety company, which is on the bond of George F. Clewell, the missing secretary and treasurer of the assigned Federal Trust company, has been given a warrant for his arrest. This was required under the conditions on which their bond was issued. The surety company has sent out circulars to its branch offices and secret service men to try to apprehend Mr. Clewell. A check for $8,100 cashed by Mr. Clewell last Saturday was found in a package of currency marked to contain $10,000. Only $1,900 of the $10,000 remained in the package. Another discrepancy of $10,000 in the bank's accounts will be made good by the check of the Bankers' Surety company when it pays Clewell's bond of $10,000.

It is believed by the officials of the Guardian Trust company, the assignee, that no further irregularities will be discovered. Mr. Clewell has been missing from his home in this city since last Saturday. His family say they do not know his whereabouts. His wife is prostrated over her husband's disappearance. Hearst Loses at Trenton. Trenton, N. J., April 2.—At the Democratic primaries in this city to elect delegates to the state convention that will name delegates to the national convention the Hearst people carried but one of the 14 wards. A Look Mixed. Patient—Look here, doctor, I'm not going to starve to death for the sake of living a little longer.

WORK OF CONGRESS.
House Passes the Sundry Civil Appropriation Measure.
Washington, April 2.—The house passed the sundry civil appropriation bill after voting down a proposition by Mr. Sulzer to recommit it with instructions to take out the appropriation of $136,600 for rent of the New York custom house. The remainder of the day was devoted to the discussion of the conference report on the army appropriation bill. With the exception of one amendment, providing certain increases in the signal corps, the house disagreed to all other important senate amendments and the bill was sent back to conference. The proposition to consolidate the office of the adjutant general with that of the record and pension division and make Brigadier General Ainsworth, chief of the latter division, military secretary with the rank of major general and put him in charge, and the amendment to allow officers who served in the Civil War who retire or who already may have retired to retire at the next higher grade, were debated at length and met strong opposition. Good Friday was devoted by the senate to almost continuous discussion of political questions. The time until 2 o'clock was devoted to consideration of the Carmack resolution proposing an inquiry into the legality of the recent executive old age pension order. The latter half of the day was devoted to the postoffice appropriation bill, but no appreciable progress was made. There was a spirited debate between Mr. Simmons and Mr. Beveridge on the question of the propriety of a congressional investigation into the affairs of the postoffice department, during which the prospective presidential nominees of the two political parties in the next campaign were freely discussed. Mr. Beveridge admitted that the Republicans had agreed on a candidate and named President Roosevelt as the man. The colloquy occasioned considerable amusement and was discussed in the corridors with much animation.

RAILROADS ARE SUED.
Chicago Coal Shippers Allege Conspiracy to Restrain Trade.
Chicago, April 2.—Eight specific charges, each one pointed out as a violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, are brought against the 26 leading railroads running into Chicago in a bill prepared for the Chicago Coal Shippers' association to be filed in the United States circuit court. The action is an attempt by the coal men to put the Chicago Coal Service association out of business on the ground that it is an illegal combination of railroads. Its acts are said to be the enforcement of a uniform system of demurrage and per diem charges on cars, which adds to the freight rates. The bill to be filed is a petition for injunction against each of the railroads restraining them from continuing their membership in the association and from combining to form a similar organization. The charges are summed up in the last clause, wherein it is alleged that "the purpose and object of said association and the direct and necessary effect of its operations is artificially to restrain trade and commerce among and between the several states and territories, and the maintenance of abnormal, unreasonable and arbitrary regulations for the conduct of the business of the defendant railroad companies, to the manifest injury of the people and in defiance of the law."

The petition was presented to United States District Attorney Bethea six weeks ago and forwarded to Attorney General Knox. The latter instructed Mr. Bethea to hear both sides and prosecute if the association appears unlawful. The railroad will be given their first hearing before the district attorney on April 15. MRS. BOTKIN'S DEFENSE. Defendant in Famous Case Refutes Testimony of Witnesses.
San Francisco, April 2.—Mrs. Cordelia Botkin was called as the first witness for the defense in her trial for the murder of Mrs. John P. Dunning by means of poisoned candy. She denied all incriminating evidence given against her by witnesses for the state. Mrs. Botkin told at length of her relations with John P. Dunning, whom she said she first met in Golden Gate park and had assisted financially. She said she also received $800 from Mrs. Corbally. She said she was in Humboldt county on June 17, 1897, the date of a postmark on an anonymous letter mailed to Mrs. Dunning from San Francisco. She denied that she wrote the letter, and also denied the statements concerning her movements in the testimony of Miss Lizzie Livernash. She had never inquired regarding the effects of poisons and had never contemplated suicide. She denied purchasing the handkerchief found in the box of poisoned candy. She said she had never in her life been in the store of Haas & Son, where the candy is alleged to have been bought.

Naval Officer Commits Suicide. Pensacola, Fla., April 2.—Lieutenant Commander Edgar Townsend Warburton, chief engineer of the battleship Maine, now in this harbor, committed suicide in his cabin on board the vessel. Strike Threatened in Panama. Panama, April 2.—The railroad laborers threaten to strike unless the company grants an increase of wages from $2.20 to $3.

Whiskey and Beer Habit
PERMANENTLY CURED BY "ORRINE."
A SAFE, SURE AND HARMLESS SPECIFIC.
Physicians pronounce drunkenness a disease of the nervous system, creating a morbid craving for a stimulant. Continued indulgence in whiskey, beer or wine eats away the stomach lining and stupefies the digestive organs, thus destroying the digestion and ruining the health. No "will power" can heal the inflamed stomach membranes. "ORRINE" permanently removes the craving for liquor by acting directly on the affected nerves, restoring the stomach and digestive organs to normal conditions, improving the appetite and restoring the health. No sanitarium treatment necessary. "ORRINE" can be taken at your own home without publicity. Can be given secretly if desired. CURE GUARANTEED OR MONEY REFUNDED.
Mr. E. T. Sims, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes: "Use my name as a twenty-year drunkard restored to manhood and health by four boxes of 'ORRINE.' It is a wonderful and marvelous cure for the drink habit."
Mrs. E. W. W. New York City, writes: "ORRINE cured my husband, who was a steady drunkard for many years. He now has no desire for stimulants. His health is good and he is fully restored to manhood. He used only five boxes of 'ORRINE.'"
Mrs. W. L. D. Helena, Mont., writes: "I have waited one year before writing you of the permanent cure of my son. He took sanitarium treatment, as well as other advertised cures, but they all failed until we gave him 'ORRINE.' He is now fully restored to health and has no desire for drink."
Mr. U. L. E. Kansas City, Mo., writes: "I am satisfied that drunkenness is a disease and the worst in the world. 'ORRINE,' in my opinion, will cure any case if taken as you direct. I was a common drunkard for twenty years, but today I am free of any desire for liquor. You have saved the specific. God bless you!"
Mr. A. E. L. Atlanta, Ga., writes: "I was born with a love of whiskey and drank it for thirty-two years. It finally brought me to the gutter, homeless and friendless. I was powerless to resist the craving and I would steal and lie to get whiskey. Four boxes of 'ORRINE' cured me of all desire and I now live the life of a sober man." Price $1 per box, 6 boxes for $5. Mailed in plain, sealed wrapper by Orrine Company, 817 14th street, Washington, D. C. Interesting booklet (freely) sent on request. Sold and recommended by CHAS. T. LARKINS Druggist, EAST LIVERPOOL, O.

CLEVELAND BANK FAILS.
Mysterious Absence of Official Precipitates an Assignment.
Cleveland, April 2.—The Federal Trust company has made an assignment to the Guardian Trust company. The action is stated to have been taken as a result of the disappearance of a prominent official of the Federal Trust company. Reports are in circulation that a shortage has been found in the funds of the concern. While no statement has been filed by the Federal company, it is understood it will turn over about $1,000,000 in deposits to the assignee. Its total assets will be about $3,000,000. An agreement was reached between the directors of the Federal Trust company and the Guardian Trust company several days ago providing for the merging of the concerns. The disappearance of the official of the Federal company, however, precipitated matters and the directors decided that an assignment would probably avert a run on the bank. President J. C. Gilchrist, of the Federal Trust company, made the following statement last evening to the Associated Press concerning the assignment: "The turning over of the Federal Trust company to the Guardian Trust company was along the line of a proposed consolidation which was to have taken place April 1. But the absence of one of our officers from the city since Saturday last caused a feeling of alarm in certain quarters that probably would have resulted in a run on the bank before that date. As all the signatures of the stockholders of the Federal company had not been secured the directors of the latter concern could not guarantee the Guardian Trust company that it would be unanimous. The Guardian company was willing to carry out its consolidation agreement, but in order to make it safe for them to do so they advised the assignment of the Federal company, with the understanding that the agreement for the consolidation be carried out. "The Guardian company had already examined the securities of the Federal company and finding the securities and assets of the bank in good shape they were willing to pay the deposits in the latter bank in full and at once, and this plan was carried out."

Antarctic Expedition Returns. Christchurch, New Zealand, April 2.—The British antarctic expedition, which sailed on the steamer Discovery from London, July 31, 1901, has signalled that it is returning. Chronic Bronchitis Cured. "For ten years I had chronic bronchitis so bad that at times I could not speak above a whisper," writes Mr. Joseph Coffman, of Mountmore, Ind. "I tried all remedies available, but with no success. Fortunately my employer suggested that I try Foley's Honey and Tar. Its effect was almost miraculous, and I am now cured of the disease. On my recommendation many people have used Foley's Honey and Tar, and always with satisfaction." Sold by Will Reed.

SLEEPLESS AND RUN DOWN

You Can't Hold Out Long This Way.

YOU ARE WORKING TOO HARD AND YOU KNOW IT.

You Can Get Strong Without Stopping Your Work.

What the people want is to get over that weakness and tired feeling, that nervousness and sleeplessness without stopping their work. They can't afford to be idle. They must work.

And it is not necessary to rest. You can get well and strong without losing a day's work. There is a remedy so great and powerful in building up the system, strengthening the nerves and producing sleep, that it never fails. The following letter, written and signed by Mr. H. M. Levy, 100 Mulberry street, Newark, N. J., says:

"I suffered for six years with terrible racking pains in my back and chest, and was so nervous that I could not attend to business from loss of sleep and appetite so that it almost set me insane. I tried five doctors in this city and could find no relief. At last, I was told to try Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and after taking not quite two bottles I found myself perfectly well. During my sickness I lost flesh until I was almost a skeleton. Since taking Nervura, I have gained nearly 60 pounds. I have only praise for this wonderful remedy, Dr. Greene's Nervura, and do all in my power to recommend it to my friends. I have told several customers of it, and they have tried it with wonderful results."

All kinds of nervous, chronic and blood diseases are quickly and permanently cured by Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. Try it and notice the change in your feelings, for it acts quickly and it will make you well and strong.

Dr. Greene, the well known physician of 101 Fifth avenue, N. Y. city, discovered it. He is the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, and can be consulted free, personally or by letter.

BANDITS ROB TRAIN

Oregon Express Held Up and Express Car Looted at Copley, Cal.—Engine Crew Subdued by Firearms—Thieves Disappear in Woods.

Redding, Cal., April 2.—Three armed men held up the Oregon express and attempted to rob it at Copley. The particulars were obtained when the train, minus the express car, reached Redding.

When the train pulled into Copley the highwaymen emerged from the brush. They first encountered a tramp, who was attempting to steal a ride. He was forced at the point of a rifle to enter the smoker. Meanwhile one of the robbers knocked on the door of the expresscar. W. J. O'Neill, the Wells Fargo messenger, asked him some questions. The reply was evidently satisfactory, because O'Neill slid the door back about 18 inches, when a rifle bullet was sent through his body. It passed near the heart and the messenger fell back dead. O'Neill was not armed. He evidently believed from what he was told that the knock came from a member of the train crew.

Then while one robber remained on the lookout the other two marched the engine crew to the express car. The robbers all the time used vile language and discharged occasional shots from the rifles. This apprised the passengers of what was going on, but they remained in the cars and were not molested. Colford, helper to Messenger O'Neill, was armed with a shotgun and tried to shoot one of the robbers, but the cartridge failed to explode. Colford pluckily stood his ground and started to put another shell into the gun, but the robbers leveled their rifles at him and commanded him to lay down his gun or be killed. Engineer Bissell also urged Colford not to make a fight, arguing that if he did they might all be killed.

The robbers now compelled the two firemen and the brakeman to climb into the smoker. Because Brakeman Stone was not quick enough one of the robbers hit him over the head with a rifle, inflicting a severe scalp wound. When the robbers found that Colford could not open the safes they used dynamite, first removing the body of O'Neill, which lay near the safe. There were two safes in the car, a heavy through safe and a smaller local safe. The local safe was blown to atoms and the top of the through safe was blown off. Tiny pieces of greenbacks and twisted coins covered the floor. It is certain that the robbers did not get a great amount of plunder, although their blundering work may have destroyed thousands of dollars.

ALL RECORDS BROKEN.

Three Carloads of Gold Coined in March at "Frisco" Mint.

San Francisco, April 2.—The coinage of gold that has been taking place at the mint in this city since last February has been concluded. Superintendent Leach said regarding the coinage:

"The mint has undoubtedly broken all records for gold coinage since the use of money began in civilization. The amount coined in March reached the enormous sum of $33,133,500, an average of more than $1,000,000 a day. In fact, the deliveries to the superintendent from the coining department during the last four days averaged $1,550,000 per day. This, with the sum of $21,580,000 coined in February, makes a total of $54,693,500. In weight this amount would make more than 110 tons or a little more than four big carloads of 25 tons each."

"A research of books and records pertaining to coinage matters fails to show any account of a coinage executed in the same length of time equal to this in any of the other nations of the world."

LEAPED 21 STORIES.

New Yorker Takes a Sensational Means of Committing Suicide.

New York, April 2.—Sidney Johnson Haydon of the Hotel Holley jumped to the street from the top floor of the 21-story skyscraper at Broadway and New Street. Nearly every bone in his body was broken.

Haydon went into one of the unoccupied offices on the top floor of the New Street side, raised a window, laid an umbrella he carried on the ledge and at once crawled out and jumped. His body made one full turn backward and struck the pavement with fearful force. Most of the persons who were passing in the street ran away in horror.

Richmond, Va., April 2.—The premature explosion of a blast at a quarry of the Southern Road company at Favors, 23 miles from Charlottesville, resulted in the death of four men and the wounding of two others.

BUSINESS IMPROVING.

More Favorable Reports Being Received from All Sections.

New York, April 2.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

Much deferred Easter business was transacted during the last few days and some sections report satisfactory results, but at many points the weather is not normal and the season's trade thus far compares unfavorably with last year. Manufacturing returns continue conflicting; iron and steel plants gaining ground, footwear exhibiting the natural reaction from an unprecedented production in 1902, while textile mills have much idle machinery and little forward business.

Lumber and building materials are in better demand, although floods at the west and labor troubles at the east retarded structural work. At Baltimore the general situation is satisfactory, despite the fact that rebuilding of the devastated district is hampered by efforts to secure legislative enactments regarding the arrangement of streets. Transportation is still interrupted by scarcity of cars, although in the coke region there is less congestion, and railway earnings thus far reported for March are but 1.2 per cent smaller than last year. Agricultural prospects are unchanged, better weather conditions at some points being offset by less favorable news from other regions and the price situation is extremely irregular.

Further progress in the right direction is reported in the iron and steel industry. Pig iron is in better demand, quotations for Bessemer advancing slightly, and the outlook for sufficient supplies of coke has improved owing to less traffic congestion and more prompt transportation from the ovens to the furnaces. The most disturbing factor at present is the attitude of tin plate workers, those who have been idle apparently favoring the acceptance of the proposed wage reduction, while others recently employed are favoring resistance. Large contracts for castings and pipe are under consideration and work on the Pennsylvania tunnel will do much to restore normal conditions at many plants. Western inquiries for cast iron pipe promise much activity in that line and implement manufacturers are busier than at any recent date. Agricultural needs are expected to be very heavy, including wagons, tools and all kinds of modern machinery, while there is evidence of increased business for car shops and locomotive works.

Wholesale trade in boots and shoes has expanded and New England shops are receiving urgent calls for quick delivery. Manufacturers are extremely conservative, however, despite larger orders, for the labor outlook is by no means settled. Sellers of cotton have counted on a liberal supplementary business owing to small initial purchases, but thus far buyers have been able to confine operations within narrow limits. Commercial failures this week in the United States are 208, against 226 last week, 229 the preceding week and 173 the corresponding week last year.

ARREST ORDERED.

Missing Official of Cleveland Bank Is Object of Search.

Cleveland, April 2.—The Bankers' Surety company, which is on the bond of George P. Clewell, the missing secretary and treasurer of the assigned Federal Trust company, has been given a warrant for his arrest. This was required under the conditions on which their bond was issued. The surety company has sent out circulars to its branch offices and secret service men to try to apprehend Mr. Clewell.

A check for $8,100 cashed by Mr. Clewell last Saturday was found in a package of currency marked to contain $10,000. Only $1,900 of the $10,000 remained in the package.

Another discrepancy of $10,000 in the bank's accounts will be made good by the check of the Bankers' Surety company when it pays Clewell's bond of $10,000.

It is believed by the officials of the Guardian Trust company, the assignee, that no further irregularities will be discovered. Mr. Clewell has been missing from his home in this city since last Saturday. His family say they do not know his whereabouts. His wife is prostrated over her husband's disappearance.

Hearst Loses at Trenton.

Trenton, N. J., April 2.—At the Democratic primaries in this city to elect delegates to the state convention that will name delegates to the national convention the Hearst people carried but one of the 14 wards.

Patient—Look here, doctor, I'm not going to starve to death for the sake of living a little longer.

WORK OF CONGRESS.

House Passes the Sundry Civil Appropriation Measure.

Washington, April 2.—The house passed the sundry civil appropriation bill after voting down a proposition by Mr. Sulzer to recommit it with instructions to take out the appropriation of $136,600 for rent of the New York custom house.

The remainder of the day was devoted to the discussion of the conference report on the army appropriation bill. With the exception of one amendment, providing certain increases in the signal corps, the house disagreed to all other important senate amendments and the bill was sent back to conference. The proposition to consolidate the office of the adjutant general with that of the record and pension division and make Brigadier General Ainsworth, chief of the latter division, military secretary with the rank of major general and put him in charge, and the amendment to allow officers who served in the Civil war who retire or who already may have retired to retire at the next higher grade, were debated at length and met strong opposition.

Good Friday was devoted by the senate to almost continuous discussion of political questions. The time until 2 o'clock was devoted to consideration of the Carmack resolution proposing an inquiry into the legality of the recent executive old age pension order.

The latter half of the day was devoted to the postoffice appropriation bill, but no appreciable progress was made. There was a spirited debate between Mr. Simmons and Mr. Beveridge on the question of the propriety of a congressional investigation into the affairs of the postoffice department, during which the prospective presidential nominees of the two political parties in the next campaign were freely discussed. Mr. Beveridge admitted that the Republicans had agreed on a candidate and named President Roosevelt as the man.

The colloquy occasioned considerable amusement and was discussed in the corridors with much animation.

RAILROADS ARE SUED.

Chicago Coal Shippers Allege Conspiracy to Restrain Trade.

Chicago, April 2.—Eight specific charges, each one pointed out as a violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, are brought against the 26 leading railroads running into Chicago in a bill prepared for the Chicago Coal Shippers' association to be filed in the United States circuit court.

The action is an attempt by the coal men to put the Chicago Coal Service association out of business on the ground that it is an illegal combination of railroads. Its acts are said to be the enforcement of a uniform system of demurrage and per diem charges on cars, which adds to the freight rates.

The bill to be filed is a petition for injunction against each of the railroads restraining them from continuing their membership in the association and from combining to form a similar organization. The charges are summed up in the last clause, wherein it is alleged that "the purpose and object of said association and the direct and necessary effect of its operations is artificially to restrain trade and commerce among and between the several states and territories, and the maintenance of abnormal, unreasonable and arbitrary regulations for the conduct of the business of the defendant railroad companies, to the manifest injury of the people and in defiance of the law."

The petition was presented to United States District Attorney Bethea six weeks ago and forwarded to Attorney General Knox. The latter instructed Mr. Bethea to hear both sides and prosecute if the association appears unlawful. The railroad will be given their first hearing before the district attorney on April 15.

MRS. BOTKIN'S DEFENSE.

Defendant in Famous Case Refutes Testimony of Witnesses.

San Francisco, April 2.—Mrs. Cordelia Botkin was called as the first witness for the defense in her trial for the murder of Mrs. John P. Dunning by means of poisoned candy. She denied all incriminating evidence given against her by witnesses for the state.

Mrs. Botkin told at length of her relations with John P. Dunning, whom she said she first met in Golden Gate park and had assisted financially. She said she also received $500 from Mrs. Corbally. She said she was in Humboldt county on June 17, 1897, the date of a postmark on an anonymous letter mailed to Mrs. Dunning from San Francisco. She denied that she wrote the letter, and also denied the statements concerning her movements in the testimony of Miss Lizzie Livernash.

She had never inquired regarding the effects of poisons and had never contemplated suicide. She denied purchasing the handkerchief found in the box of poisoned candy. She said she had never in her life been in the store of Haas & Son, where the candy is alleged to have been bought.

Naval Officer Commits Suicide.

Strike Threatened in Panama.

PERMANENTLY CURED BY "ORRINE," A SAFE, SURE AND HARMLESS SPECIFIC.

Physicians pronounce drunkenness a disease of the nervous system, creating a morbid craving for a stimulant. Continued indulgence in whiskey, beer or wine eats away the stomach lining and stupefies the digestive organs, thus destroying the digestion and ruining the health. No "will power" can heal the inflamed stomach, moribund nerves. "ORRINE" permanently removes the craving for liquor by acting directly on the affected nerves, restoring the stomach and digestive organs to normal conditions, improving the appetite and restoring the health. No sanitarium treatment necessary. "ORRINE" can be taken at your own home without publicity. Can be given secretly if desired.

CURE GUARANTEED OR MONEY REFUNDED.

Mr. E. T. Sims, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes: "Use my name as a twenty-year drunkard restored to manhood and health by four boxes of ORRINE. It is a wonderful and marvelous cure for the drink habit."

Mrs. E. Wycliff, New York City, writes: "ORRINE cured my husband, who was a steady drunkard for many years. He now has no desire for stimulants, his health is good and he is fully restored to manhood. He used only five boxes of ORRINE."

Mrs. W. L. D. Helena, Mont., writes: "I have waited one year before writing you of the permanent cure of my son. He took sanitarium treatment, as well as other advertised cures, but they all failed until we gave him ORRINE. He is now fully restored to health and has no desire for drink."

Mr. U. L. R. Kansas City, Mo., writes: "I am satisfied that drunkenness is a disease and the worst in the world. ORRINE, in my opinion, will cure any case if taken as you direct. I was a common drunkard for twenty years, but to-day I am free of any desire for liquor. You have found the specific. God bless you!"

Mr. A. E. L. Atlanta, Ga., writes: "I was born with a love of whiskey and drank it for thirty-two years. It finally brought me to the gutter, homeless and friendless. I was powerless to resist the craving and would steal and lie to get whiskey. Four boxes of ORRINE cured me of all desire and I now hate the smell of liquor."

CLEVELAND BANK FAILS.

Mysterious Absence of Official Precipitates an Assignment.

Cleveland, April 2.—The Federal Trust company has made an assignment to the Guardian Trust company. The action is stated to have been taken as a result of the disappearance of a prominent official of the Federal Trust company. Reports are in circulation that a shortage has been found in the funds of the concern.

While no statement has been filed by the Federal company, it is understood it will turn over about $1,000,000 in deposits to the assignee. Its total assets will be about $3,000,000.

An agreement was reached between the directors of the Federal Trust company and the Guardian Trust company several days ago providing for the merging of the concerns. The disappearance of the official of the Federal company, however, precipitated matters and the directors decided that an assignment would probably avert a run on the bank.

President J. C. Gilchrist, of the Federal Trust company, made the following statement last evening to the Associated Press concerning the assignment:

"The turning over of the Federal Trust company to the Guardian Trust company was along the line of a proposed consolidation which was to have taken place April 1. But the absence of one of our officers from the city since Saturday last caused a feeling of alarm in certain quarters that probably would have resulted in a run on the bank before that date. As all the signatures of the stockholders of the Federal company had not been secured the directors of the latter concern could not guarantee the Guardian Trust company that it would be unanimous. The Guardian company was willing to carry out its consolidation agreement, but in order to make it safe for them to do so they advised the assignment of the Federal company, with the understanding that the agreement for the consolidation be carried out."

"The Guardian company had already examined the securities of the Federal company and finding the securities and assets of the bank in good shape they were willing to pay the depositors in the latter bank in full and at once, and this plan was carried out."

Antarctic Expedition Returns.

Christchurch, New Zealand, April 1.—The British antarctic expedition, which sailed on the steamer Discovery from London, July 31, 1901, has signalled that it is returning.

Chronic Bronchitis Cured.

"For ten years I had chronic bronchitis so bad that at times I could not speak above a whisper," writes Mr. Joseph Coffman, of Montmorency, Ind. "I tried all remedies available, but with no success. Fortunately my employer suggested that I try Foley's Honey and Tar. Its effect was almost miraculous, and I am now cured of the disease. On my recommendation many people have used Foley's Honey and Tar, and always with satisfaction."
